INTRODUCTION

Youth in Action is the Programme the European Union has set up for young people. It aims to inspire a sense of active European citizenship, solidarity and tolerance among young Europeans and to involve them in shaping the Union's future. It promotes mobility within and beyond the EU's borders, non-formal learning and intercultural dialogue, and encourages the employability and inclusion of all young people, regardless of their educational, social and cultural background: Youth in Action is a Programme for all!

Every year, thousands of projects are submitted by promoters in order to get financial support from the Programme; a selection process aims at granting the best projects.

Depending on the Programme Action, this selection process is initiated in one of the following ways:

- for most Actions, this Guide specifies the details of a general call for proposals
- for some Actions, specific calls for proposals are published; these Actions are simply mentioned in this Programme Guide.

This Guide is a tool for anybody who would like to participate in the Youth in Action Programme, be they "participants" - the young people and youth workers - or "promoters" - those who represent the participants and submit the applications (grant requests).

While we have endeavoured to ensure that this Programme Guide is as complete as possible, please note that you can also receive help from various other sources; these are also mentioned in the Guide itself.

How to read the Programme Guide

The Programme Guide has three parts:

- Part A is an introduction to the Programme and its general objectives. It also indicates which countries participate in the Programme and specifies the priorities and the main features which are relevant to all supported activities. This section is addressed to those who wish to have an overview of the Programme in its entirety.
- Part B gives information on the different Actions and sub-Actions of the Programme that are covered by this Guide. This section is mainly addressed to those who are interested to knowing in detail which are the concrete typologies of projects supported by the Programme.
- Part C gives detailed information on application procedures and deadlines, selection modalities, financial and legal provisions. This section is addressed to all those who intend to submit a project proposal under the framework of the Youth in Action Programme.

Furthermore, this Guide includes the following Annexes:

- Annex 1: Glossary of key-terms. These key-terms will be displayed in italic character throughout this Guide
- Annex 2: Contact details of the structures and partners of the Youth in Action Programme
- Annex 3: Useful references

PART A - GENERAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOUTH IN ACTION PROGRAMME

By Decision N° 1719/2006/EC of 15 November 2006¹, the European Parliament and the Council adopted the Youth in Action Programme for the period 2007 to 2013 which put into place the legal framework to support non-formal learning activities for young people.

The Youth in Action Programme aims to respond at European level to the needs of young people from adolescence to adulthood. It makes an important contribution to the acquisition of competences through non-formal learning as well as to the promotion of young people's active participation in society.

It supports the new youth policy framework for European Cooperation in the youth field adopted in 2009², which outlines a cross-sectoral approach to youth issues with a view not only to creating more and equal opportunities for all young people in education and in the labour market ("employability dimension") but also to promoting the active engagement, social inclusion and solidarity of all young people ("participation dimension").

It also contributes to supporting the "Youth on the Move"³ flagship initiative of the EU 2020 Strategy⁴ which puts young people at the centre of the EU's agenda to create an economy based on knowledge, innovation, high levels of education and skills, adaptability and creativity, inclusive labour markets and active involvement in society.

Finally, Youth in Action also fits into the context of the new EU competences conferred by the Lisbon Treaty (article 165 (2)), which calls the European Union to encourage the participation of young people in democratic life in Europe.

The Youth in Action Programme builds on the experience of the previous Youth for Europe Programme (1989-1999), the European Voluntary Service (1996-1999) and the YOUTH Programme (2000-2006). It has been adopted after wide consultation with the different stakeholders in the youth field. An interim evaluation of the YOUTH Programme was carried out in 2003, receiving input from a wide variety of specialists, stakeholders and individuals involved in the Programme. An ex ante evaluation was also used in putting together the Youth in Action Programme.

The implementation of the present Programme Guide (and of the additional specific calls for proposals) of the Youth in Action Programme is subject to the following conditions:

- adoption by the Commission of the annual work plan for the implementation of the Youth in Action Programme, after its referral to the Programme Committee
- adoption by the European Parliament and the Council of the necessary appropriations for Youth in Action within the framework of the annual budget of the European Union.

1. What are the objectives, the priorities and the important features of the Youth in Action Programme?

Objectives

The general objectives stated in the legal basis of the Youth in Action Programme are to:

- promote young people's active citizenship in general and their European citizenship in particular
- develop solidarity and promote tolerance among young people, in particular in order to foster social cohesion in the European Union
- foster mutual understanding between young people in different countries
- contribute to developing the quality of support systems for youth activities and the capabilities of civil society organisations in the youth field
- promote European cooperation in the youth field.

Priorities

These general objectives shall be implemented at project level, taking into consideration permanent priorities and annual priorities.

Permanent priorities

European citizenship

Making young people aware that they are European citizens is a priority of the Youth in Action Programme. The objective is to encourage young people to reflect on European topics and to involve them in the discussion on the construction and the future of the European Union. On this basis, projects should have a strong "European dimension" and stimulate reflection on the emerging European society and its values.

European dimension is a broad conceptual term. To reflect this, a Youth in Action project should offer young people the opportunity to identify common values with other young people from different countries in spite of their cultural differences.

Projects should also stimulate young people to reflect on the essential characteristics of European society and, above all, encourage them to play an active role in their communities. To feel European, young people must become aware of the fact that they play a role in the construction of the current and future Europe. Therefore, a project with a European dimension should not only "discover" Europe, but also - and most importantly - aim to build it.

Participation of young people

A main priority of the Youth in Action Programme is the active participation of young people in their daily life. The overall aim is to encourage young people to be active citizens. Participation takes the following dimensions, as laid down in the Council Resolution on the common objectives for participation by and information for young people⁵:

- to increase the participation by young people in the civic life of their community
- to increase participation by young people in the system of representative democracy
- to provide greater support for various forms of learning to participate.

Projects funded under the Youth in Action Programme should reflect these three dimensions by using participatory approaches as a pedagogical principle for project implementation.

The following points highlight key principles of participatory approaches in Youth in Action projects:

- offering space for inter-action of participants, avoid passive listening
- respect for individual knowledge and skills
- ensuring influence over project decisions, not simply involvement
- participation is a learning process as much as an outcome
- an approach and attitude rather than a specific set of technical skills.

⁵ Council Resolution (2003/C 295/04) of 25 November 2003, OJ C 295 of 5 December 2003, p. 6.

Participatory approaches emphasise behavioural principles. These include:

- reversing the traditional roles of outside "experts" (a reversal of learning - from extracting to empowering)
- facilitating young people to undertake their own analysis (handing over the stick)
- self-critical awareness by facilitators
- the sharing of ideas and information.

Participatory techniques are not just tools. The participatory approach is also a state of mind, an attitude.

In a broad sense, this priority should be seen as a key method which will enable young people to take an active part in any Youth in Action project at all stages of its development. In other words, young people should be consulted and be part of the decision making process that may affect their projects.

Moreover, the Youth in Action Programme encourages young people to get involved in projects that have a positive impact for the community in general.

Cultural diversity

The respect for cultural diversity together with the fight against racism and xenophobia are priorities of the Youth in Action Programme. By facilitating joint activities of young people from different cultural, ethnic and religious backgrounds, the Programme aims to develop the intercultural learning of young people.

As far as the development and implementation of projects are concerned, this means that young people participating in a project should become aware of its intercultural dimension. The project should stimulate awareness and reflection on the differences in values. Young people should be supported to respectfully and sensitively challenge viewpoints that perpetuate inequality or discrimination. Furthermore, intercultural working methods should be used to enable project participants to participate on an equal basis.

Inclusion of young people with fewer opportunities

An important priority for the European Union is to give access to all young people, including young people with fewer opportunities, to the Youth in Action Programme.

Young people with fewer opportunities are young people that are at a disadvantage compared to their peers because they face one or more of the situations and obstacles mentioned in the non-exhaustive list below. In certain contexts, these situations or obstacles prevent young people from having effective access to formal and non-formal education, transnational mobility and participation, active citizenship, empowerment and inclusion in society at large.

- Social obstacles: young people facing discrimination because of gender, ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, disability, etc.; young people with limited social skills or anti-social or risky sexual behaviours; young people in a precarious situation; (ex-)offenders, (ex-)drug or alcohol abusers; young and/or single parents; orphans; young people from broken families.
- Economic obstacles: young people with a low standard of living, low income, dependence on social welfare system; in long-term unemployment or poverty; young people who are homeless, young people in debt or with financial problems.
- Disability: young people with mental (intellectual, cognitive, learning), physical, sensory or other disabilities.
- Educational difficulties: young people with learning difficulties; early school-leavers and school dropouts; lower qualified persons; young people with poor school performance.
- Cultural differences: young immigrants or refugees or descendants from immigrant or refugee families; young people belonging to a national or ethnic minority; young people with linguistic adaptation and cultural inclusion problems.
- Health problems: young people with chronic health problems, severe illnesses or psychiatric conditions; young people with mental health problems.
- Geographical obstacles: young people from remote or rural areas; young people living on small islands or peripheral regions; young people from urban problem zones; young people from less serviced areas (limited public transport, poor facilities, abandoned villages).

Youth groups and organisations should take appropriate measures to avoid exclusion of specific target groups. However, it is possible that young people confronted by one specific situation or obstacle face a disadvantage compared to their peers in one country or region, but not in another one.

The Youth in Action Programme is a Programme for all, and efforts should be made to include young people with special needs.

Beyond accessibility to all, the Youth in Action Programme also aims at being a tool to enhance the social inclusion, active citizenship and employability of young people with fewer opportunities and to contribute to social cohesion at large.

An Inclusion Strategy has been designed for the Youth in Action Programme, as the common framework to support the efforts and Actions which the Commission, Member States, National and Executive Agencies and other organisations undertake to make inclusion a priority in their work.

Annual priorities

In addition to the above-mentioned permanent priorities, annual priorities may be fixed for the Youth in Action Programme and communicated on the Commission, Executive Agency and National Agencies' websites.

For 2012, the annual priorities are the following:

- projects aimed at promoting young people's commitment towards a more inclusive growth, and notably:
 - projects tackling the issue of youth unemployment as well as projects aimed at stimulating unemployed young people's mobility and active participation in society. A strong priority will be placed throughout the Actions of the Programme to ensuring access to unemployed young people to all the opportunities that it offers
 - projects addressing the issue of poverty and marginalisation and encouraging young people's awareness and commitment to tackling these issues for a more inclusive society. In this context, special emphasis shall be placed in particular on the inclusion of young migrants, disabled young people, and where relevant Roma youth
- projects stimulating young people's spirit of initiative, creativity and entrepreneurship, employability, in particular through youth initiatives
- projects promoting healthy behaviours, in particular through the promotion of the practice of outdoor activities and grassroots sport, as a means to promote healthy lifestyles as well as to foster social inclusion and the active participation of young people in society
- projects aimed at raising young people's awareness and mobilization in tackling global environmental challenges and climate change thus encouraging the development of "green" skills and behaviours among young people and youth workers and their commitment to a more sustainable growth.

Important features of the Youth in Action Programme

The following features of the Programme deserve special attention. Some of them are presented in more detail on the Commission website.

Non-formal learning

The Youth in Action Programme provides important opportunities for young people to acquire competences. Therefore it is a key instrument for non-formal and informal learning in a European dimension.

Non-formal learning refers to the learning which takes place outside formal educational curriculum. Non-formal learning activities involve people on a voluntary basis and are carefully planned, to foster the participants' personal, social and professional development.

Informal learning refers to the learning in daily life activities, in work, family, leisure, etc. It is mainly learning by doing. In the youth sector, informal learning takes place in youth and leisure initiatives, in peer group and voluntary activities etc.

Non-formal and informal learning enables young people to acquire essential competences and contributes to their personal development, social inclusion and active citizenship, thereby improving their employment prospects. Learning activities within the youth field provide significant added value for young people as well as for the economy and society at large such as capacity-building of organisations, benefits for communities, systems and institutions.

Non-formal and informal learning activities within the Youth in Action Programme are complementary to the formal education and training system. They have a participative and learner-centred approach, are carried out on a voluntary basis and are therefore closely linked to young people's needs, aspirations and interests. By providing an additional source of learning and a route into formal education and training, such activities are particularly relevant to young people with fewer opportunities.

A high-quality non-formal learning dimension is a key-aspect of all projects supported by the Youth in Action Programme. This is notably reflected in the award criteria of the different Actions and sub-Actions, the supportive approach of the Commission, Executive Agency and National Agencies towards the target groups of the Programme, the definition of rights and responsibilities in European Voluntary Service, and, finally, the emphasis put on recognition of the non-formal learning experience.

Projects funded by the Youth in Action Programme have to adhere to the non-formal learning principles. These are:

- learning in non-formal contexts is intended and voluntary
- education takes place in a diverse range of environments and situations for which training and learning are not necessarily the sole or main activity
- the activities may be staffed by professional learning facilitators (such as youth trainers/workers) or volunteers (such as youth leaders or youth trainers)
- the activities are planned but are seldom structured by conventional rhythms or curriculum subjects
- the activities usually address specific target groups and document learning in a specific, field oriented way.

Youthpass

Every person who has taken part in a Youth in Action project under Action 1.1, Action 1.2, Action 3.1 (Youth Exchanges and Training Courses), Action 2, and Action 4.3 (Training Courses) is entitled to receive a Youthpass Certificate, which describes and validates the non-formal and informal learning experience and outcomes acquired during the project.

Issuing a Youthpass Certificate supports learning processes within the Youth in Action projects and enhances the quality of the projects. More support can be found in the Youthpass Guide and other educational publications, available at www.youthpass.eu.

All Youthpass Certificates have a common structure, a coherent layout, and contain the following information:

- personal details about the participant
- general description of the relevant Action of the Programme
- key information concerning the project and the activities realised by the participant
- description and assessment of the participant's learning outcome during the project.

Through Youthpass, the European Commission ensures that participation in the Programme is recognised as an educational experience and a period of non-formal learning and informal learning. This document can be of great benefit for the personal, future educational or professional pathway of the participant.

Each beneficiary of a Youth in Action grant under the Actions concerned is responsible for:

- informing all participants involved in the project that they are entitled to receive a Youthpass Certificate
- issuing such Certificates to all participants who request one.

These obligations are specified in the model of grant agreement between the beneficiary and the relevant National or Executive Agency.

The technical solution for beneficiaries to issue Youthpass Certificates is available at www.youthpass.eu.

Visibility of the Youth in Action Programme

All projects funded under the Youth in Action Programme must develop measures aimed at ensuring the visibility of their project and of the Programme. Visibility consists in spreading information about the project, its objectives and attended results, as well as in promoting the contribution of the EU Youth in Action Programme to the realisation of the project. Visibility measures mainly occur before and during the implementation of the project. Such measures can be for example: developing information or promotional material; issuing press releases or writing articles for newspapers, magazines, websites or newsletters; creating an e-group, a web space, a photo-gallery or blog on the Internet, etc. For more details on how to develop visibility measures under each Action and sub-Action of the Programme, please consult Part B of this Guide.

Enhancing the visibility of the Youth in Action Programme also means that activities and products funded within the Programme clearly mention that they have received the European Union's support and are labelled by the Youth in Action logo. For more details please consult Part C of this Guide.

Dissemination and exploitation of results

Dissemination and exploitation of results relates to the use and practical application of a project's outcomes throughout various follow-up activities after finalising the project. The aim of such follow-up activities is to increase the impact of the project by its multiplying effect and to ensure the sustainability of achieved results. It can be achieved through:

- disseminating the educational concept of a project and enabling other promoters to use it in a new context (e.g. organising presentations, seminars, trainings)
- disseminating the educational results of the project achieved during the project implementation (e.g. organising screening of films, discussion fora, establishing a long-term collaboration with media, disseminating promotional material or products).

The follow-up activities should be considered when planning a project. Exploitation of results can take place either at individual and institutional levels (multiplication), or at the level of the policies (mainstreaming). Multiplication is obtained for instance by spreading the project concept or results and convincing other promoters to use them in a new context. Promoters should identify possible target groups that could act as multipliers (young people, youth workers, media, political leaders, and opinion leaders, EU decision makers) in order to spread the project's concept and results. Mainstreaming is obtained through a structured and planned process of convincing decision-makers to use successful concepts or results from certain projects by incorporating them into local, regional, national or European systems and practices.

For this purpose, the Commission has established a strategy targeting the systematic dissemination and exploitation of project outcomes at various levels. The different actors involved in the Programme (European Commission, Executive Agency, National Agencies, promoters, etc.) have a specific role to play to achieve this end.

As far as promoters are concerned, they should plan and carry out follow-up activities aimed at making their project concept and results better known and sustainable. This means that the results of a project will continue to be used and have a positive effect on the largest possible number of young people once the project has come to an end. By planning such follow-up activities as part of their projects, promoters will increase the quality of their work and actively contribute to the overall impact of the Youth in Action Programme.

Furthermore, the Directorate-General Education and Culture has developed an electronic platform called "EVE" in order to support promoters of the Youth in Action Programme (as well as other Programmes of the Directorate-General) in the dissemination and exploitation of the results of their projects EU-wide. The National Agencies are responsible for pre-identifying Youth in Action representative projects to be displayed in EVE. More information on EVE can be found at http://ec.europa.eu/dgs/education_culture/eve/.

Anti-discrimination

Anti-discrimination is a core element of the Youth in Action Programme. The Programme should be accessible to all young people without any form of discrimination on grounds of gender, racial or ethnic origin, religion or belief, disability or sexual orientation.

Equality between women and men

Equality between women and men was strengthened in the Treaty of Amsterdam and is one of the priorities for developing employment in the European Union. All Member States have decided to include the principle of equality between women and men (or "gender equality") in all policies and actions at European level, particularly in the fields of education and culture.

The Youth in Action Programme aims at reaching an equal number of male and female participants, not only globally, but also within each sub-Action. At Programme structures level, this means that appropriate measures should be taken, as much as possible, to stimulate the interest and participation of the less represented gender in each sub-Action.

Furthermore, the Youth in Action Programme aims at stimulating the thematic coverage of gender equality in projects. Promoters may either set up projects focusing on a theme directly linked to gender equality (for instance: stereotypes, reproductive health, gender-based violence, etc.) or adopt a mainstreaming approach by including a gender equality dimension in all the projects they organise, whatever the main theme may be.

Protection and safety of participants

Protection and safety of young people involved in Youth in Action projects are important principles of the Programme. All young persons participating in the Youth in Action Programme deserve the opportunity to achieve their full potential in terms of social, emotional and spiritual development. This could only be assured in a safe environment which respects and protects rights of young persons and safeguards and promotes their welfare.

In its simplest form, protection and safety address every young person's right not to be subjected to harm. In that perspective, there is no issue that is not potentially in some way related to young person's safety and protection. Protection in this context covers all kinds of inappropriate behaviour, including sexual and moral harassment, but also intercultural problems, insurance, accidents, fire, alcohol and substance abuse, neglect, bullying, degrading treatment or punishment, etc.

The fundamental objective is to ensure that all those who work together with young people recognize a duty to safeguard the protection of young people and are able to fulfil this duty. To this end each promoter participating in the Youth in Action Programme should have in place effective procedures and arrangements to promote and guarantee the welfare and protection of young people. This will help to enhance the young people's experience as a safe, effective and enjoyable learning experience.

With this regard, all participants directly involved in Youth in Action projects must be insured against the risks linked to their participation in these projects. Apart from the European Voluntary Service which foresees a specific insurance policy (cfr. Part B, Action 2 of this Guide), the Youth in Action Programme does not define a unique format of insurance, nor does it recommend specific insurance companies. The Programme leaves it up to project promoters to seek the most suitable insurance policy according to the type of project carried out and to the insurance formats available at national level. Furthermore, it is not necessary to stipulate a project-specific insurance, if the participants are already covered by insurance policies previously stipulated by the project promoters. In any circumstances, the following areas must be covered:

- wherever relevant, travel insurance (including damage or loss of luggage)
- third party liability (including, wherever appropriate, professional indemnity or insurance for responsibility)
- medical assistance, including after care
- accident and serious illness (including permanent or temporary incapacity)
- death (including repatriation in case of projects carried out abroad)
- legal assistance fees
- wherever relevant, special insurance for particular circumstances such as outdoor activities.

Finally, if projects involve young people under 18, project promoters are requested to ask the authorisation of participation to parents or those acting on their behalf.

Multilingualism

As set out in the communication from the Commission *The Multilingual Union*⁶, the Commission endeavours to use its Programmes to promote multilingualism while bearing in mind two long-term objectives: helping to create a society that makes the most of linguistic diversity, and encouraging citizens to learn foreign languages.

The Youth in Action Programme achieves these objectives by bringing young people of different nationalities and different languages together and by giving them the opportunity to participate in activities abroad. Although Youth in Action is not a linguistic Programme, it is nevertheless a non-formal learning Programme which gives young people the opportunity to become acquainted with other languages and cultures.

⁶ Communication from the Commission to the Council, the European Parliament, the European Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions - A New Framework Strategy for Multilingualism, COM/2005/0596 final.

2. What is the budget?

The Programme has an overall budget of 885 million euros for the seven years (2007-2013). The annual budget is decided by the European Parliament and the Council. The following site enables you to follow the different steps of the adoption of the budget. This Programme is concerned with budget line 15.05.55.

http://ec.europa.eu/budget/documents/budget_current_year_en.htm

In addition to this, EU funds from other budget lines are allocated to the Youth in Action Programme to increase the support to cooperation with South East Europe and the countries of the Eastern Partnership. They take the form of "Youth Windows" and contribute to complementing the Youth in Action allocations to Actions 2 and 3.1. More specifically:

- the "Western Balkans Youth Window", provided through the Instrument of Pre-Accession (IPA) managed by the Enlargement Directorate General of the European Commission, has allowed since 2008 supporting additional projects involving promoters and participants from the Neighbouring Partner Countries of South East Europe
- the "Eastern Partnership Youth Window", provided through the European Neighbourhood Policy Instrument (ENPI) managed by the EuropeAid Development and Cooperation Directorate General of the European Commission, will allow as of 2012 supporting additional projects involving promoters and participants from the Neighbouring Partner Countries of the Eastern Partnership.

The Commission reserves the right not to allocate all the funds available.

3. What is the structure of the Youth in Action Programme?

In order to achieve its objectives, the Youth in Action Programme foresees five operational Actions.

Action 1 - Youth for Europe

Action 1 supports the following sub-Actions:

- Sub-Action 1.1 - Youth Exchanges
Youth Exchanges offer an opportunity for groups of young people from different countries to meet and learn about each other's cultures. The groups plan together their Youth Exchange around a theme of mutual interest.
- Sub-Action 1.2 - Youth Initiatives
Youth Initiatives support group projects designed at local, regional and national level. They also support the networking of similar projects between different countries, in order to strengthen their European aspect and to enhance cooperation and exchanges of experiences between young people.
- Sub-Action 1.3 - Youth Democracy Projects
Youth Democracy Projects support young people's participation in the democratic life of their local, regional or national community, and at international level.

Action 2 - European Voluntary Service

The aim of the European Voluntary Service is to support young people's participation in various forms of voluntary activities, both within and outside the European Union.

Under this Action, young people take part individually or in groups in non-profit, unpaid activities.

Action 3 - Youth in the World

Action 3 supports the following sub-Actions:

- Sub-Action 3.1 - Cooperation with the Neighbouring Countries of the European Union
This sub-Action supports projects with Neighbouring Partner Countries, namely Youth Exchanges and Training and Networking Projects in the youth field.
- Sub-Action 3.2 - Cooperation with Other Countries of the World
This sub-Action concerns cooperation in the youth field, in particular the exchange of good practice with Partner Countries from other parts of the world. It encourages exchanges and training of young people and youth workers, partnerships and networks of youth organisations. Sub-Action 3.2 is not covered by this Guide; grant requests related to this sub-Action are to be submitted following specific calls for proposals managed by the Education Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency in Brussels (see section 4 "Who implements the Youth in Action Programme" below).

Action 4 - Youth Support Systems

Action 4 supports the following sub-Actions:

- Sub-Action 4.1 - Support to bodies active at European level in the youth field
This sub-Action supports the operation of non-governmental organisations active at European level in the youth field that pursue a goal of general European interest (ENGOS). Their activities must contribute to young people's participation in public life and society and the development and implementation of European cooperation activities in the youth field in the broadest sense. Sub-Action 4.1 is not covered by this Guide; grant requests related to this sub-Action are to be submitted following specific calls for proposals managed by the Education Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency in Brussels (see section 4 "Who implements the Youth in Action Programme" below).
- Sub-Action 4.2 - Support to the European Youth Forum
This sub-Action supports the ongoing activities of the European Youth Forum. A grant is awarded every year under this sub-Action. Sub-Action 4.2 is not covered by this Guide.

- Sub-Action 4.3 - Training and networking of those active in youth work and youth organisations
This sub-Action supports the training of those active in youth work and youth organisations, in particular the exchange of experiences, expertise and good practice as well as activities which may lead to long-lasting quality projects, partnerships and networks. This sub-Action also supports the long-term mobility of youth workers; grant requests related to this measure are to be submitted following specific calls for proposals managed by the Education Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency in Brussels (see section 4 "Who implements the Youth in Action Programme" below).
- Sub-Action 4.4 - Projects encouraging innovation and quality
This sub-Action supports projects aimed at introducing, implementing and promoting innovative approaches in the youth field. Sub-Action 4.4 is not covered by this Guide; grant requests related to this sub-Action are to be submitted following specific calls for proposals managed by the Education Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency in Brussels (see section 4 "Who implements the Youth in Action Programme" below).
- Sub-Action 4.5 - Information activities for young people and those active in youth work and youth organisations
This sub-Action supports activities at European and national level which improve young people's access to information and communication services and increase the participation of young people in the preparation and dissemination of user-friendly, targeted information products. It also supports the development of European, national, regional and local youth portals for the dissemination of specific information for young people. Sub-Action 4.5 is not covered by this Guide; grant requests related to this sub-Action are to be submitted following specific calls for proposals managed by the Education Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency in Brussels (see section 4 "Who implements the Youth in Action Programme" below).
- Sub-Action 4.6 - Partnerships
This sub-Action is for the funding of partnerships between the European Commission and local/regional public bodies, ENGOS and companies active in Corporate Social Responsibility in order to develop long-term projects which combine various measures in the Programme. 4. Who implements the Youth in Action Programme?

The European Commission

The European Commission is ultimately responsible for the running of the Youth in Action Programme. It manages the budget and sets priorities, targets and criteria for the Programme on an ongoing basis. Furthermore, it guides and monitors the general implementation, follow-up and evaluation of the Programme at European level.

The European Commission also bears overall responsibility for the supervision and coordination of the National Agencies, which are offices that have been designated and set up by the National Authorities in charge of youth affairs in each Programme Country. The European Commission cooperates closely with the National Agencies and oversees their activities.

The European Commission delegates to the Education, Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency the management of projects at centralised level.

The Education, Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency

The Education, Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency (Executive Agency) established by decision 2005/56/EC of the European Commission of 14 January 2005 is responsible notably for the implementation of the centralised Actions of the Youth in Action Programme. It is in charge of the complete life cycle of these projects, from analysing the grant request to monitoring projects on the spot. It is also responsible for launching the specific calls for proposals.

Details of the sub-actions not covered by the Guide which are managed by the Executive Agency can be found in the Agency's website (http://eacea.ec.europa.eu/youth/index_en.php).

The Executive Agency is also responsible for the management of procurement regarding the insurance of volunteers and is involved in the management of the financing of the Eurodesk Network, the former EVS Volunteers Structures and the Euro-Med Youth Platform.

The National Agencies

Implementation of the Youth in Action Programme is mainly decentralised, the aim being to work as closely as possible with the beneficiaries and to adapt to the diversity of national systems and situations in the youth field. Each Programme Country has appointed a National Agency (please consult Annex I of this Guide). These National Agencies promote and implement the Programme at national level and act as the link between the European Commission, promoters at national, regional and local level, and the young people themselves. It is their task to:

- collect and provide appropriate information on the Youth in Action Programme
- administer a transparent and equitable selection process for project applications to be funded at decentralised level
- provide effective and efficient administrative processes
- seek cooperation with external bodies in order to help to implement the Programme
- evaluate and monitor the implementation of the Programme
- provide support to project applicants and promoters throughout the project life cycle
- form a functioning network with all National Agencies and the Commission
- improve the visibility of the Programme
- promote the dissemination and exploit the results of the Programme at national level.

In addition, they play an important role as an intermediate structure for the development of youth work by:

- creating opportunities to share experiences
- providing training and non-formal learning experiences
- promoting values like social inclusion, cultural diversity and active citizenship
- supporting all kinds of youth structures and groups, especially less formal ones
- fostering recognition of non-formal learning through appropriate measures.

Finally, they act as a supporting structure for the Framework for European cooperation in the youth field.

Other structures

Apart from the bodies mentioned above, the following provide complementary expertise to the Youth in Action Programme:

The SALTO-Youth Resource Centres

SALTO (Support, Advanced Learning and Training Opportunities) Youth Resource Centres (RC) provide training and cooperation opportunities aiming at quality improvement and recognition of non-formal learning.

The following SALTOs support the Programme:

- SALTO-Youth Cultural Diversity RC, located in United Kingdom and providing training, resources and support focusing on identity, faith, ethnicity, etc. as well as on learning how to live and work with difference and taking intercultural learning one step further within the Youth in Action Programme.
- SALTO-Youth Eastern Europe and Caucasus (EECA) RC, located in Poland and supporting cooperation between Programme and Neighbouring Partner Countries from Eastern Europe and Caucasus within the Youth in Action Programme.
- SALTO-Youth Euro-Med RC, located in France and supporting cooperation between Programme and Mediterranean Partner Countries (MEDA) within the Youth in Action Programme, as well as the identification and dissemination of good practice in the Programme.
- SALTO-Youth Inclusion RC, located in Belgium and developing inclusion training, publications and resources for international youth work with young people with fewer opportunities in order to facilitate and increase their participation in the Youth in Action Programme.
- SALTO-Youth Information RC, located in Sweden and developing and facilitating communication and information among the National Agencies and the other SALTO Youth Resource Centres.
- SALTO-Youth Participation RC, located in Belgium and aiming to create a space for reflection and for exchanging practices and ideas that enable young people and youth workers to develop quality participative projects.
- SALTO-Youth South East Europe (SEE) RC, located in Slovenia and supporting cooperation between Programme and Neighbouring Partner Countries from South East Europe within the Youth in Action Programme.
- SALTO-Youth Training and Cooperation (T&C) RC, located in Germany and supporting the development of the European Training Strategy, quality in training courses and cooperating with European training institutes and trainers. It also coordinates the development and implementation of Youthpass and supports the recognition of non-formal learning at European and national level.

The Eurodesk Network

The Eurodesk Network relays general information in the youth field and assists with disseminating information concerning the Youth in Action Programme. The Eurodesk national partners deliver a range of public European information services at national, regional and local levels, which can include:

- free enquiry answering - by phone, visit, email, fax, etc.
- advice and help to enquirers
- publications and resources
- events, conferences, seminars, etc.
- Internet access to European information
- training and support services.

Eurodesk also provides content for the European Youth Portal and offers online information services and contact details through its website.

The network contributes to the updating of data on the European Youth Portal and enhances its promotion and further development. To this end, Eurodesk cooperates with other relevant youth information networks, in particular with the European Youth Information and Counselling Agency (ERYICA) and the European Youth Card Association (EYCA).

The Euro-Med Youth Platform

The Euro-Med Youth Platform aims at encouraging cooperation, networking and exchange among youth organisations from both shores of the Mediterranean. It provides useful facilities such as a database for partner search, a discussion forum, country profiles and information about financing for youth initiatives.

Former EVS volunteer structures

These structures work on youth and volunteering issues. Their activities generally include providing support to EVS volunteers and setting up platforms for communication and networking among former EVS volunteers for sharing experiences.

For details, please contact the Executive Agency.

5. Who can participate in the Youth in Action Programme?

Young people and youth workers naturally constitute the main target population of the Programme. However, the Programme reaches these individuals through promoters. Conditions for participation in the Programme therefore relate to these two actors: the "participants" (individuals participating in the Programme) and the "promoters" (in most cases, legally established organisations). For both participants and promoters, conditions for participation depend on the country in which they are based.

Eligible participants

Are you a young person aged between 13 and 30 years old or somebody active in youth work or youth organisations legally resident in one of the Programme or Partner Countries?

If so, you can be a participant of a Youth in Action project, depending on the Action and sub-Action concerned. For the conditions for participation in specific Actions or sub-Actions, please consult Part B of this Guide.

In particular, check:

- lower age limits - participants must have reached the minimum age at the start date of the Activity/Service. For example, in the case of European Voluntary Service, if the general lower age limit is 18 years, participants must have reached their 18th birthday by the starting date of their EVS Service
- upper age limits - participants must not be older than the indicated maximum age at the application deadline. For example, in the case of Youth Exchanges, if the general upper age limit is 25 years, participants must not have reached their 26th birthday by the application deadline.

Eligible promoters

Youth in Action projects are submitted and, if selected, managed by promoters representing the participants.

Are you:

- a non-profit or non-governmental organisation
- a local, regional public body
- an informal group of young people
- a body active at European level in the youth field (ENGO), having member branches in at least 8 Programme Countries
- an international governmental non-profit organisation
- a profit-making organisation organising an event in the area of youth, sport or culture

legally established in one of the Programme or Partner Countries?

If so, you can be promoter of a Youth in Action project depending on the Action and sub-Action concerned. For the conditions for participation in specific Actions or sub-Actions, please consult Part B of this Guide.

If your project is selected, you become a "beneficiary" of the Programme. A beneficiary is a promoter who will be proposed a grant agreement for the realisation of the project (grant agreements are not proposed to the participants themselves).

What is a body active at European level in the youth field?

A body active at European level in the youth field is a European Non Governmental Organisation which pursues a goal of general European interest and whose activities are aimed at young people's participation in public life and in society and the development of European cooperation activities in the youth field.

An ENGO must:

- be legally established for at least one year
- be non-profit-making
- be established in one of the Programme Countries, one of the countries of the Western Balkan, in Belarus, Moldova, Russian Federation or Ukraine
- operate at European level
- be active in the field of youth (it may be a body whose activities are solely for the benefit of young people or a body with wider aims, some of the activities of which are for the benefit of young people)
- have a structure and activities covering at least eight Programme Countries (it may be a European network representing bodies active in the field of youth)

- run activities in accordance with the principles underlying the Community activity in the youth field
- involve the young people in managing the activities conducted for their benefit.

For the purpose of applications to be submitted under the permanent actions of the Programme Guide, beneficiaries under sub-action 4.1 will be automatically considered as bodies active at European level in the youth field.

Eligible Countries

Depending on the Action or sub-Action, participants and promoters based in various countries can participate. For the conditions for participation in specific Actions or sub-Actions, please consult Part B of this Guide.

A distinction is made between Programme Countries and Partner Countries.

- Participants and promoters from Programme Countries can participate in all Actions of the Youth in Action Programme.
- Participants and promoters from Neighbouring Partner Countries can participate in Action 2 and sub-Action 3.1 of the Youth in Action Programme.
- Participants and promoters from Other Partner Countries of the World can participate in Action 2 and sub-Action 3.2 of the Youth in Action Programme.

Visa requirements

If your project involves non-European Union countries you may need to check visa requirements.

In principle, Youth in Action Programme participants from non-European Union countries coming into the EU and participants from the EU going to non-EU countries to take part in a youth project have to apply for a visa of entry into the relevant host country. Young people resident within an EU Member State, who are holders of a non-EU nationality/passport, might also need a visa to enter another EU Member State.

It is a collective responsibility of all the promoters to ensure that any visa required is in order before the planned Activity takes place. It is strongly recommended that the visa is arranged well in advance, since the process may take several weeks.

National Agencies and the Executive Agency may give further advice and support concerning visas, residence permits, social security, etc.

The Commission has drafted some general recommendations for visa/residence permit applications for the benefit of Youth in Action Programme participants. These can be consulted on the Commission's website.

How do you participate?

The precise conditions for participation in the Youth in Action Programme depend on the Action or sub-Action related to your project. For the conditions for participation in specific Actions or sub-Actions, please consult Part B of this Guide.

6. What support is available?

The supportive approach

The supportive approach of the Youth in Action Programme consists of guiding users of the Programme through all phases, from the first contact with the Programme through the application process to the realisation of the project and the final evaluation.

This principle should not be in contradiction with fair and transparent selection procedures. However, it is based on the idea that in order to guarantee equal opportunity for everybody, it is necessary to give more assistance to some groups of young people through advising, counselling, monitoring, and coaching systems.

Therefore, an important principle of the Youth in Action Programme is the provision of assistance, training and advice for the applicants at different levels. At a decentralised level, the National Agencies and the Eurodesk Network provide training and information. At a centralised level, help is provided through the Executive Agency and the SALTO network.

The European Training Strategy of the Youth in Action Programme

The European Training Strategy of the Youth in Action Programme (ETS) is coordinated by the European Commission with the help of ETS Support Structures (ETS Steering Group, ETS Sectorial Working Groups, SALTO Training and Cooperation RC) and aims to contribute to developing the quality of support systems for youth activities and the capabilities of civil society organisations in the youth field. It is the core element of the coherent quality approach of the Programme, which includes communication measures, recognition of non-formal learning activities, cooperation of all actors and applied youth and educational research activities.

The ETS is the main instrument of the Programme for sustainable capacity building of youth workers and other key actors. It provides support for them to acquire the necessary attitudes and competences, especially in the field of non-formal learning and working with young people on a European level and in a European context.

The implementing measures of the ETS are:

- Training and Networking for those active in youth work and youth organisations (Action 4.3 and Action 3.1 Training and Networking)
- Training and Cooperation plans (TCPs) - the National Agencies' instrument of quality support in their role as an intermediate structure
- Knowledge management and Staff Trainings for NA staff and staff of other structures of the Programme
- SALTO-Youth Resource Centres offering content-related support for National Agencies, organisations and individuals
- resources of the Partnership between the European Commission and the Council of Europe in the youth field.

The Education, Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency

The Executive Agency provides support for the achievement of high quality standards in project management and technical support to all actors involved in Europe-wide and international youth projects, with a specific focus on beneficiaries and participants based in countries where National Agencies are not present (regions of South East Europe, Eastern Europe and Caucasus, Mediterranean countries, Latin America, Asia and the ACP countries).

In particular the Executive Agency:

- responds to specific requests from promoters, organisations and participants
- supports visa issuing and best practice dissemination tools to help promoters overcome obstacles related to transnational mobility
- provides help with crisis management.

The National Agencies

The National Agencies (NAs) provide training and general information on training possibilities for the preparation and implementation of projects.

Each National Agency:

- offers national and international training, seminars and workshops to people interested or already involved in Youth in Action projects
- gives advice, information and assistance to participants, project coordinators, actual or potential partners and beneficiaries throughout the process of planning and carrying out projects
- helps to build, develop and consolidate transnational partnerships between the various players in the Programme
- delivers information documents about the Programme, its rules and practices
- organises conferences, meetings, seminars and other events to inform target audiences about the Programme, to improve its management and presentation and to disseminate results and good practice.

The SALTO Youth Resource Centres

The aim of the SALTO Youth Resource Centres is to help improve the quality of projects funded under Youth in Action. The SALTO Centres provide resources, information and training in specific areas for National Agencies and other actors involved in youth work, and foster the recognition of non-formal learning.

Their work involves:

- organising training courses, study visits, forums and partnership-building activities
- developing and documenting training and youth work methods and tools
- giving an overview of European training activities that are available to youth workers through the European Training Calendar
- issuing practical publications
- providing up-to-date information about European youth work and the different priorities
- providing a database of trainers and resource persons in the field of youth work and training
- coordinating the Youthpass.

Find further information, tools and services at www.salto-youth.net.

Otlas – the partner finding tool

One of the tools developed and hosted by the SALTO-Youth Resource Centres is Otlas, a central online partner finding tool for project promoters and organisations in the youth field. Otlas has been made available to organisations and informal groups since January 2011. Promoters can register their contact details and areas of interest in Otlas, and also create partner requests for projects ideas.

Web address: www.salto-youth.net/otlas or www.otlas.eu

The Eurodesk Network

The Eurodesk Network offers information services to young people and those who work with them on European opportunities in the education, training and youth fields, and the involvement of young people in European activities. The Eurodesk Network offers enquiry answering services, funding information, events and publications.

The Youth Partnership between the Commission and the Council of Europe

The partnership between the European Commission and the Council of Europe in the field of youth covers three central areas: evidence-based youth policy, regional cooperation (focusing on Eastern Europe and the Caucasus, South East Europe and the Southern Mediterranean) and youth participation and youth work. The EU-CoE youth partnership provides a framework for increasing the synergies between the two institutions, as well as coordinating their strategy in the European youth sector.

The main activities carried out within the framework of the youth partnership are seminars, training courses and network meetings involving diverse stakeholders in the youth field. It is also managing and continuously developing a web-portal on better knowledge on youth, and releasing publications, training modules and thematic handbooks that can be used in Youth in Action projects.

The European Knowledge Centre for Youth Policy (EKCY), created in the framework of the Partnership, constitutes a single entry point to retrieve up-to-date research-based information on the realities of young people across Europe. It promotes exchange of information and dialogue between policy-makers, practitioners and youth researchers.

The Pool of European Youth Researchers (PEYR) consists of a group of 25 experienced youth researchers from across Europe, covering a range of different areas of youth expertise. PEYR enables both institutions behind the youth partnership to strengthen links between policy and research, and offers youth research competence to third parties through a comprehensive web-presentation with personal dossiers and contact details of all its members.

For more information, visit <http://youth-partnership-eu.coe.int/youth-partnership>.

The Euro-Med Youth Platform

The Euro-Med Youth Platform provides support to young people and youth organisations in the Euro-Mediterranean region in order to facilitate the exchange of good practice, networking, cooperation and capacity building in the region.

To meet these objectives, it provides a series of networking facilities, including:

- a database for partner-finding
- an online forum for free discussion
- country profiles on the situation of young people
- information about financing for youth activities
- meetings for youth organisations from the Mediterranean region
- a printed and online magazine.

PART B - INFORMATION ABOUT THE ACTIONS

In this Part you will find, for each Action or sub-Action of the Youth in Action Programme covered by this Guide, the following information:

- the objectives of the Action or sub-Action
- a description of the projects supported through the Action or sub-Action
- a table presenting the criteria which are used to assess a project submitted under the Action or sub-Action
- additional useful information in view to have a good understanding of the projects supported through the Action or sub-Action

- advice on how to develop a project likely to be supported under the Action or sub-Action.

Before submitting an application, you are advised to read carefully the entire section concerning the Action or sub-Action under which you wish to apply.

Action 1.1 - Youth Exchanges

Objectives

Youth Exchanges allow one or more groups of young people to be hosted by a group from another country in order to participate together in a joint programme of activities. These projects involve the active participation of young people and are designed to allow them to discover and become aware of different social and cultural realities, to learn from each other, to develop the entrepreneurial spirit and reinforce their feeling of being European citizens.

Youth Exchanges enable young people to go abroad, to meet peers from different countries with different social and cultural backgrounds and to learn from each other through an active participation in joint activities of common interest. Youth Exchanges allow young people to experience Europe and so to feel more European citizens.

What is a Youth Exchange?

A Youth Exchange is a project which brings together groups of young people from two or more countries, providing them with an opportunity to discuss and confront various themes, whilst learning about each other's countries and cultures. A Youth Exchange is based on a transnational partnership between two or more promoters from different countries.

According to the number of countries involved, a Youth Exchange can be bilateral, trilateral or multilateral. A Bilateral Youth Exchange is justified especially when the promoters are at their first European project, or when the participants are small-scale or local groups without experience at European level.

A Youth Exchange can be itinerant, implying the movement of all participants at the same time, throughout one or more countries participating in the Exchange.

A Youth Exchange project has three phases:

- planning and preparation
- implementation of the Activity
- evaluation (including reflection on a possible follow-up).

Non-formal learning principles and practice are reflected throughout the project.

What a Youth Exchange is not

The following activities in particular are NOT eligible for grants under Youth Exchanges:

- academic study trips
- exchange activities which aim to make financial profit
- exchange activities which can be classed as tourism
- festivals
- holiday travel
- language courses
- performance tours
- school class exchanges
- sports competitions
- statutory meetings of organisations
- political gatherings
- work camps.

Youthpass

Every person who has taken part in a Youth in Action project under this Action is entitled to receive a Youthpass Certificate, which describes and validates the non-formal and informal learning experience acquired during the project (learning outcomes). Furthermore, Youthpass is to be considered as a process of becoming aware, reflecting on and documenting the learning within the different phases of the project. For more information on Youthpass, please consult Part A of this Guide as well as the Youthpass guide and further relevant material presented at www.youthpass.eu.

Example of a Youth Exchange

A multilateral Youth Exchange titled "Slainte agus An Oige" took place in Omagh, Northern Ireland, and involved 40 young people from Ireland, Lithuania, Poland and United Kingdom. The exchange aimed at providing young people with a framework for a healthy lifestyle by focusing on the benefits of participating in outdoor activities. The programme was a combination of practical activities where young people worked in teams trying out different sports, complemented with a number of workshops centred on the debate around the advantages of sport on the body. The project also allowed for each country group of participants to make a presentation on their countries culture and history. The emphasis of the programme was to build self esteem, acceptance of other people, open their minds, learn about other cultures and value different countries.

What are the funding rules?

How is the EU funding shared among project promoters?

Projects supported under Youth Exchanges are transnational and based on the cooperation among two or more promoters.

Among the promoters of a project, the applicant plays a major administrative role; it submits the application form on behalf of all the partners and, if the project is approved:

- bears the financial and legal responsibility for the entire project towards the granting Agency
- coordinates the project in cooperation with all other partner promoters involved
- receives the EU Youth in Action financial support.

However, as regards the implementation of the project, all partners are responsible for carrying out tasks. It is therefore essential that the applicant promoter distributes the EU Youth in Action grant to each of the project promoters in proportion to the tasks they have to carry out.

For this reason, the Commission strongly recommends that all promoters involved in a Youth in Action project sign an internal partnership agreement among them; such an agreement has the purpose of clearly defining responsibilities, tasks and financial contribution for all parties involved in the project.

An internal partnership agreement constitutes a key instrument to ensure a solid partnership among promoters in a Youth in Action project as well as to avoid or manage potential conflicts.

Indicatively, it should contain at least the following information:

- project title and reference of the grant agreement between the applicant promoter and the granting Agency
- names and contacts of all the promoters involved in the project
- role and responsibilities of each promoter
- division of the EU YiA grant (according to the above responsibilities)
- payments and budget transfer modalities among promoters
- name and signature of the representative of each promoter.

Although this practice is strongly recommended to safeguard the interests of each partner in a project, the Commission does not oblige promoters to formalise their relations with partners through a written agreement; nor would such an agreement be requested and overseen by the granting National or Executive Agency.

Moreover, it is up to the project promoters to jointly decide on how the EU grant will be distributed and which costs it will cover. With this regard, the table below aims at providing an indication of how the EU grant could be used to support the main tasks carried out based on past experience:

How to develop a good project?

The "Award criteria" table in this sub-Action lists the criteria against which the quality of a project will be assessed. Here are some advices which may help you to develop a good project.

Quality of project design

- Quality of the partnership/active involvement of all promoters in the project

Smooth and efficient cooperation between promoters is a vital element for the successful development of a project. Promoters must demonstrate the ability to establish and run a cohesive partnership with active involvement of all partners and with common goals to be achieved. In this respect, the following factors should be taken into consideration: the level of networking, cooperation and commitment of each promoter in the project; the profile and background of promoters when the nature or target of the Activity would necessitate the possession of certain qualifications; a clear and commonly agreed definition of roles and tasks of each promoter involved in the project; the capacity of the partnership to ensure effective implementation, follow-up and dissemination of the results achieved through the Activity. Promoters are strongly recommended to sign an internal partnership agreement amongst them; such agreement would have the purpose of clearly defining responsibilities, tasks and financial contribution of all parties involved in the project.
- Quality of the preparation phase

The preparation phase is of crucial importance for the success of a Youth Exchange. During this phase, the promoters and the participants should agree on the common theme of the Youth Exchange. They should reflect on division of tasks, programme of activities, working methods, profile of participants, practical arrangements (venue, transfers, accommodations, support material, linguistic support). The preparation phase should furthermore enhance the participants' involvement in the Youth Exchange and prepare them for intercultural encounters with other young people from different backgrounds and cultures. It is strongly advised that sending group(s) undertake an Advance Planning Visit to the host partner group.
- Quality of the Activity programme

The Activity programme should be clearly defined, realistic, balanced and linked to the objectives of the project and of the Youth in Action Programme; it should provide learning opportunities for the participants involved. The programme should use a variety of working methods and be adapted to the profile of participants in order to ensure the potentially best learning outcomes.
- Quality of the evaluation phase

In order to make the project and its results more sustainable, promoters and participants are expected to carry out a final evaluation process. The final evaluation should make it possible to assess whether the objectives of the project have been achieved and the expectations of the promoters and participants have been met. The evaluation should also highlight the learning outcomes of individuals and promoters involved. Besides the final evaluation, evaluation sessions before, during and after the Activity are encouraged to ensure the smooth running of the Activity. Evaluation before the Activity should enable promoters to fine-tune the project's design, while ongoing evaluation sessions are important in order to receive feedback from participants and to adapt the Activity programme accordingly.
- Quality of measures ensuring protection and safety of participants

Notwithstanding the obligations concerning policy insurance for all participants and parental authorisation for participants under 18 years old (please consult Part A of this Guide), during the planning and preparation phase of the project promoters should address the issue of protection and safety of participants and focus on the legislation, policy and practice which may differ from one country to another. The promoters will make sure that issues of risk and young person protection are addressed in the project. A sufficient number of group leaders must be present in order to enable young people to share their learning experience in a reasonably safe and protected environment. When both genders are participating in a project the group of leaders will preferably be of both genders. It is advisable to have in place emergency procedures (e.g. 24/7 contact details for host and home country, emergency fund, back up plan, medical kit, at least one leader who has first aid training, emergency services contacts, disclosure procedure, etc.). It is also useful to settle a common "code of behaviour" which will help both, group leaders and participants, to respect commonly agreed standards of behaviour (e.g. use of alcohol, tobacco, etc.). At the same time leaders are encouraged to have a common understanding and position on certain issues - particularly in emergency situations. Further practical information and checklists can be found in the Guidelines on Risk and Young Person Protection (please consult Annex III of this Guide).

Quality of project content and methodology

- Theme of common interest and relevance to the group of participants

The project should have a clear thematic concept, which participants wish to explore together. The chosen theme should be commonly agreed and reflect the interests and needs of participants. The theme has to be translated into the concrete daily activities of the Youth Exchange.
- Non-formal learning methods applied

The project should lead to the acquisition/improvement of competences (knowledge, skills and attitudes) leading to the personal, socio-educational and professional development of all participants and promoters involved. This will be achieved through non-formal and informal learning. A variety of non-formal learning methods and techniques may be applied (workshops, role plays, outdoor activities, ice-breakers, round-tables, etc.) in order to address the different needs of participants and desired outcomes. The project should be based on a learning process stimulating creativity, active participation and initiative (entrepreneurial spirit). Such learning process should be planned and analysed throughout the Youth Exchange: participants should be provided with a place for reflection on learning experiences and outcomes.
- Active involvement of participants in the project

To the maximum possible extent, participants should play an active role in the implementation of the project: the daily programme of the Activity and working methods applied should involve the participants as much as possible and trigger a learning process. Participants also should be actively involved in the preparation and evaluation phases of the project. Young people should be able to explore different topics on an equal basis, regardless of their language abilities or other skills.
- Promotion of social and personal development of participants

The project should enable the participants to acquire self-confidence when they are confronted with new experiences, attitudes and behaviours; to acquire or cultivate skills, competences and knowledge contributing to social or personal development. Promoters should pay attention to learning processes triggered during each phase of the project.
- Intercultural dimension

The Youth Exchange should increase young people's positive awareness of other cultures and support dialogue and intercultural encounters with other young people from different backgrounds and cultures. It should also help to prevent and combat prejudice, racism and all attitudes leading to exclusion and to develop sense of tolerance and understanding of diversity.
- European dimension

The Youth Exchange should contribute to the young people's education process and increase their awareness of the European/international context in which they live. The European dimension of a project could be reflected by the following characteristics:

 - the project fosters young people's sense of European citizenship and helps them to understand their role as part of the present and future Europe
 - the project reflects a common concern for issues within European society, such as racism, xenophobia, anti-Semitism, drug abuse
 - the project's theme is linked to EU topics, such as the EU enlargement, the roles and activities of the European institutions, the EU's action in matters affecting young people
 - the project debates the founding principles of the EU, i.e. the principles of liberty, democracy, respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms, and the rule of law.

Quality and visibility of project reach

- Impact, multiplying effect and follow-up

The impact of a Youth Exchange should not be limited to the participants in the Activity. Promoters should try, as much as possible, to involve other people (from the neighbourhood, local area, etc.) in the project activities.

The project should be framed within a longer-term perspective, and planned with a view to achieve a multiplying effect and sustainable impact. Multiplication is obtained for instance by convincing other actors to use the results of the Youth Exchange in a new context. Promoters should identify possible target groups that could act as multipliers (young people, youth workers, media, political leaders, and opinion leaders, EU decision makers) in order to spread the project's objectives and results. An important dimension of the project's impact relates to its learning outcomes: learning happens in a Youth Exchange at different levels and for all actors involved. As an example, participants gain new competences, such as social and civic competences, learning to learn, autonomy and responsibility, foreign language and communication skills etc.

(moreover, youth leaders gain skills related to their professional development; promoters and local communities build capacities and develop their networks in Europe). With this regard, promoters should put in place measures which make the project's learning outcomes visible. For recognising and validating these learning outcomes it is recommended to use Youthpass and the related learning process reflection.

Furthermore, promoters and participants are asked to reflect systematically upon possible measures to ensure a follow-up of the Youth Exchange. Will the Exchange be reciprocal? Could a new promoter be involved in a next Youth Exchange? How can discussion on the thematic concept be continued and what could the next steps be? Will it be feasible to plan and carry out new projects under different Actions of the Youth in Action Programme?

- Visibility of the project/visibility of Youth in Action Programme

Promoters should reflect together on measures aimed at enhancing the visibility of their project and the visibility of the Youth in Action Programme in general. The creativity of promoters and participants offers additional potential for spreading information about the Youth Exchange, as well as about the opportunities offered by the Youth in Action Programme. Visibility measures mainly occur before and during the implementation of the Youth Exchange. Such measures can be divided into two broad categories:

- Visibility of the project

Promoters and participants should "publicise" the project - as well as its aims and objectives - and spread the "youth message" throughout the implementation of their project. In order to raise awareness of the project they could for example develop information material; do a mail shot or SMS mailing; prepare posters, stickers, promotional items (t-shirts, caps, pens, etc.); invite journalists to observe; issue press releases or write articles for local papers, websites or newsletters; create an e-group, a web space, a photo-gallery or blog on the Internet, etc.

- Visibility of the Youth in Action Programme

As well as the compulsory use of the official logo of the Youth in Action Programme (please consult part C of this Guide), each project should also act as "multiplier" of the Youth in Action Programme in order to increase awareness about the opportunities offered by the Programme to young people and youth workers in Europe and beyond. Promoters are invited to include information about the Programme (for instance, information on the Programme Actions, or its objectives and important features, target groups, etc.) in all measures undertaken to increase visibility of the project (see examples above). Promoters could include information sessions or workshops in the Activity programme of the Youth Exchange. They could also plan participation in events (seminar, conferences, debates) organised at different levels (local, regional, national, international).

- Dissemination and exploitation of results

Each promoter should put in place measures to disseminate and exploit the results of the Youth Exchange, including its learning outcomes for the benefit of all actors involved. Dissemination and exploitation measures may have the same format as visibility measures indicated in the section above; the main difference is that dissemination and exploitation measures focus on a project's results, rather than its Activity and objectives. For this reason, dissemination and exploitation measures occur mainly after the Youth Exchange has taken place. Disseminating project's results could simply mean "spreading the word" about the project among friends, peers or other target groups. Other examples of dissemination and exploitation measures are organising public events (presentations, conferences, workshops...); creating audio-visual products (CD-Rom, DVD...); setting up long-term collaboration with media (series of radio/TV/press contributions, interviews, participation in different radio/TV programmes...); developing information material (newsletters, brochures, booklets, best practice manuals...); creating an Internet portal, etc.

Action 1.2 - Youth Initiatives

Objectives

This sub-Action supports projects where young people participate actively and directly in national or transnational activities of their own devising in which they play the key roles, in order to develop their initiative, enterprise and creativity.

Youth initiatives enable a large number of young people to become inventive and creative in their daily life and to speak out on their local needs and interests but also on the main world issues. Young people can try out ideas by initiating, setting up and carrying out an own project affecting various areas of life. Youth Initiatives can also lead to the self-employment or setting up of associations, NGOs or other bodies active in the area of social economy, no-profit and youth sectors.

What is a Youth Initiative?

A Youth Initiative is a project initiated, set up and carried out by young people themselves. It gives young people the chance to try out ideas through initiatives, which give them an opportunity to be directly and actively involved in planning and carrying out projects. Participation in a Youth Initiative is an important non-formal learning experience. While implementing a youth initiative, young people have the opportunity to discuss and reflect their chosen topic in a European context, to feel that they can contribute to the construction of Europe and therefore to consider themselves as European citizens.

A Youth Initiative project has three phases:

- planning and preparation
- implementation of the Activity
- evaluation (including reflection on a possible follow-up).

Non-formal learning principles and practice are reflected throughout the project.

A Youth Initiative can be:

- national: designed at local, regional or national level and developed by a single group in its country of residence
- transnational: a networking of youth initiatives jointly carried out by two or more groups from different countries. Activities within Transnational Youth Initiatives are designed as projects of co-operation between local youth initiatives from different countries where each of the partners work to the benefit of their local community. Cooperation with international partners in Transnational Youth Initiatives is based on similar needs or interests, in order to share and learn from others practices.

What else should you know about a Youth Initiative?

What is a coach?

A coach is a resource person who has youth work and/or Youth Initiatives experience to accompany groups of young people, facilitate the learning process and support their participation. S/he plays different roles depending on the needs of a given group of young people.

Coaching is partnering with young people in a thought-provoking and creative process that inspires them to maximize their personal potential. Coaching honours young people as the experts in the project and believes that every young person is creative, resourceful, and whole. Therefore a coach should listen, observe and customize their approach to young people needs. A coach should: discover, clarify, and align with what young people want to achieve; encourage young people's self-discovery; elicit young people-generated solutions and strategies; and hold young people responsible and accountable.

The coach remains outside the Youth Initiative but supports the group of young people in the preparation, implementation and evaluation of their project based on the needs of the group. Coaches support the quality of the learning process and they provide an ongoing partnership designed to help a group or individuals produce fulfilling results in their projects.

Coaches can be volunteers or professionals, youth leaders or leaders of youth organisations, workers of youth clubs or youth services, etc. however s/he should know and follow common principles of coaching process.

Coaches can be also "support persons"/guides of the project provided by the National Agencies who meet the group of young people several times during the development of the project, generally at the beginning, in the middle and at the end of the process.

Young people who have already participated in a Youth Initiative project can also be encouraged to use the competences gained during the process to support other groups of young people; they can therefore act as resource persons by taking over a peer coaching role. Peer coaching, that is, supporting peers or fellows of the same age, is an important tool to be used in a Youth Initiative in order to develop effective coaching systems at local level.

The National Agencies may arrange meetings between potential and ex-beneficiaries of Youth Initiatives, to facilitate the development of peer coaching systems. For information on coaching within Youth Initiatives, please consult your National Agency.

What a coach is not?

- A project leader
- A consultant/adviser
- A member of the group carrying out the project
- A professional trainer/expert providing only a technical support in a specific field. This support can be supported through financing for Activity costs
- The legal representative of the project.

Youthpass

Every person who has taken part in a Youth in Action project under this Action is entitled to receive a Youthpass Certificate, which describes and validates the non-formal and informal learning experience and outcomes acquired during the project (learning outcomes). Furthermore, Youthpass is to be considered as a process of becoming aware, reflecting on and documenting the learning within the different phases of the project. For more information on Youthpass, please consult Part A of the Guide as well as the Youthpass guide and further relevant material presented at www.youthpass.eu.

Example of a National Youth Initiative

Twelve young people from Turkey developed a project aimed at giving basic computer skills to children who are obliged to work in the streets. The group cooperated with a local NGO that works regularly with these children. Based on discussion with the children, the group learned about their situation and asked them what they would like to do; the idea of the computer training was born there. To give the National Youth Initiative a European dimension, while learning how to operate the computer, the young people and children researched on the situation of children in similar situations in other European countries. The group gathered this information, shared their findings and discussed the similarities and differences on the situation of street kids in European countries. The training in computers lasted three months and the project reached some 70 children. "Well, the most important thing at personal level was that the project enabled me to do what I wanted! You know, I felt moved by the situation of these street children. I wanted to do something! You can approach them and get to have an idea of their reality, but you need a frame to really work with them, and this is what the Youth Initiative project allowed us to achieve! The contact with the Youth Centre in the local area and the NGO cooperating with us were very helpful and important for the project. We organised different social activities, which gave the children the chance to feel less excluded. We had the impression that we succeeded in helping them, that they learnt something useful and practical and that they enjoyed the experience too. Also all of us could develop a feeling of solidarity in the European context, as our horizon was broadened to the extent that we know more about what is happening in other European countries now. The children even expressed their interest to meet children from other countries, which is why we plan on doing another Transnational Youth Initiative with partners from a neighbouring country where the young people can actually meet each other". (Turkish member of the group).

Example of a TransNational Youth Initiative

"Mission Europe" is a Transnational Youth Initiative initiated by 18 youngsters from Belgium, Germany and Luxembourg in order to encourage young people to become politically active citizens. The project took place in Ypres (Belgium), Berlin (Germany) and the city of Luxembourg (Luxembourg). The participants took part in debates, discussions and workshops mainly related to European issues. The methodology of "Mission Europe" was based on peer-to-peer education, not only by absorbing knowledge passively through lectures but also by giving the participants the opportunity to engage actively through discussions and debates. The aims of "Mission Europe" were to improve the awareness of the EU, to create cooperation and cultural understanding across borders in order to turn the participants into engaged and tolerant youngsters and to give them the skills needed in a globalized world. The project contributed to the formation of a socially-aware, open-minded and skilled future generation.

How to develop a good project?

The "Award criteria" table in this sub-Action lists the criteria against which the quality of a project will be assessed. Here are some advices which may help you to develop a good project.

Quality of project design

- Quality of the preparation phase

The preparation phase is of crucial importance for the success of a Youth Initiative. During this phase, the group of young people should choose and commonly agree a theme relevant to the group itself and to the local community. They should look at creating a well-structured programme of the Activity and a timetable, their working methods and the benefits of their project for the local community. While it is essential that the project be managed and implemented by the young people themselves, during the preparation phase the group(s) of young people may be assisted by a coach.

- Quality of the Activity programme

The Activity programme should be clearly defined, realistic, balanced and linked to the objectives of the project and of the Youth in Action Programme; it should provide learning opportunities for the participants involved. The programme should use a variety of working methods and be adapted to the profile of participants in order to ensure the potentially best learning outcomes.

- Quality of the evaluation phase

In order to make the project and its results more sustainable, the group(s) is/are expected to carry out a final evaluation process. The final evaluation should make it possible to assess whether the objectives of the project have been achieved and the expectations of the group(s) and other targeted participants have been met. The evaluation should also highlight the learning outcomes of individuals and promoters involved.

Besides the final evaluation, evaluation sessions before, during and after the Activity are encouraged to ensure the smooth running of the Activity. Evaluation before the Activity should enable the group(s) to fine-tune the project's design, while ongoing evaluation sessions are important in order to receive feedback from those involved in the Youth Initiative and to adapt the Activity accordingly.

- Quality of the partnership/active involvement of all promoters in the project (Only for Transnational Youth Initiatives)

Smooth and efficient cooperation between promoters is a vital element for the successful development of a project. Promoters must demonstrate the ability to establish and run a cohesive partnership with active involvement of all partners and with common goals to be achieved. In this respect, the following factors should be taken into consideration: the level of networking, cooperation and commitment of each promoter in the project; a clear and commonly agreed definition of roles and tasks of each promoter involved in the project; the capacity of the partnership to ensure effective implementation follow-up and dissemination of the results achieved through the Activity. Promoters are strongly recommended to sign an internal partnership agreement amongst them; such agreement would have the purpose of clearly defining responsibilities, tasks and financial contribution of all parties involved in the project.

Quality of project content and methodology

- Theme of the project

The project should have a clearly identified thematic, which members of the group(s) wish to explore together. The chosen theme should be agreed together and should reflect the interests and needs of participants. Some examples of potential project themes are art and culture, social exclusion, environment, heritage protection, youth information, European awareness, rural/urban development, youth policies, health, measures against delinquency, anti-racism/xenophobia, disability support for the elderly people, homelessness, migrants, equal opportunities, peer education, unemployment, youth sports, youth leisure, media and communications, etc. The theme has to be translated into the concrete daily activities of the Youth Initiative.

- Innovative creativity and entrepreneurship

Within the context of a Youth Initiative the accent is put on promotion of innovative elements in the project. These innovative aspects may be related to the content and objectives of the Activity, the involvement of promoters from different backgrounds, creative and unexplored way of solving problems related to local community, experimentation with new methodologies and project formats or dissemination of the project results. Youth Initiatives can contribute to entrepreneurship education as they are particularly suitable for promoting and developing entrepreneurial skills among young people; they enable them to try out ideas and turn them into action, take initiative and responsibility, meeting unexpected situation and finding solutions for them, trying out innovative and creative measures. The experimental way of learning can increase their employability in a real labour/free market situation. Youth Initiatives can also lead to the setting up of associations, NGOs or other bodies active in the area of social economy, no-profit and youth sectors.

- Active involvement of participants in the project
The Activity programme and working methods should aim to involve the members of the group(s) and all other people possibly identified as target of the Activity as much as possible. Participants also should be actively involved in the preparation, implementation and evaluation phases of the project have the influence on its design and responsibility for its implementation. Young people should be able to explore different topics on an equal basis, regardless of their language abilities or other skills.
- Promotion of social and personal development of participants
The project should enable the members of the group(s) and other participants to acquire self-confidence when they are confronted with new experiences, attitudes and behaviour; to acquire or cultivate skills, attitudes and knowledge contributing to social or personal development. Promoters should pay attention to learning processes triggered during each phase of the project.
- European dimension
The Youth Initiatives, both National and Transnational, should contribute to the young people's education process and increase their awareness of the European/international context in which they live. The European dimension of a project could be reflected by the following characteristics:
 - the project fosters young people's sense of European citizenship and helps them to understand their role as part of the present and future Europe
 - the project reflects a common concern for issues within European society, such as racism, xenophobia, anti-Semitism, drug abuse and explicitly leaves room and space in the project's activities to develop the European context in addition to possible local and/or national context of the issue
 - the project's theme is linked to EU topics, such as the EU enlargement, the roles and activities of the European institutions, the EU's action in matters affecting young people
 - the project debates the founding principles of the EU, i.e. the principles of liberty, democracy, respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms, and the rule of law.
- Intercultural dimension (notably for Transnational Youth Initiatives)
The Youth Initiatives should increase young people's positive awareness of other cultures and support dialogue and intercultural encounters with other young people from different backgrounds and cultures. It should also help to prevent and combat prejudice, racism and all attitudes leading to social exclusion and to develop sense of tolerance and understanding of diversity.

Quality and visibility of project reach

- Impact, multiplying effect and follow-up
The impact of a Youth Initiative should not be limited to the participants in the Activity. Promoters should try, as much as possible, to involve other people (from the neighbourhood, local area, etc.) in the Activity.

The project should be framed within a longer-term perspective, and planned with a view to achieve a multiplying effect and sustainable impact. Multiplication is obtained for instance by convincing other actors to use the results of the Youth Initiative in a new context. Promoters should identify possible target groups that could act as multipliers (young people, youth workers, media, political leaders, and opinion leaders, EU decision makers) in order to spread project's objectives and results. An important dimension of the project's impact relates to its learning outcomes: learning happens in a Youth Initiative at different levels and for all actors involved. As an example, participants gain new competences, such as social and civic competences and skills related to their professional development (moreover, promoters and local communities build capacities and develop their networks in Europe). With this regard, promoters should put in place measures which make the project's learning outcomes visible. For recognising and validating these learning outcomes it is recommended to use Youthpass and the related learning process reflection.

Furthermore, promoters are asked to reflect systematically upon possible measures to ensure a possible follow-up of the Youth Initiative. How can discussion on the thematic concept be continued and what could the next steps be? Could a National Youth Initiative be extended to a Transnational Youth Initiative with international partners? Will it be feasible to plan and carry out new projects under different Actions of the Youth in Action Programme?

- Visibility of the project/ visibility of Youth in Action Programme
Promoters should reflect together on measures aimed at enhancing the visibility of their project and the visibility of the Youth in Action Programme in general. The creativity of promoters offers additional potential for spreading information about the planned Activity, as well as about the opportunities offered by the Youth in Action Programme. Visibility measures mainly occur before and during the implementation of the Youth Initiative. Such measures can be divided into two broad categories:

- Visibility of the project
Promoters and participants should "publicise" the project - as well as its aims and objectives - and spread the "youth message" throughout the implementation of their project. In order to raise awareness of the project they could for example develop information material; do a mail shot or SMS mailing; prepare posters, stickers, promotional items (t-shirts, caps, pens, etc.); invite journalists to observe; issue press releases or write articles for local papers, websites or newsletters; create an e-group, a web space, a photo-gallery or blog on the Internet, etc.
- Visibility of the Youth in Action Programme
As well as the compulsory use of the official logo of the Youth in Action Programme (please consult Part C of this Guide), each project should also act as "multiplier" of the Youth in Action Programme in order to increase awareness about the opportunities offered by the Programme to young people and youth workers in Europe and beyond. Promoters are invited to include information about the Programme (for instance, information on the Programme Actions, or its objectives and important features, target groups, etc.) in all measures undertaken to increase visibility of the project (see examples above). Promoters could include information sessions or workshops in the Activity programme of the Youth Initiatives. They could also plan participation in events (seminar, conferences, debates) organised at different levels (local, regional, national, international).

- Dissemination and exploitation of results

Each promoter should put in place measures to disseminate and exploit the results of the Youth Initiative, including its learning outcomes for the benefit of all actors involved. Dissemination and exploitation measures may have the same format as visibility measures indicated in the section above; the main difference is that dissemination and exploitation measures focus on a project's results, rather than its Activity and objectives. For this reason, dissemination and exploitation measures occur mainly after the Youth Initiative has taken place. Examples of dissemination and exploitation measures are organising public events (presentations, conferences, workshops...); creating audio-visual products (CD-Rom, DVD...); setting up long-term collaboration with media (series of radio/TV/press contributions, interviews, participation in different radio/TV programmes...); developing information material (newsletters, brochures, booklets, best practice manuals...); creating an Internet portal, etc.

Action 1.3 - Youth Democracy Projects

Objectives

This sub-Action supports young people's participation in democratic life. It aims to encourage the active participation of young people in the life of their local, regional or national community or at international level.

Youth Democracy Projects enable young people to learn about democratic processes and become active citizens in their local communities or at European level. They learn to critically analyse political or social issues, and to make their voices heard. The projects allow them to try out ways of influencing the reality they live in and to make the world a better place.

What is a Youth Democracy Project?

A Youth Democracy Project is developed by a European partnership, allowing the pooling, at European level, of ideas, experiences and methodologies from projects or activities at local, regional, national or European level, in order to improve young people's participation.

A Youth Democracy Project has three phases:

- planning and preparation
- implementation of the Activity
- evaluation (including reflection on a possible follow-up).

Non-formal learning principles and practice are reflected throughout the project.

Some examples of Activities implemented within a Youth Democracy Project are:

- the creation of networks for the exchange, development and dissemination of good practice in the field of youth and participation
- consultations by and of young people, with a view to find out their needs and wishes on matters relating to participation in democratic life
- information events or seminars or debates for young people centred around the mechanisms of representative democracy at all levels, including the functioning of the EU institutions and the EU policies
- meetings between young people and decision-makers or experts in the field of participation in democratic life and democratic institutions
- events simulating the functioning of the democratic institutions and the roles of decision-makers
- a series or combination of the above activities, which may be carried out at different levels (local, regional, national, international) within the time-frame of the project.

What a Youth Democracy Project is not

The following activities in particular are NOT eligible for grants under Youth Democracy Projects:

- statutory meetings of organisations
- political gatherings
- Youth Exchanges
- Youth Initiatives.

What else should you know about a Youth Democracy project?

Participation of decision-makers/experts in a Youth Democracy Project

If the project foresees the participation of decision-makers/experts in the Activity, none of the costs directly related to their participation (travel, food, accommodation, visa, special needs, etc.) can be covered by the Youth in Action grant. Such costs should be covered through other sources of financial contribution to the project (promoters' own resources, and/or national, regional, local or private assistance).

Independent promoters

In the context of a Youth Democracy Project, although promoters can be affiliated to each other or to a common network, each promoter must not depend upon another promoter for deciding, implementing or financing its operation.

Example of a Youth Democracy Project

The municipalities of Mynämäki and Lieto in Finland and two youth groups from the municipality of Kjøllefjord in Norway carry out a youth democracy project in both countries. The project will be organised by the core group of 16 young people and supported by youth professionals with expertise in the decision-making structures. The young people are mostly aged 15-17, few of them active in local youth councils. They all come from small and remote communities. The aim of the project is to find out about decision-making systems and to bring young people and decision-makers closer together. As a concrete measure, the young people build a Dream Village with its own ideal decision-making structures. They link the created theoretical structures with European Citizenship and look for the European identity of young people. The groups simulate decision-making in municipal councils, and will examine representative democracy at work. Through national and joint seminars the young people will produce a motion that aims to enhance young people's participation in decision-making. Throughout its duration the project is followed by mentor politicians who will present young people's opinions in their own decision-making structures. A mentor journalist will also follow the progress of the initiative and write articles about it.

What are the funding rules?

If the project is selected, the following funding rules will apply to the grant:

Eligible costs		Financing mechanism	Amount	Rule of allocation	Reporting obligations
Activity costs	Eligible direct costs <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Travel costs (economy class flight ticket, 2nd class train ticket) - Accommodation/food costs - Organisation of seminars, meetings, consultations, activities - Publications/translations / information costs - Dissemination and exploitation of results - Other costs directly linked to the implementation of the project Eligible indirect costs A flat rate amount, not exceeding 7% of the eligible direct costs of the project, is eligible under indirect costs, representing the beneficiary's general administrative costs which can be regarded as chargeable to the project (e.g. electricity or internet bills, costs for premises, cost of permanent staff etc.)	Percentage of actual costs	75% of the total eligible costs (unless a lower % of grant is requested by the applicant) Maximum € 50 000	Conditional: objectives and Activity programme must be clearly outlined in the application form	Full justification of the costs incurred, copy of invoices/receipts/travel (only for direct costs). Achievements to be described in final report . Original signature list of all participants.

How to develop a good project?

The "Award criteria" table in this sub-Action lists the criteria against which the quality of a project will be assessed. Here are some advices which may help you to develop a good project.

Quality of project design

- Quality of the partnership/active involvement of all promoters in the project

Smooth and efficient cooperation between promoters is a vital element for the successful development of a project. Promoters must demonstrate the ability to establish and run a cohesive partnership with active involvement of all partners and with common goals to be achieved. In this respect, the following factors should be taken into consideration: the level of networking, cooperation and commitment of each promoter in the project; the profile and background of promoters when the nature or target of the Activity would necessitate the possession of certain qualifications; a clear and commonly agreed definition of roles and tasks of each promoter involved in the project; the capacity of the partnership to ensure effective implementation, follow-up and dissemination of the results achieved through the Activity. Promoters are strongly recommended to sign an internal partnership agreement amongst them; such agreement would have the purpose of clearly defining responsibilities, tasks and financial contribution of all parties involved in the project.

The setting-up of a partnership composed of promoters having different profiles (e.g. involving local authorities together with non-governmental organisations) may facilitate the implementation of the Activity (notably when the Activity aims to ensure interaction between young people and decision-makers).

- Quality of the preparation phase

The preparation phase is of crucial importance for the success of a Youth Democracy Project. During this phase, the promoters should agree on the common theme of the Youth Democracy Project. They should reflect on division of tasks, Activity programme, working methods, profile of participants, practical arrangements (venue, transfers, accommodations, support material, linguistic support). The preparation phase should furthermore enhance the participants' involvement in the Youth Democracy Project and prepare them for intercultural encounters with other young people from different backgrounds and cultures.

- Quality of Activity programme

The Activity programme should be clearly defined, realistic, balanced and linked to the objectives of the project and of the Youth in Action Programme. It should provide learning opportunities for the participants in manifold ways and provide place for reflecting on learning experiences and outcomes.

- Quality of the evaluation phase

In order to make the project and its results more sustainable, promoters and participants are expected to include a final evaluation process. The final evaluation should make it possible to assess whether the objectives of the project have been achieved and the expectations of the promoters and participants have been met. The evaluation should also highlight the learning outcomes of individuals and promoters involved.

Besides the final evaluation, evaluation sessions before, during and after the Activity are encouraged to ensure the smooth running of the Activity. Evaluation before the Activity should enable promoters to fine-tune the project's design, while ongoing evaluation sessions are important in order to receive feedback from participants and to adapt the Activity programme accordingly.

- Quality of measures ensuring protection and safety of participants

Notwithstanding the obligations concerning policy insurance for all participants and parental authorisation for participants under 18 years old (please consult Part A of this Guide), during the planning and preparation phase of the project, promoters should address the issue of protection and safety of participants and focus on the legislation, policy and practice which may differ from one country to another. The promoters will make sure that issues of risk and young person protection are addressed in the project. A sufficient number of group leaders must be present in order to enable young people to share their learning experience in a reasonably safe and protected environment. When both genders are participating in a project the group of leaders will preferably be of both genders. It is advisable to have in place emergency procedures (e.g. 24/7 contact details for host and home country, emergency fund, back up plan, medical kit, at least one leader who has first aid training, emergency services contacts, disclosure procedure...). It is also useful to settle a common "code of behaviour" which will help both, group leaders and participants, to respect commonly agreed standards of behaviour (e.g. use of alcohol, tobacco ...). At the same time leaders are encouraged to have a common understanding and position on certain issues - particularly in emergency situations. Further practical information and checklists can be found in the Guidelines on Risk and Young Person Protection (please consult Annex III of this Guide).

Quality of project's content and methodology

- Theme of common interest and relevance to the group of participants
The project should have a clear thematic concept, which promoters wish to explore together. The chosen theme should be agreed together and should reflect interests and needs of participants. The theme has to be translated into the concrete daily activities of the Youth Democracy Project.
- Non-formal learning methods applied
The project should lead to the acquisition/improvement of competences (knowledge, skills and attitudes) leading to the personal, socio-educational and professional development of all participants and promoters involved. This will be achieved through non-formal and informal learning. A variety of non-formal learning methods and techniques may be applied (workshops, role plays, outdoor activities, ice-breakers, round-tables, etc.) in order to address the different needs of participants and desired outcomes. The project should be based on a learning process stimulating creativity, active participation and initiative (entrepreneurial spirit). Such learning process should be planned and analysed throughout the project: participants should be provided with a place for reflection on learning experiences and outcomes.
- Active involvement of participants in the project
To the maximum possible extent, participants should play an active role in the implementation of the project: the Activity programme and working methods applied should involve the participants as much as possible and trigger a learning process. Participants also should be actively involved in the preparation and evaluation phases of the project. Young people should be able to explore different topics on an equal basis, regardless of their language abilities or other skills.
- Promotion of social and personal development of participants
The project should enable the participants to acquire self-confidence when they are confronted with new experiences, attitudes and behaviour; to acquire or cultivate skills, competences and knowledge contributing to social or personal development. Promoters should pay attention to learning processes triggered during each phase of the project.
- Intercultural dimension
The Youth Democracy Project should increase young people's positive awareness of other cultures and support dialogue and intercultural encounters with other young people from different backgrounds and cultures. It should also help to prevent and combat prejudice, racism and all attitudes leading to social exclusion and to develop sense of tolerance and understanding of diversity.
- European dimension
The Youth Democracy Project should contribute to the young people's education process and increase their awareness of the European/international context in which they live. The European dimension of a project could be reflected by the following characteristics:
 - the project fosters young people's sense of European citizenship and helps them to understand their role as part of the present and future Europe
 - the project reflects a common concern for issues within European society, such as racism, xenophobia, anti-Semitism, drug abuse
 - the project's theme is linked to EU topics, such as the EU enlargement, the roles and activities of the European institutions, the EU's action in matters affecting young people
 - the project debates the founding principles of the EU, i.e. the principles of liberty, democracy, respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms, and the rule of law.

Quality and visibility of project reach

- Impact, multiplying effect and follow-up
The impact of a Youth Democracy Project should not just be limited to the participants in the Activity. Promoters should try, as much as possible, to involve other people (from the neighbourhood, local area, etc.) in the project activities.

The project should be framed within a longer-term perspective, and planned with a view to achieve a multiplying effect and sustainable impact. Multiplication is obtained for instance by convincing other actors to use the results of the Youth Democracy Project in a new context. Promoters should identify possible target groups that could act as multipliers (young people, youth workers, media, political leaders, and opinion leaders, EU decision makers) in order to spread project's objectives and results. An important dimension of the project's impact relates to its learning outcomes: learning happens in a Youth Democracy Project at different levels and for all actors involved. As an example, participants gain new competences, such as social and civic competences and skills related to their professional development (moreover, promoters and local communities build capacities and develop their networks in Europe). With this regard, promoters should put in place measures which make the project's learning outcomes visible. For recognising and validating these learning outcomes it is recommended to use approaches that stimulate learning process reflection (the Youthpass approach can provide models and inspiration).

Furthermore, promoters and participants are called to reflect systematically upon possible measures to ensure a follow-up of the Youth Democracy Project. Will the event be repeated? Could a new promoter be involved in a new Youth Democracy Project? How can discussion on the thematic concept be continued and what could the next steps be? Will it be feasible to plan and carry out new projects under different Actions of the Youth in Action Programme?

- Visibility of the project/visibility of Youth in Action Programme

Promoters should commonly reflect on measures aimed at enhancing the visibility of their project and the visibility of the Youth in Action Programme in general. The creativity of promoters and participants offers additional potential for spreading information about the planned Activity, as well as the opportunities offered by the Youth in Action Programme. Visibility measures mainly occur before and during the implementation of the Youth Democracy Project. Such measures can be divided into two broad categories:

- Visibility of the project

Promoters and participants should "publicise" the project - as well as its aims and objectives - and spread the "youth message" throughout the implementation of their project. In order to raise awareness of the project they could for example develop information material; do a mail shot or SMS mailing; prepare posters, stickers, promotional items (t-shirts, caps, pens, etc.); invite journalists to observe; issue press releases or write articles for local papers, websites or newsletters; create an e-group, a web space, a photo-gallery or blog on the Internet, etc.

- Visibility of the Youth in Action Programme

As well as the compulsory use of the official logo of the Youth in Action Programme (please consult Part C of this Guide), each project should also act as "multiplier" of the Youth in Action Programme in order to increase awareness about the opportunities offered by the Programme to young people and youth workers in Europe and beyond. Promoters are invited to include information about the Programme (for instance, information on the Programme Actions, or its objectives and important features, target groups, etc.) in all measures undertaken to increase visibility of the project (see examples above). Promoters could include information sessions or workshops in the Activity programme of the Youth Democracy Project. They could also plan participation in events (seminar, conferences, debates) organised at different levels (local, regional, national, international).

- Dissemination and exploitation of results

Each promoter should put in place measures to disseminate and exploit the results of the Youth Democracy Project, including its learning outcomes for the benefit of all actors involved. Dissemination and exploitation measures may have the same format of visibility measures indicated in the section above; the main difference is that dissemination and exploitation measures focus on project's results, rather than its Activity and objectives. For this reason, dissemination and exploitation measures occur mainly after the Youth Democracy Project has taken place. Dissemination and exploitation measures are organising public events (presentations, conferences, workshops...); creating audio-visual products (CD-Rom, DVD...); setting up long-term collaboration with media (series of radio/TV/press contributions, interviews, participation in different radio/TV programmes...); developing information material (newsletters, brochures, booklets, best practice manuals...); creating an Internet portal, etc.

Action 2 - European Voluntary Service

Objectives

The aim of the European Voluntary Service (EVS) is to develop solidarity and promote active citizenship and mutual understanding among young people.

What is a European Voluntary Service project?

The European Voluntary Service enables young people to carry out voluntary service for up to 12 months in a country other than their country of residence. It fosters solidarity among young people and is a true "learning service". Beyond benefiting local communities, volunteers learn new skills and languages, and discover other cultures. Non-formal learning principles and practice are reflected throughout the project.

An EVS project has three phases:

- planning and preparation
- implementation
- evaluation (including reflection on a possible follow-up).

An EVS project can focus on a variety of themes and areas, such as culture, youth, sports, social care, cultural heritage, arts, civil protection, environment, development cooperation, etc. High-risk interventions in immediate post-crisis situations (e.g. humanitarian aid, immediate disaster relief, etc.) are excluded.

An EVS project has three essential components:

- the Service: the volunteer(s) is/are hosted by a promoter in a country other than their country of residence and carry out voluntary service for the benefit of the local community. The service is unpaid, non profit-making and full-time. An EVS project can include between 1 and 30 volunteers who can do their Service either individually or in a (or several) group(s). For any given group, volunteers carry out their Service in the same time-frame and the tasks they carry out are linked to a common thematic.

Ongoing volunteer support: the promoters must provide personal, task-related, linguistic and administrative support to each volunteer involved in the project. For further information, please consult section "What else should you know about EVS?" under this Action.

EVS Training and Evaluation Cycle: besides the support provided to the volunteers by the promoters involved in the project, the National Agencies or regional SALTOs organise the following Training and Evaluation sessions to be attended by each volunteer:

- on-arrival training
- mid-term evaluation (for a Service lasting more than 6 months).

For further information on the EVS Training and Evaluation Cycle, please consult section "What else should you know about EVS?" under this Action.

What is the role of promoters in an EVS project?

Promoters involved in the EVS project perform the following roles and tasks:

- Coordinating Organisation (CO): the CO assumes the role of applicant and carries the financial and administrative responsibility for the entire project vis-à-vis the National or Executive Agency. The CO doesn't necessarily have to be an SO or HO in the project (although it may be). In EVS projects involving only one volunteer, either the SO or the HO is CO. There can be only one CO in an EVS project.
- Sending Organisation (SO): an SO recruits and sends one or more volunteers. There can be one or more SOs in an EVS project.
- Host Organisation (HO): an HO receives one or more volunteers. There can be one or more HOs in an EVS project.

The EVS Charter

The EVS Charter is part of the Youth in Action Programme Guide and highlights the roles of each promoter in an EVS project, as well as the main principles and quality standards of EVS. Each EVS promoter must adhere to the provisions set out in this Charter.

Promoters decide together - in line with this Charter - how to share tasks and responsibilities and the grant of the EVS Project.

For more information on the EVS Charter, please consult section "What else should you know about EVS?" under this Action.

What EVS is not

- occasional, unstructured, part-time volunteering
- an internship in an enterprise
- a paid job; it must not replace paid jobs
- a recreation or tourist activity
- a language course
- exploitation of a cheap workforce
- a period of study or vocational training abroad.

Eastern Partnership Youth Window

Following the adoption of the Joint Communication "A New Response to a Changing Neighbourhood – A review of European Neighbourhood Policy" in May 2011¹⁰, additional funds will be available over the period 2012-2013 in order to increase the number of Youth in Action projects and participants from the six Neighbouring Partner Countries of the Eastern Partnership (Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Georgia, Moldova and Ukraine), under the name "Eastern Partnership Youth Window".

The window will concern the following actions:

- European Voluntary Service (Action 2)
- Cooperation with the Neighbouring Partner Countries of the EU (sub-Action 3.1).

Specific priorities

In addition to the permanent and annual priorities of the Youth in Action Programme, projects to be funded under the Eastern Partnership Youth Window shall also take into account certain specific priorities of the Window.

Priority in awarding grants under this Window will be given to:

- projects demonstrating a clear commitment to provide support to young people with fewer opportunities living in rural or deprived urban areas
- projects raising awareness about the nature of youth work
- projects promoting the sharing of best practices in the sphere of youth work.

Eligibility, Exclusion and Selection Criteria

European Voluntary Service projects to be funded under this Window will be subject to the same eligibility, exclusion and selection criteria used to assess an EVS project, with in addition the specific eligibility criterion described below:

Eligible promoters	Each promoter must be from a Programme Country or a Neighbouring Partner Country of the Eastern Partnership (Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Georgia, Moldova and Ukraine) and must be accredited.

What else should you know about EVS

What are the tasks and responsibilities of promoters involved in EVS?

This section suggests how the roles and tasks of promoters involved in EVS could be shared (in some cases these roles must be compulsorily performed by a given promoter). The EVS Charter included in this Programme Guide describes the role of EVS promoters acting as Sending, Host or Coordinating Organisation and defines the main principles of EVS and the minimum quality standards that must be respected within an EVS project.

Coordinating Organisation
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Submits the application and bears the financial and administrative responsibility for the entire project towards the National Agency or the Executive Agency ▪ coordinates the project in cooperation with all Sending and Hosting Organisations ▪ distributes the EVS grant between all Sending and Host Organisations ▪ ensures that the volunteer(s) attend(s) the full EVS Training and Evaluation Cycle ▪ provides support to the volunteer(s) it places in the Host Organisation(s) ▪ carries out all or some of the administrative tasks of the Sending or Host Organisation(s) involved in the project ▪ ensures, with the Sending and Host Organisations, that each volunteer is covered by the obligatory EVS group Insurance plan foreseen in the Youth in Action Programme ▪ arranges with the Sending and Host Organisations a visa for the volunteer(s) who need it. The National/Executive Agencies can issue visa support letters, if needed ▪ provides support for the learning/Youthpass process. Completes, with the Sending, Host Organisation and the volunteer, and issues, a Youthpass Certificate for those volunteers who want to receive it at the end of their EVS.

Sending Organisation
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Preparation <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - helps the volunteer(s) to find and contact a Host Organisation - provides adequate preparation for the volunteer(s) before departure, according to the individual needs and learning opportunities of the volunteer(s) and in line with the Volunteer Training: Guidelines and Minimum Quality Standards of the European Commission (see: http://ec.europa.eu/youth/youth-in-action-programme/doc405_en.htm) - ensures the participation of the volunteer(s) in the pre-departure session, if organised by the NA or a SALTO. ▪ Contact during the voluntary service <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - keeps in contact with the volunteer(s) and with the Host Organisation(s) during the project. ▪ Upon volunteer's return <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - provides support to volunteer(s) to help reintegrate them into their home community - gives volunteers the opportunity to exchange and share experiences and learning outcomes - encourages the involvement of the volunteer(s) in dissemination and exploitation of results and learning outcomes - provides guidance regarding further education, training or employment opportunities - ensures the participation of the volunteers in the annual EVS event organised by the National Agency in their country.

Host Organisation

- Mentor
 - identifies a mentor who is responsible for providing personal support and support during the learning/Youthpass process to the volunteer(s).
- Task-related support
 - offers supervision and guidance to the volunteer(s) through experienced staff.
- Personal support
 - provides personal support and support during the learning/Youthpass process to volunteer(s)
 - gives the volunteer(s) the opportunity to integrate into the local community, to meet other young people, to socialise, to participate in leisure activities, etc.
 - encourages contact with other EVS volunteers whenever possible.
- EVS Training and Evaluation cycle and language support
 - ensures the participation of the volunteer(s) in the on-arrival training and mid-term evaluation
 - arranges language learning opportunities.
- Principles of the Service
 - ensuring universal accessibility to EVS: Host Organisations cannot specify that volunteer(s) should be of a specific ethnic group, religion, sexual orientation, political opinion, etc.; neither can they require qualifications or a certain educational level in order to select the volunteer(s)
 - offering to the volunteer(s) the opportunity to carry out a well-defined set of tasks, allowing some of the volunteer's ideas, creativity and experience to be integrated
 - identifying clear learning opportunities for the volunteer(s).
- Accommodation and food
 - providing suitable accommodation and meals (or a food allowance, covering also the holiday period) to the volunteer(s).
- Local transport
 - ensuring that means of local transport are available for the volunteer(s).
- Allowance
 - giving the due allowance to the volunteer(s) on a weekly or monthly basis.

What training and evaluation events must the EVS volunteer attend?

On-arrival training

On-arrival training takes place upon arrival in the host country. It introduces volunteers to their host country and their host environment, helps them to get to know each other and supports them to create an environment that support learning and realising own project ideas. Duration is on average seven days.

Mid-term evaluation (only for Services lasting more than 6 months)

Mid-term evaluation provides volunteers with an opportunity to evaluate and reflect on their experience so far, as well as to meet other volunteers from different projects throughout the host country. Duration is on average two and a half days.

Who organises the EVS Training and Evaluation cycle?

EVS volunteers have the right and obligation to participate in these training and evaluation sessions. Responsibility for organising the EVS Training and Evaluation Cycle depends on where the events are to take place.

In Programme Countries the training/evaluation is organised by the National Agencies (including for those volunteers selected in projects approved by the Executive Agency).

In South East Europe (SEE) and Eastern Europe and Caucasus (EECA) the training/evaluation is organised respectively by SALTO SEE and SALTO EECA Resource Centres (including for those volunteers selected in projects approved by the Executive Agency).

As soon as the acceptance of the projects selected by National or Executive Agency has been notified, the coordinating organisations should immediately contact the relevant National Agencies or the SALTO Resource Centre in order to allow those structures to organise the Training and Evaluation sessions for the volunteers involved in their project.

The granting Agency (National or Executive) may, exceptionally, grant funds to a beneficiary to organise itself all or some of the Training and Evaluation sessions relating to their project, if there is a particular situation duly justified in the application form. In these cases, the EU contribution to carry out the training/evaluation sessions must be requested by the applicant in its application form and must be in line with the funding rules indicated in this Guide.

In any case, beneficiaries are always encouraged to provide additional training and evaluation opportunities to the volunteers, even if no specific fund has been allocated within the project grant.

In all other Partner Countries the training is organised by EVS Sending, Host or Coordinating organisations in line with the Volunteer Training: Guidelines and Minimum Quality Standards of the European Commission (http://ec.europa.eu/youth/documents/evs_vol_training_minimum_standards.pdf). Financial support is provided to beneficiaries that organise these sessions (see funding rules); the additional financial support must be requested in the application form.

All relevant providers of training and evaluation activities in EVS should provide information on Youthpass.

What additional training and evaluation is to be provided to EVS volunteers?

Pre-departure training

Pre-departure training is the responsibility of the EVS promoters (usually the Sending Organisation or the Coordinating Organisation) and gives volunteers an opportunity to talk about their expectations, develop their motivation and learning objectives, and obtain information on their host country and on the Youth in Action Programme. In addition, the National Agencies (or SALTO SEE and EECA) may organise a one-day pre-departure training aimed at establishing contacts with the outgoing volunteers.

Annual EVS event

All current and former EVS volunteers are strongly encouraged to take part in the annual EVS event organised by the National Agencies in the sending country (or SALTO SEE and EECA in the respective regions). This event serves as an evaluation meeting, "alumni" meeting and promotion event. Duration is 1-2 days.

What is accreditation of EVS promoters?

Accreditation serves to gain access to EVS and to ensure that the minimum quality standards of EVS are met.

Who?

Any promoter from a Programme Country, from South East Europe or from Eastern Europe and Caucasus wishing to send or host EVS volunteers or to coordinate an EVS project must be accredited. Promoters outside the Programme Countries and South East Europe / Eastern Europe and Caucasus can participate in EVS projects without accreditation.

How?

To be accredited, a promoter must submit an Expression of Interest form (EI) describing their general motivation and ideas for EVS activities (see Commission's webpage http://ec.europa.eu/youth/yia/forms/forms_yia_en.html). This form must be submitted to the relevant bodies responsible for accreditation (see below). The same promoter may request one or more types of accreditation (as Sending, as Host, as Coordinating Organisation).

When?

Expression of Interest forms can be submitted at any time (no deadline). However, requests should be submitted within reasonable time before the submission of the EVS project application (at least 6 weeks before) in order to avoid that the EVS project is rejected due to some of the promoters involved not being accredited by the time the application is submitted.

By whom?

Accreditation is carried out by:

- the Executive Agency: for promoters that are a) a body active at European level in the youth field; or b) an international governmental organisation or c) a profit-making organisation organising an event in the area of youth, sport or culture
- the National Agency of the country of the promoter, for all other project promoters located in Programme Countries
- SALTO SEE for all other project promoters located in South East Europe
- SALTO EECA for all other project promoters located in Eastern Europe and Caucasus.

Note: The EI form must be completed in English.

What's next?

Ideally, the assessment of the EI and the accreditation process are carried out within six weeks after receipt of the EI. In the case of approval, the responsible bodies will assign an EI reference number and communicate it to the promoter; this number must be mentioned in any application form relating to EVS projects the promoter is involved in.

The accreditation is valid for the period indicated in the EI; however, the maximum eligible duration is three years. After the expiration of the validity period, the accreditation can be renewed by submitting a new EI.

Training for EVS promoters, organised in their country or at European level, should be followed by newly accredited organisations in a reasonable time after accreditation.

All promoters must apply the principles of the EVS Charter at all stages of the project; this is a basis for accreditation. The responsible structures may withdraw the accreditation at any time where there is non-compliance with the EVS Charter.

In order to facilitate partner-finding, project descriptions and profiles of all accredited promoters are published in a database of European Voluntary Service promoters. Promoters who are not willing to host volunteers for long periods are encouraged to notify the Agency that accredited them in order to be temporarily made invisible in the database during periods when they are not seeking EVS partnerships or volunteers. The database can be consulted at: http://ec.europa.eu/youth/program/sos/hei/hei_en.cfm.

How is the volunteer selection process carried out?

Volunteers are chosen regardless of their ethnic group, religion, sexual orientation, political opinion, etc. No previous qualifications, educational level, specific experience or more than basic language knowledge should be required. A more specific profile of the volunteer might be drawn up if justified by the nature of the tasks of the Service or by the project context but even in this case selection on the basis of professional or education qualifications is excluded.

EVS Insurance

Every EVS volunteer must be enrolled into the Group Insurance Plan for EVS volunteers foreseen by the Youth in Action Programme, which complements the coverage by national social security systems - if applicable.

The Coordinating Organisation, in cooperation with the Sending and Host Organisations, is responsible for the enrolment of the volunteer(s). This enrolment must be done before the departure of the volunteer(s) and cover the duration of the Service.

An insurance Guide including all the information on the coverage and support provided, as well as instructions on the online enrolment process, is available at www.europeanbenefits.com.

Youthpass

Every person who has taken part in EVS is entitled to receive a Youthpass Certificate, which describes and validates the non-formal and informal learning experience and outcomes acquired during the project (learning outcomes). Furthermore, Youthpass is to be considered as a process of becoming aware, reflecting on and documenting the learning within the different phases of the project. For more information on Youthpass, please consult Part A of this Guide as well as the Youthpass guide and further relevant material presented at www.youthpass.eu.

What support is available?

Within the European Voluntary Service, quality and technical support to young people and promoters is provided by National Agencies at national level, and by the Education, Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency at European level.

The core service consists of helping, on request, with the identification of volunteers and EVS Sending, Host and Coordinating Organisations and supporting the matching of volunteer and organisation based on mutual interests, profiles and expectations.

This is mainly intended to help those who want to get involved in EVS, but do not yet have the necessary European or international contacts. In this context, the Internet database of accredited EVS organisations can also be of great help: http://ec.europa.eu/youth/program/sos/hei/hei_en.cfm.

Other services may also be available. Please contact your National Agency or the Executive Agency to find out more.

Furthermore, once the project is selected, additional support can be given by the Executive Agency, which provides assistance to volunteers participating in an EVS project in crisis/risk situations and assists in visa issues: eacea-p6@ec.europa.eu.

Examples of EVS projects

EVS Project involving 1 volunteer

An Italian promoter coordinates the project and submits one grant application to the Italian National Agency. The project involves one German volunteer doing a 7 months Service. The volunteer is hosted by the same Italian promoter and sent by a German promoter. Composition: 1 Sending Organisation (DE), 1 Host Organisation, also Coordinating Organisation (IT), and 1 volunteer.

EVS Project involving several volunteers carrying out their Service individually

How is the EU funding shared among project promoters?

Projects supported under European Voluntary Service are transnational and based on the cooperation among two or more promoters.

Among the promoters of a project, the applicant plays a major administrative role; it submits the application form on behalf of all the partners and, if the project is approved:

- bears the financial and legal responsibility for the entire project towards the granting Agency
- coordinates the project in cooperation with all other partner promoters involved
- receives the EU Youth in Action financial support.

However, as regards the implementation of the project, all partners are responsible for carrying out tasks. It is therefore essential that the applicant promoter distributes the EU Youth in Action grant to each of the project promoters in proportion to the tasks they have to carry out.

For this reason, the Commission strongly recommends that all promoters involved in a Youth in Action project sign an internal partnership agreement among them; such an agreement has the purpose of clearly defining responsibilities, tasks and financial contribution for all parties involved in the project.

An internal partnership agreement constitutes a key instrument to ensure a solid partnership among promoters in a Youth in Action project as well as to avoid or manage potential conflicts.

Indicatively, it should contain at least the following information:

- project title and reference of the grant agreement between the applicant promoter and the granting Agency
- names and contacts of all the promoters involved in the project
- role and responsibilities of each promoter
- division of the EU YiA grant (according to the above responsibilities)
- payments and budget transfer modalities among promoters
- name and signature of the representative of each promoter.

Although this practice is strongly recommended to safeguard the interests of each partner in a project, the Commission does not oblige promoters to formalise their relations with partners through a written agreement; nor would such an agreement be requested and overseen by the granting National or Executive Agency.

Moreover, it is up to the project promoters to jointly decide on how the EU grant will be distributed and which costs it will cover. With this regard, the table below aims at providing an indication of how the EU grant could be used to support the main tasks carried out based on past experience:

How to develop a good project?

The "Award criteria" table in this Action lists the criteria against which the quality of a project will be assessed. Here are some advices which may help you to develop a good project.

Quality of project design

- Quality of the partnership/active involvement of all promoters in the project

Smooth and efficient cooperation between the Sending, Host, and Coordinating Organisations and the volunteer is a vital element for the successful development of a project. Promoters must demonstrate the ability to establish and run a cohesive partnership with active involvement of all partners and with common goals to be achieved. In this respect, the following factors should be taken into consideration: the level of networking, cooperation and commitment of each promoter in the project; the profile and background of promoters when the nature or target of the Service would necessitate the possession of certain qualifications; a clear and commonly agreed definition of roles and tasks of each promoter involved in the project; the capacity of the partnership to ensure effective dissemination of the results achieved through the project. Projects linked to a specific event require a solid partnership with the organising body of the event.

- Quality of the volunteer selection process

The general openness of EVS for all young people and the spirit of the Programme are reflected in an accessible and transparent selection process.

- Quality of the preparation phase

The preparation phase is of crucial importance for the success of an EVS. Proper preparation of the implementation of the project together with the volunteer(s) is ensured by the Sending Organisation in cooperation with the Coordinating and Host Organisations and National Agencies. Promoters should reflect on division of responsibilities, timetable, tasks of the volunteer(s), practical arrangements (venue, transfers, accommodation, linguistic support), etc.

Moreover, once the volunteer(s) are identified, frequent contact and exchange of information between the promoters prior to the Service period enables them to fine-tune the project's design according to the profile and motivation of the volunteer(s).

- Quality of the Service and volunteer's tasks

The programme of the Service should be clearly defined, realistic, balanced and linked to the objectives of the project and of the Youth in Action Programme.

Effective matching between tasks and volunteer profiles should be targeted. Their tasks should, as far as possible, reflect their individual abilities, desires and learning expectations. Volunteers should not carry out tasks of professional staff, in order to avoid job substitution and/or excessive responsibility for the volunteers. Routine tasks should also be limited to the maximum extent. The tasks of the volunteers include contact with the local community. EVS volunteers may not carry out tasks which serve to support another EVS project (i.e. may not be responsible for project management or for the selection or training of other EVS volunteers).

- Quality of the support and training offered to the volunteer

Proper support to the volunteer(s) should be provided in all phases of the project. More precisely, each volunteer should receive personal, learning/Youthpass process, task-related, linguistic and administrative support. The personal and the learning/Youthpass process support is reinforced by a Mentor, whereas another experienced person should be in charge of the task-related support.

As EVS involves young volunteers staying in another country for long periods of time, it is of the utmost importance for adequate levels of training to be provided to them at all stages of the project. Each volunteer participates in the EVS training cycle, which consists of pre-departure training, on-arrival training, mid-term evaluation and an annual EVS event. Volunteers should have the opportunity to exchange, share and evaluate the EVS experience. Language training is also provided to the volunteer(s) and included in the regular Service timetable. The format, duration and frequency of linguistic support can vary depending on volunteers' needs and abilities, the tasks and the capability of the organisation.

- Quality of the evaluation phase of the project

In order to make the project and its results more sustainable, promoters and volunteers are expected to include a final evaluation process. The evaluation phase addresses the actual fulfilment of the project. It aims to assess whether the objectives of the project have been achieved and the expectations of the promoters and volunteer(s) have been met.

Besides the final evaluation, evaluation sessions before, during and after the Service are carried out to ensure the smooth running of the project. Regular meetings with the coordinator and the mentor should be organised to receive feedback from the volunteer(s) and to adapt accordingly.

- Quality of risk prevention and crisis management measures

The promoter makes sure that issues of risk prevention and crisis management are addressed in the project. Appropriate mechanisms are foreseen in order to enable young people to make their learning experience in a reasonably safe and protected environment.

- Quality of specific elements foreseen in projects including young people with fewer opportunities

Projects including young people with fewer opportunities should be embedded in a process before and after the actual project and not remain an isolated event. When preparing and implementing these projects, particular emphasis needs to be put on the analysis of the profile and special needs of the young people and a corresponding tailor-made and supportive approach. These projects should consciously include young people with fewer opportunities as active participants.

Advance Planning Visits to the Host Organisation prior to the actual Service are encouraged since they facilitate the establishing of a solid partnership and the active involvement of young people with fewer opportunities.

Reinforced mentorship might be foreseen to increase personal support of volunteers with fewer opportunities on the sending and/or hosting side; it is shared between the Sending and Host Organisations according to their responsibilities.

Quality of project content and methodology

- Compliance with the qualitative criteria of the EVS Charter

The qualitative elements of the EVS Charter are to be developed in the project, as they cover essential aspects such as partnership, the principles of EVS, quality standards measures, information and recognition.

- Active involvement of volunteer(s) in the project

Volunteer(s) should be actively involved in the preparation and evaluation of the Service.

- Promotion of social and personal development of the volunteer(s)

The project should enable the volunteer(s) to acquire self-confidence when confronted with new experiences, attitudes and behaviours; to acquire or cultivate skills, competences and knowledge contributing to social, personal and/or professional development.

The project should also ensure the character of EVS as a "learning service", i.e. providing non-formal and informal learning opportunities to young people. To this end, the expected learning outcomes and learning processes should be described in general terms in the grant application.

Therefore, the number of volunteers carrying out simultaneously their Service in a given Host Organisation should be as low as possible, and be proportionate to the nature of the EVS project, as well as the capacity of the Organisation to offer valuable learning opportunities to several volunteers at the same time.

When several volunteers are doing their Service in a group it is ensured that learning takes place not only on an individual basis, but also in the group. Joint meeting(s) and contacts between the volunteers are foreseen.

- Role of the mentor

The mentor is responsible for providing personal and learning/Youthpass process support to the volunteer(s) and for helping them to integrate into the local community. The mentor has also an important role in discussing the learning achievements with the volunteer at the end of the Service in view of the Youthpass certificate. The volunteer(s) can turn to the mentor in case of problems.

- Intercultural dimension

The EVS should increase young people's positive awareness of other cultures and support dialogue and intercultural encounters with people from different backgrounds and cultures. It should also help to prevent and combat prejudice, racism and all attitudes leading to social exclusion and to develop sense of tolerance and understanding of diversity.
- European dimension

The project should contribute to the young people's education process and increase their awareness of the European/international context in which they live. The European dimension of a project could be reflected by the following characteristics:

 - the project fosters young people's sense of European citizenship and helps them to understand their role as part of the present and future Europe
 - the project reflects a common concern for issues within European society, such as racism, xenophobia, anti-Semitism, drug abuse
 - the project's theme is linked to EU topics, such as the EU enlargement, the roles and activities of the European institutions, the EU's action in matters affecting young people
 - the project debates the founding principles of the EU, i.e. the principles of liberty, democracy, respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms, and the rule of law.

Quality and visibility of project reach

- Impact and multiplying effect

The impact of an EVS project should not be limited just to the volunteer(s), but also bring the concept of Europe to the local communities involved. For this, the Host Organisations should try, as much as possible, to involve other people (from the neighbourhood, local area, etc.) in the project.

The project should be framed within a longer-term perspective, and planned with a view to achieve a multiplying effect and sustainable impact. Multiplication is obtained for instance by convincing other actors to host or send volunteers. Promoters should identify possible target groups that could act as multipliers (young people, youth workers, media, political leaders, opinion leaders, EU decision makers) in order to spread project's objectives and results.

- Visibility of the project/visibility of Youth in Action Programme

Promoters should commonly reflect on measures aimed at enhancing the visibility of their project and the visibility of the Youth in Action Programme in general. The creativity of promoters and volunteers offers additional potential for spreading information about the EVS, the activities of the promoters, as well as the opportunities offered by the Youth in Action Programme. Visibility measures mainly occur before and during the implementation of the EVS. Such measures can be divided in two broad categories:

- Visibility of the project
Promoters and volunteers should "publicise" the project - as well as its aims and objectives - and spread the "youth message" throughout the implementation of their project. In order to raise awareness of the project they could for example: develop information material; do a mail shot or SMS mailing; prepare posters, stickers, promotional items (t-shirts, caps, pens, etc.); invite journalists; issue press releases or write articles for local papers, websites or newsletters; create an e-group, a web space, a photo-gallery or blog on the Internet, etc.
- Visibility of the Youth in Action Programme
First, the organisations and volunteers involved in the project should be made aware of their participation in EVS. Then each EVS project should highlight the grant and provide information on the Youth in Action Programme to the outside world.

As well as the compulsory use of the official logo of the Youth in Action Programme (please consult Part C of this Guide), each project should also act as "multiplier" of the Youth in Action Programme in order to increase awareness about the opportunities offered by the Programme to young people and youth workers in Europe and beyond. Promoters are invited to include information about the Programme (for instance, information on the Programme Actions, or its objectives and important features, target groups, etc.) in all measures undertaken to increase visibility of the project (see examples above). Promoters could also include information sessions or workshops during the Service of the volunteer. They could also plan participation in events (seminar, conferences, debates) organised at different levels (local, regional, national, international).

- Dissemination and exploitation of results

Each promoter should put in place measures to disseminate and exploit the results of the EVS, including its learning outcomes for the benefit of all actors involved. Dissemination and exploitation measures may have the same format as visibility measures indicated in the section above; the main difference is that dissemination and exploitation measures focus on project's results, rather than on the Service itself. More specifically, the dissemination and exploitation of results of an EVS can be the transfer of knowledge acquired during the Service; for instance, a volunteer who carried out a Service of 6 months in a care centre for elderly people could go to other centre or interested bodies to explain good practices or methods that s/he used or developed when working with certain target groups. For this reason, dissemination and exploitation measures occur mainly after the Service has taken place. These measures should actively involve the volunteer.

European Voluntary Service Charter

European Voluntary Service Charter

The European Voluntary Service (EVS) Charter is part of the Youth in Action Programme Guide and highlights the roles of EVS Sending, Host and Coordinating Organisations and the main principles and quality standards of EVS. Each EVS Project promoter adheres to the provisions set out in this Charter.

EVS partnership

A solid partnership between EVS Sending, Host, Coordinating Organisations and the volunteer is the basis of every EVS project. Adequate matching between the volunteer profile and the tasks has to be in place.

- The Sending Organisation is in charge of the preparation and support of the volunteers before, during and after the EVS Services.
- The Host Organisation has to ensure safe and decent living and working conditions for the volunteer throughout the entire Service period. It has to provide adequate personal, linguistic and task-related support, including the identification of a mentor for the volunteer.
- The Coordinating Organisation (applicant) has the role of facilitating the implementation of the project by offering administrative and quality support to all project partners and enabling their networking.

EVS principles to be ensured

- The non-formal learning and intercultural dimension, through a clear definition of a learning plan for the volunteer.
- The service dimension through a clear definition of the non-profit-making character of the project and the volunteer tasks. Full-time service and active role of the volunteer in implementing the activities have to be ensured. EVS volunteer activities must not replace any employment.
- The benefit to and the contact with the local community.
- EVS is free of charge for the volunteers, except for a possible contribution to the travel costs (maximum 10% of travel costs).
- Accessibility and Inclusion: when recruiting EVS volunteers, the organisations maintain the overall accessibility of EVS for all young people, without prejudice related to ethnic group, religion, sexual orientation, political opinion, etc. If the project targets volunteers with fewer opportunities, facilities and capacity in providing tailor-made preparation, and support have to be in place.

EVS quality standards to be ensured

Support to the volunteer

- before, during and after the EVS Services, in particular in crisis prevention and management;
- for insurance, visa, residence permit, travel arrangements and all the EVS administrative procedures;
- by facilitating the volunteer's participation in the EVS training cycle (pre-departure training, on-arrival training, mid-term evaluation and annual EVS event);
- by foreseeing proper evaluation measures.

Information

- All EVS partners have the right to receive complete information on the project and agree on all aspects.
- Visibility, dissemination and publicity measures have to be in place.

Recognition

- Each EVS volunteer is entitled to receive a Youthpass.

Action 3.1 - Cooperation with the Neighbouring Partner Countries of the European Union

Objectives

The purpose of this sub-Action is to develop mutual understanding between peoples in a spirit of openness, while also contributing to the development of quality systems that support the activities of young people in the countries concerned. It supports activities designed to network and enhance the capacity of NGOs in the youth field, recognising the important role that they can play in the development of civil society in the neighbouring countries. It covers the training of those active in youth work and youth organisations, and exchanges of experience, expertise and good practices between them. It supports activities which may lead to the establishment of long-lasting, high quality projects and partnerships.

The sub-Action supports two types of projects, described in two different sections:

- Youth Exchanges with Neighbouring Partner Countries
- Training and Networking with Neighbouring Partner Countries.

The sections "Eastern Partnership Youth Window", "What else should you know about a project in cooperation with Neighbouring Partner Countries?", "Overview of application procedures" and "How to develop a good project?" apply to both types of projects listed above.

What is a Youth Exchange with Neighbouring Partner Countries?

A Youth Exchange with Neighbouring Partner Countries is a project which brings together groups of young people from two or more countries, providing them with an opportunity to discuss and confront various themes, while learning about each other's countries and cultures. A Youth Exchange is based on a transnational partnership between two or more promoters from different countries. In a Youth Exchange under sub-Action 3.1, the transnational partnership is composed of promoters from Programme Countries and Neighbouring Partner Countries.

According to the number of countries involved, a Youth Exchange can be bilateral, trilateral or multilateral. A Bilateral Youth Exchange is justified especially when the promoters are at their first European project, or when the participants are small-scale or local groups without experience at European level.

A Youth Exchange can be itinerant, implying the movement of all participants at the same time, throughout one or more countries participating in the Exchange.

A Youth Exchange project has three phases:

- planning and preparation
- implementation of the Activity
- evaluation (including reflection on a possible follow-up).

Non-formal learning principles and practice are reflected throughout the project.

What a Youth Exchange is not

The following activities in particular are NOT eligible for grants under Youth Exchanges:

- academic study trips
- exchange activities which aim to make financial profit
- exchange activities which can be classed as tourism
- festivals
- holiday travel
- language courses
- performance tours
- school class exchanges
- sports competitions
- statutory meetings of organisations
- political gatherings

- work camps.

What are the criteria used to assess a Youth Exchange with Neighbouring Partner Countries?

Priority in awarding grants under this Window will be given to:

- projects demonstrating a clear commitment to provide support to young people with fewer opportunities living in rural or deprived urban areas
- projects raising awareness about the nature of youth work
- projects promoting the sharing of best practices in the sphere of youth work.

Eligibility, Exclusion and Selection Criteria

Youth exchange projects to be funded under this Window will be subject to the same eligibility, exclusion and selection criteria used to assess a youth exchange with a Neighbouring Partner Country, with in addition the specific eligibility criterion described below:

What else should you know about a project in cooperation with Neighbouring Partner Countries?

What's a group leader?

A group leader is an adult who accompanies the young people participating in a Youth Exchange in order to ensure their effective learning, protection and safety.

Cooperation with Mediterranean Partner Countries - Euro-Med Youth Programme

Projects involving Mediterranean Partner Countries can be funded under the Youth in Action Programme only if the activities take place in one of the Programme Countries.

Projects taking place in a Mediterranean Partner Country can be supported through the Euro-Med Youth Programme, which is managed by EuropeAid Development and Co-operation Directorate General. This Programme is implemented through specific structures called Euro-Med Youth Units (EMYUs), which are established in Mediterranean Partner Countries. Projects to be funded under the Euro-Med Youth Programme should be presented by promoters based in one of the participating Mediterranean Partner Countries to their relevant EMYU. The conditions and criteria on how to submit a project under the Euro-Med Youth Programme are explained in specific calls for proposals, which are published by the EMYUs. Calls for proposals and relating application forms as well as additional information on the Euro-Med Youth Programme can be found online at the following address: www.euromedyouth.net

Youthpass

Every person who has taken part in a Youth in Action project under this Action is entitled to receive a Youthpass Certificate, which describes and validates the non-formal and informal learning experience and outcomes acquired during the project (learning outcomes). Furthermore, Youthpass is to be considered as a process of becoming aware, reflecting on and documenting the learning within the different phases of the project. For more information on Youthpass, please consult Part A of this Guide as well as the Youthpass guide and further relevant material presented at www.youthpass.eu.

Example of a Youth Exchange with Neighbouring Partner Countries

A Georgian organisation and a British group initiated a multicultural youth exchange project titled "Europe Meets the Land of Medea - A Youth Exchange against Stereotypes and Xenophobia to Promote Intercultural Understanding" in Kobuleti in Georgia. The project aimed to promote intercultural understanding and involved six groups of young people from Ukraine, Georgia, Russia, Great Britain, Estonia and Germany. Each group consisted of four participants and one group leader.

Based on the legend of Medea from Greek mythology, the participants discussed the origins and consequences of xenophobia and stereotypes towards foreign nations. In so-called "Cultural Discoveries", organised by the youngsters, they showed the other participants their national habits, customs and traditions, to raise awareness about and deepen understanding of cultural differences.

"Getting the participants to organise themselves was a central element of the exchange. It contributed to the participants' responsibility and their ability to handle problems independently, as well as encouraging them to present their own opinions and to respect and accept the opinions of other people. It supported the personal development of the young people, promoted tolerance and diminished prejudice." (A participant from Georgia)

How is the EU funding shared among project promoters?

Projects supported under Youth Exchanges with Neighbouring Partner Countries are transnational and based on the cooperation among two or more promoters.

Among the promoters of a project, the applicant plays a major administrative role; it submits the application form on behalf of all the partners and, if the project is approved:

- bears the financial and legal responsibility for the entire project towards the granting Agency
- coordinates the project in cooperation with all other partner promoters involved
- receives the EU Youth in Action financial support.

However, as regards the implementation of the project, all partners are responsible for carrying out tasks. It is therefore essential that the applicant promoter distributes the EU Youth in Action grant to each of the project promoters in proportion to the tasks they have to carry out.

For this reason, the Commission strongly recommends that all promoters involved in a Youth in Action project sign an internal partnership agreement among them; such an agreement has the purpose of clearly defining responsibilities, tasks and financial contribution for all parties involved in the project.

An internal partnership agreement constitutes a key instrument to ensure a solid partnership among promoters in a Youth in Action project as well as to avoid or manage potential conflicts.

Indicatively, it should contain at least the following information:

- project title and reference of the grant agreement between the applicant promoter and the granting Agency
- names and contacts of all the promoters involved in the project
- role and responsibilities of each promoter
- division of the EU YiA grant (according to the above responsibilities)
- payments and budget transfer modalities among promoters
- name and signature of the representative of each promoter.

Although this practice is strongly recommended to safeguard the interests of each partner in a project, the Commission does not oblige promoters to formalise their relations with partners through a written agreement; nor would such an agreement be requested and overseen by the granting National or Executive Agency.

Moreover, it is up to the project promoters to jointly decide on how the EU grant will be distributed and which costs it will cover. With this regard, the table below aims at providing an indication of how the EU grant could be used to support the main tasks carried out based on past experience:

What is a Training and Networking project with Neighbouring Partner Countries?

A Training and Networking project can be of two types:

- a project promoting exchanges, cooperation and training in the field of youth work. It will be developed with a view to implementing an Activity which supports capacity-building and innovation among promoters, as well as the exchange of experience, expertise and good practice among those who are involved in youth work
- a project leading to the development of further projects under the Youth in Action Programme. It will be developed with a view to implementing an Activity which helps all potential promoters to prepare and develop new projects under the Youth in Action Programme, notably by ensuring support and know-how for the development of the projects; support for partner-finding; tools and means to improve the quality of the projects.

The project has three phases:

- planning and preparation
- implementation of the Activity
- evaluation (including reflection on a possible follow-up).

Non-formal learning principles and practice are reflected throughout the project.

Training and Networking Activity

A Training and Networking (T&N) Project is developed with a view to implementing one of the following Activities:

Job Shadowing (Practical learning experience) – A short stay with a partner organisation in another country with the aim of exchanging good practice, acquiring skills and knowledge and/or building long-term partnerships through participative observation.

Feasibility Visit – A short meeting with potential partners to explore and/or prepare for a potential transnational project. Feasibility meetings aim to improve and develop existing cooperation and/or to prepare a future project within the Youth in Action Programme.

Evaluation Meeting – A meeting planned with partners, aiming to evaluate past meetings, seminars, training courses. These meetings help partners to evaluate and discuss potential follow-up after undertaking a common project.

Study Visit – An organised study programme, for a short period, that offers a view of youth work and/or youth policy provisions in one host country. Study visits focus on a theme and consist of visits and meetings to different projects and organisations in a chosen country.

Partnership-building Activity – An event organised with a view to allowing participants to find partners for transnational cooperation and/or for project development. Partnership-building Activity brings together potential partners and facilitates the development of new projects around a chosen topic and/or an Action of the Youth in Action Programme.

Seminar – An event organised to provide a platform for discussion and exchange of good practice, based on theoretical inputs, around a chosen theme or themes which are relevant to the youth work field.

Training Course – An educational learning programme on specific topics, aiming to improve participants' competences, knowledge, skills and attitudes. Training courses lead to higher quality practice in youth work in general and/or, specifically, Youth in Action projects.

Networking – Combination or series of Activities aiming to create new networks, or to strengthen and widen existing networks under the Youth in Action Programme.

Example of a Training and Networking project with Neighbouring Partner Countries

An Albanian organisation hosted a study visit about the social inclusion of minorities into society for 14 young people in Tirana. Partner organisations worked with minorities in Belgium, Poland, Bosnia and Herzegovina and Albania. They visited different Albanian youth organisations, participated in discussions and exercises and developed ideas for future projects. "We knew that many prejudices existed about our country, and this made us feel more responsible. Curiously, we started to see our city in a different way than before the study visit. We wondered whether some specific construction work would be finished in time. It was a really great experience to participate in the study visit, and I hope there will be more in the future." (Albanian participant)

How is the EU funding shared among project promoters?

Training and Networking supported projects with Neighbouring Partner Countries are transnational and based on the cooperation among two or more promoters.

Among the promoters of a project, the applicant plays a major administrative role; it submits the application form on behalf of all the partners and, if the project is approved:

- bears the financial and legal responsibility for the entire project towards the granting Agency
- coordinates the project in cooperation with all other partner promoters involved
- receives the EU Youth in Action financial support.

However, as regards the implementation of the project, all partners are responsible for carrying out tasks. It is therefore essential that the applicant promoter distributes the EU Youth in Action grant to each of the project promoters in proportion to the tasks they have to carry out.

For this reason, the Commission strongly recommends that all promoters involved in a Youth in Action project sign an internal partnership agreement among them; such an agreement has the purpose of clearly defining responsibilities, tasks and financial contribution for all parties involved in the project.

An internal partnership agreement constitutes a key instrument to ensure a solid partnership among promoters in a Youth in Action project as well as to avoid or manage potential conflicts.

Indicatively, it should contain at least the following information:

- project title and reference of the grant agreement between the applicant promoter and the granting Agency
- names and contacts of all the promoters involved in the project
- role and responsibilities of each promoter
- division of the EU YiA grant (according to the above responsibilities)
- payments and budget transfer modalities among promoters
- name and signature of the representative of each promoter.

Although this practice is strongly recommended to safeguard the interests of each partner in a project, the Commission does not oblige promoters to formalise their relations with partners through a written agreement; nor would such an agreement be requested and overseen by the granting National or Executive Agency.

Moreover, it is up to the project promoters to jointly decide on how the EU grant will be distributed and which costs it will cover. With this regard, the table below aims at providing an indication of how the EU grant could be used to support the main tasks carried out based on past experience:

How to develop a good project?

The "Award criteria" table in this sub-Action lists the criteria against which the quality of a project will be assessed. Here are some advices which may help you to develop a good project.

Quality of project design

- Quality of the partnership/active involvement of all promoters in the project
Smooth and efficient cooperation between promoters is a vital element for the successful development of a project. Promoters must demonstrate the ability to establish and run a cohesive partnership with active involvement of all partners and with common goals to be achieved. In this respect, the following factors should be taken into consideration: the level of networking, cooperation and commitment of each promoter in the project; the profile and background of promoters when the nature or target of the Activity would necessitate the possession of certain qualifications; a clear and commonly agreed definition of roles and tasks of each promoter involved in the project; the capacity of the partnership to ensure effective implementation, follow-up and dissemination of the results achieved through the Activity. Promoters are strongly recommended to sign an internal partnership agreement amongst them; such agreement would have the purpose of clearly defining responsibilities, tasks and financial contribution of all parties involved in the project.
- Quality of the preparation phase
The preparation phase is of crucial importance for the success of a project. During this phase, the promoters and participants should agree on the common theme of the project. They should reflect on division of tasks, Activity programme, working methods, profile of participants, practical arrangements (venue, transfers, accommodations, support material). The preparation phase should furthermore enhance the participants' involvement in the project and prepare them for intercultural encounters with other young people from different backgrounds and cultures.
- Quality of the Activity programme
The Activity programme should be clearly defined, realistic, balanced and linked to the objectives of the project and of the Youth in Action Programme; it should provide learning opportunities for the participants involved. The programme should use a variety of working methods and be adapted to the profile of the participants in order to ensure the potentially best learning outcomes.
- Quality of the evaluation phase
In order to make the project and its results more sustainable, promoters and participants are expected to include a final evaluation process. The final evaluation should make it possible to assess whether the objectives of the project have been achieved and the expectations of the promoters and participants have been met. The evaluation should also highlight the learning outcomes of individuals and promoters involved.

Besides the final evaluation, evaluation sessions before, during and after the Activity are encouraged to ensure the smooth running of the Activity. Evaluation before the Activity should enable promoters to fine-tune the project's design, while ongoing evaluation sessions are important in order to receive feedback from participants and to adapt the Activity programme accordingly.

- Quality of measures ensuring protection and safety of participants (only for Youth Exchanges)
Notwithstanding the obligations concerning policy insurance for all participants and parental authorisation for participants under 18 years old (please consult Part A of this Guide), during the planning and preparation phase of the project, promoters should address the issue of protection and safety of participants and focus on the legislation, policy and practice which may differ from one country to another. The promoters will make sure that issues of risk and young person protection are addressed in the project. A sufficient number of group leaders must be present in order to enable young people to share their learning experience in a reasonably safe and protected environment. When both genders are participating in a project the group of leaders will preferably be of both genders. It is advisable to have in place emergency procedures (e.g. 24/7 contact details for host and home country, emergency fund, back up plan, medical kit, at least one leader who has first aid training, emergency services contacts, disclosure procedure...). It is also useful to settle a common "code of behaviour" which will help both, group leaders and participants, to respect commonly agreed standards of behaviour (e.g. use of alcohol, tobacco...). At the same time leaders are encouraged to have a common understanding and position on certain issues - particularly in emergency situations. Further practical information and checklists can be found in the Guidelines on Risk and Young Person Protection (please consult Annex III of this Guide).

Quality of project's content and methodology

- Theme of common interest and relevance to the group of participants

The project should have a clearly identified thematic concept, which participants wish to explore together. The chosen theme should be agreed together and should reflect the interests and needs of participants. The theme has to be translated into the concrete daily activities of the project.
- Non-formal learning methods applied

The project should lead to the acquisition/improvement of competences (knowledge, skills and attitudes) leading to the personal, socio-educational and professional development of all participants and promoters involved. This will be achieved through non-formal and informal learning. A variety of non-formal learning methods and techniques may be applied (workshops, role plays, outdoor activities, ice-breakers, round-tables, etc.) in order to address the different needs of participants and desired outcomes. The project should be based on a learning process stimulating creativity, active participation and initiative (entrepreneurial spirit). Such learning process should be planned and analysed throughout the project: participants should be provided with a place for reflection on learning experiences and outcomes.
- Active involvement of participants in the project

To the maximum possible extent, participants should play an active role in the implementation of the project: the daily Activity programme and working methods applied should involve the participants as much as possible and trigger a learning process. Participants also should be actively involved in the preparation and evaluation phases of the project. Participants should be able to explore different topics on an equal basis, regardless of their language abilities or other skills.
- Promotion of social and personal development of participants

The project should enable the participants to acquire self-confidence when they are confronted with new experiences, attitudes and behaviour; to acquire or cultivate skills, competences and knowledge contributing to social or personal development. Promoters should pay attention to learning processes triggered during each phase of the project.
- Intercultural dimension

The Activity should increase participants' positive awareness of other cultures and support dialogue and intercultural encounters with other participants from different backgrounds and cultures. It should also help to prevent and combat prejudice, racism and all attitudes leading to social exclusion and to develop sense of tolerance and understanding of diversity.
- European dimension

The project should contribute to participants' education process and increase their awareness of the European/international context in which they live. The European dimension of a project could be reflected by the following characteristics:

 - the project fosters young people's sense of European citizenship and helps them to understand their role as part of the present and future Europe
 - the project reflects a common concern for issues within European society, such as racism, xenophobia, anti-Semitism, drug abuse
 - the project's theme is linked to EU topics, such as the EU enlargement, the roles and activities of the European institutions, the EU's action in matters affecting young people
 - the project debates the founding principles of the EU, i.e. the principles of liberty, democracy, respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms, and the rule of law.

Quality and visibility of project's reach

- Impact, multiplying effect and follow-up

The impact of a project should not just be limited to the participants in the Activity. Promoters should try, as much as possible, to involve other people (from the neighbourhood, local area, etc.) in the project activities.

The project should be framed within a longer-term perspective, and planned with a view to achieve a multiplying effect and sustainable impact. Multiplication is obtained for instance by convincing other actors to use the results of the Activity in a new context. Promoters should identify possible target groups that could act as multipliers (young people, youth workers, media, political leaders, and opinion leaders, EU decision makers) in order to spread project's objectives and results. An important dimension of the project's impact relates to its learning outcomes: learning happens in a project at different levels and for all actors involved. As an example, participants gain new competences, such as social and civic competences and skills related to their professional development (moreover, promoters and local communities build capacities and develop their networks in Europe). With this regard, promoters should put in place measures which make the project's learning outcomes visible. For recognising and validating these learning outcomes it is recommended to use Youthpass and the related learning process reflection.

Furthermore, promoters and participants are called to reflect systematically upon possible measures to ensure a follow-up of the project. Will the event be repeated? May a new promoter be involved in a new project? How can discussion on the thematic concept be continued and what could the next steps be? Will it be feasible to plan and carry out new projects under different Actions of the Youth in Action Programme?

▪ Visibility of the project/ visibility of Youth in Action Programme

Promoters should commonly reflect on measures aimed at enhancing the visibility of their project and the visibility of the Youth in Action Programme in general. The creativity of promoters and participants offers additional potential for spreading information about the project, as well as the opportunities offered by the Youth in Action Programme. Visibility measures mainly occur before and during the implementation of the project. Such measures can be divided in two broad categories:

- Visibility of the project

Promoters and participants should "publicise" the project - as well as its aims and objectives - and spread the "youth message" throughout the implementation of their project. In order to raise awareness of the project they could for example develop information material; do a mail shot or SMS mailing; prepare posters, stickers, promotional items (t-shirts, caps, pens, etc.); invite journalists to observe; issue press releases or write articles for local papers, websites or newsletters; create an e-group, a web space, a photo-gallery or blog on the Internet, etc.

- Visibility of the Youth in Action Programme

As well as the compulsory use of the official logo of the Youth in Action Programme (please consult Part C of this Guide), each project should also act as "multiplier" of the Youth in Action Programme in order to increase awareness about the opportunities offered by the Programme to young people and youth workers in Europe and beyond. Promoters are invited to include information about the Programme (for instance, information on the Programme Actions, or its objectives and important features, target groups, etc.) in all measures undertaken to increase visibility of the project (see examples above). Promoters could include information sessions or workshops in the Activity programme. They could also plan participation in events (seminar, conferences, debates) organised at different levels (local, regional, national, international).

▪ Dissemination and exploitation of results

Each promoter should put in place measures to disseminate and exploit the results of the project, including its learning outcomes for the benefit of all actors involved. Dissemination and exploitation measures may have the same format as visibility measures indicated in the section above; the main difference is that dissemination and exploitation measures focus on project's results, rather than project's activities and objectives. For this reason, dissemination and exploitation measures occur mainly after the Activity has taken place. Disseminating project's results could simply mean "spreading the word" about the project among friends, peers or other target groups. Other examples of dissemination and exploitation measures are organising public events (presentations, conferences, workshops...); creating audio-visual products (CD-Rom, DVD...); setting up long-term collaboration with media (series of radio/TV/press contributions, interviews, participation in different radio/TV programmes...); developing information material (newsletters, brochures, booklets, best practice manuals...); creating an Internet portal, etc.

Action 4.3 - Training and Networking of those active in youth work and youth organisations

Objectives

This sub-Action supports the training of those active in youth work and youth organisations in this field, in particular project leaders, youth advisers and supervisors in these projects. It also supports the exchange of experiences, expertise and good practice between those active in youth work and youth organisations, as well as activities which may lead to the establishment of long-lasting, high quality projects, partnerships and networks.

What is a Training and Networking Project?

A Training and Networking project can be of two types:

- a project promoting exchanges, cooperation and training in the field of youth work. It will be developed with a view to implementing an Activity which supports capacity-building and innovation among promoters, as well as the exchange of experience, expertise and good practice among those who are involved in youth work
- a project leading to the development of further projects under the Youth in Action Programme. It will be developed with a view to implementing an Activity which helps all potential promoters to prepare and develop new projects under the Youth in Action Programme, notably by ensuring support and know-how for the development of the projects; support for partner-finding; tools and means to improve the quality of the projects.

A project has three phases:

- planning and preparation
- implementation of the Activity
- evaluation (including reflection on a possible follow-up).

Non-formal learning principles and practice are reflected throughout the project.

Training and Networking Activity

A Training and Networking (T&N) project is developed with a view to implementing one of the following Activities:

Job Shadowing (Practical learning experience) – A short stay with a partner organisation in another country with the aim of exchanging good practices, acquiring skills and knowledge and/or building long-term partnerships through participative observation.

Feasibility Visit – A short meeting with potential partners to explore and/or prepare for a potential transnational project. Feasibility meetings aim to improve and develop existing cooperation and/or to prepare a future project within the Youth in Action Programme.

Evaluation Meeting – A meeting planned with partners, aiming to evaluate past meetings, seminars, training courses. These meetings help partners to evaluate and discuss potential follow-up after undertaking a common project.

Study Visit – An organised study programme, for a short period, that offers a view of youth work and/or youth policy provisions in one country. Study visits focus on a theme and consist of visits and meetings to different projects and organisations in a chosen country.

Partnership-building Activity – An event organised with a view to allow participants to find partners for transnational co-operation and/or for project development. Partnership-building brings together potential partners and facilitates the development of new projects around a chosen topic and/or an Action of the Youth in Action Programme.

Seminar – An event organised to provide a platform for discussion and exchange of good practice, based on theoretical inputs, around a chosen theme or themes which are relevant to the youth work field.

Training Course – An educational learning programme on specific topics, aiming to improve participants’ competences, knowledge, skills and attitudes. Training courses lead to higher quality practice in youth work in general and/or, specifically, Youth in Action projects.

Networking – Combination or series of activities aiming to create new networks, or to strengthen and widen existing networks under the Youth in Action Programme.

What else should you know about a Training and Networking Project?

Youthpass

Every person who has taken part in a Youth in Action project under Action 4.3 (Training Courses) is entitled to receive a Youthpass Certificate, which describes and validates the non-formal and informal learning experience acquired during the project (learning outcomes). Furthermore, Youthpass is to be considered as a process of becoming aware, reflecting on and documenting the learning within the different phases of the project. For more information on Youthpass, please consult Part A of this Guide as well as the Youthpass guide and further relevant material presented at www.youthpass.eu.

Example of a Training and Networking project

A seminar centred on the thematic of gender-based violence took place in Italy and involved 25 participants from 11 Programme Countries. The participants were social workers, volunteers, directors of associations, working on matters related to gender violence among youth. Through this seminar, participants had the opportunity to share their expertise and experience at European level, discussing and presenting tools and approaches to deal with gender-based violence in youth work. The objective of the seminar was also to make participants aware of opportunities provided by Youth in Action. The project evaluation was an integral part of the seminar and was carried out at different stages.

How is the EU funding shared among project promoters?

Training and Networking supported projects are transnational and based on the cooperation among two or more promoters.

Among the promoters of a project, the applicant plays a major administrative role; it submits the application form on behalf of all the partners and, if the project is approved:

- bears the financial and legal responsibility for the entire project towards the granting Agency
- coordinates the project in cooperation with all other partner promoters involved
- receives the EU Youth in Action financial support.

However, as regards the implementation of the project, all partners are responsible for carrying out tasks. It is therefore essential that the applicant promoter distributes the EU Youth in Action grant to each of the project promoters in proportion to the tasks they have to carry out.

For this reason, the Commission strongly recommends that all promoters involved in a Youth in Action project sign an internal partnership agreement among them; such an agreement has the purpose of clearly defining responsibilities, tasks and financial contribution for all parties involved in the project.

An internal partnership agreement constitutes a key instrument to ensure a solid partnership among promoters in a Youth in Action project as well as to avoid or manage potential conflicts.

Indicatively, it should contain at least the following information:

- project title and reference of the grant agreement between the applicant promoter and the granting Agency
- names and contacts of all the promoters involved in the project
- role and responsibilities of each promoter
- division of the EU YiA grant (according to the above responsibilities)
- payments and budget transfer modalities among promoters
- name and signature of the representative of each promoter.

Although this practice is strongly recommended to safeguard the interests of each partner in a project, the Commission does not oblige promoters to formalise their relations with partners through a written agreement; nor would such an agreement be requested and overseen by the granting National or Executive Agency.

Moreover, it is up to the project promoters to jointly decide on how the EU grant will be distributed and which costs it will cover. With this regard, the table below aims at providing an indication of how the EU grant could be used to support the main tasks carried out based on past experience:

Training and Networking

How to develop a good project?

The "Award criteria" table in this sub-Action lists the criteria against which the quality of a project will be assessed. Here are some advices which may help you to develop a good project.

Quality of project design

- Quality of the partnership/active involvement of all promoters in the project
Smooth and efficient cooperation between promoters is a vital element for the successful development of a project. Promoters must demonstrate the ability to establish and run a cohesive partnership with active involvement of all partners and with common goals to be achieved. In this respect, the following factors should be taken into consideration: the level of networking, cooperation and commitment of each promoter in the project; the profile and background of promoters when the nature or target of the Activity would necessitate the possession of certain qualifications; a clear and commonly agreed definition of roles and tasks of each promoter involved in the project; the capacity of the partnership to ensure effective implementation, follow-up and dissemination of the results achieved through the Activity. Promoters are strongly recommended to sign an internal partnership agreement amongst them; such agreement would have the purpose of clearly defining responsibilities, tasks and financial contribution of all parties involved in the project.
- Quality of the preparation phase
The preparation phase is of crucial importance for the success of a Training and Networking project. During such phase, the promoters should agree on the common theme of the project. They should reflect on division of tasks, Activity programme, working methods, profile of participants, practical arrangements (venue, transfers, accommodations, support material). The preparation phase should furthermore enhance the participants' involvement in the Activity and prepare them for intercultural encounters with other young people from different backgrounds and cultures.
- Quality of the Activity programme
The Activity programme should be clearly defined, realistic, balanced and linked to the objectives of the project and of the Youth in Action Programme; it should provide learning opportunities for the participants involved. The programme should use a variety of working methods and be adapted to the profile of participants in order to ensure the potentially best learning outcomes.
- Quality of the evaluation phase
In order to make the project and its results more sustainable, promoters and participants are expected to include a final evaluation process. The final evaluation should make it possible to assess whether the objectives of the project have been achieved and the expectations of the promoters and participants have been met. The evaluation should also highlight the learning outcomes of individuals and promoters involved.

Besides the final evaluation, evaluation sessions before, during and after the Activity are encouraged to ensure the smooth running of the Activity. Evaluation before the Activity should enable promoters to fine-tune the project's design, while ongoing evaluation sessions are important in order to receive feedback from participants and to adapt the Activity programme accordingly.

Quality of project's content and methodology

- Theme of common interest and relevance to the group of participants
The project should have a clearly identified thematic concept, which promoters wish to explore together. The chosen theme should be agreed together and should reflect interests and needs of participants. The theme has to be translated into the concrete daily activities of the project.
- Non-formal learning methods applied
The project should lead to the acquisition/improvement of competences (knowledge, skills and attitudes) leading to the personal, socio-educational and professional development of all participants and promoters involved. This will be achieved through non-formal and informal learning. A variety of non-formal learning methods and techniques may be applied (workshops, role plays, outdoor activities, ice-breakers, round-tables, etc.) in order to address the different needs of participants and desired outcomes. The project should be based on a learning process stimulating creativity, active participation and initiative (entrepreneurial spirit). Such learning process should be planned and analysed throughout the project: participants should be provided with a place for reflection on learning experiences and outcomes.

- Active involvement of participants in the project
To the maximum possible extent, participants should play an active role in the implementation of the project: the daily Activity programme and working methods applied should involve the participants as much as possible and trigger a learning process. Participants also should be actively involved in the preparation and evaluation phases of the project. Participants should be able to explore different topics on an equal basis, regardless of their language abilities or other skills.
- Promotion of social and personal development of participants
The project should enable the participants to acquire self-confidence when they are confronted with new experiences, attitudes and behaviour; to acquire or cultivate skills, competences and knowledge contributing to social or personal development. Promoters should pay attention to learning processes triggered during each phase of the project.
- Intercultural dimension
The Activity should increase participants' positive awareness of other cultures and support dialogue and intercultural encounters with other participants from different backgrounds and cultures. It should also help to prevent and combat prejudice, racism and all attitudes leading to social exclusion and to develop sense of tolerance and understanding of diversity.
- European dimension
The project should contribute to participants' education process and increase their awareness of the European/international context in which they live. The European dimension of a project could be reflected by the following characteristics:
 - the project fosters young people's sense of European citizenship and helps them to understand their role as part of the present and future Europe
 - the project reflects a common concern for issues within European society, such as racism, xenophobia, anti-Semitism, drug abuse
 - the project's theme is linked to EU topics, such as the EU enlargement, the roles and activities of the European institutions, the EU's action in matters affecting young people
 - the project debates the founding principles of the EU, i.e. the principles of liberty, democracy, respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms, and the rule of law.

Quality and visibility of project reach

- Impact, multiplying effect and follow-up
The impact of a Training and Networking project should not be limited to the participants in the Activity. Promoters should try, as much as possible, to involve other people (from the neighbourhood, local area, etc.) in the project activities.

The project should be framed within a longer-term perspective, and planned with a view to achieve a multiplying effect and sustainable impact. Multiplication is obtained for instance by convincing other actors to use the results of the Activity in a new context. Promoters should identify possible target groups that could act as multipliers (young people, youth workers, media, political leaders, and opinion leaders, EU decision makers) in order to spread project's objectives and results. An important dimension of the project's impact relates to its learning outcomes: learning happens in Training and Networking projects at different levels and for all actors involved. As an example, participants/youth workers gain new competences, such as social and civic competences and skills related to their professional development (moreover, promoters and local communities build capacities and develop their networks in Europe). With this regard, promoters should put in place measures which make the project's learning outcomes visible. For recognising and validating these learning outcomes it is recommended to use Youthpass and the related learning process reflection.

Furthermore, promoters and participants are asked to reflect systematically upon possible measures to ensure a follow-up of the project. Will the event be repeated? May a new promoter be involved in a new project? How can discussion on the thematic concept be continued and what could the next steps be? Will it be feasible to plan and carry out new projects under different Actions of the Youth in Action Programme?

- Visibility of the project/visibility of Youth in Action Programme
Promoters should commonly reflect on measures aimed at enhancing the visibility of their project and the visibility of the Youth in Action Programme in general. The creativity of promoters and participants offers additional potential for spreading information about the project, as well as the opportunities offered by the Youth in Action Programme. Visibility measures mainly occur before and during the implementation of the project. Such measures can be divided in two broad categories:

- Visibility of the project

Promoters and participants should "publicise" the project - as well as its aims and objectives - and spread the "youth message" throughout the implementation of their project. In order to raise awareness of the project they could for example develop information material; do a mail shot or SMS mailing; prepare posters, stickers, promotional items (t-shirts, caps, pens, etc.); invite journalists to observe; issue press releases or write articles for local papers, websites or newsletters; create an e-group, a web space, a photo-gallery or blog on the Internet, etc.
- Visibility of the Youth in Action Programme

As well as the compulsory use of the official logo of the Youth in Action Programme (please consult Part C of this Guide), each project should also act as "multiplier" of the Youth in Action Programme in order to increase awareness about the opportunities offered by the Programme to young people and youth workers in Europe and beyond. Promoters are invited to include information about the Programme (for instance, information on the Programme Actions, or its objectives and important features, target groups, etc.) in all measures undertaken to increase visibility of the project (see examples above). Promoters could include information sessions or workshops in the Activity programme. They could also plan participation in events (seminar, conferences, debates) organised at different levels (local, regional, national, international).
- Dissemination and exploitation of results

Each promoter should put in place measures to disseminate and exploit the results of the project, including its learning outcomes for the benefit of all actors involved. Dissemination and exploitation measures may have the same format as visibility measures indicated in the section above; the main difference is that dissemination and exploitation measures focus on project's results, rather than project's activities and objectives. For this reason, dissemination and exploitation measures occur mainly after the Training and Networking Activity has taken place. Examples of dissemination and exploitation measures are organising public events (presentations, conferences, workshops...); creating audio-visual products (CD-Rom, DVD...); setting up long-term collaboration with media (series of radio/TV/press contributions, interviews, participation in different radio/TV programmes...); developing information material (newsletters, brochures, booklets, best practice manuals...); creating an Internet portal, etc.

Action 5.1 - Meetings of young people and those responsible for youth policy

Objectives

This sub-Action supports the implementation of Structured Dialogue between young people/youth organisations and decision-makers/experts in the youth field at local, regional, national or international level.

Structured dialogue is the name used for discussions between youth policy-makers (at all levels) and young people on chosen themes, in order to obtain results which are useful for policy-making. The debate is structured in terms of themes and timing and can include events where young people can discuss the agreed themes amongst themselves and with EU politicians.

Structured Dialogue activities can take the form of seminars, conferences, consultations and other events organised at local, regional, national or international level. These events promote the active participation of young people and their interaction with decision-makers, in order to establish a platform for debates between all the interested parties, enabling them to formulate positions or proposals and then translate them into concrete actions. More information about Structured Dialogue is available on the Commission's youth website.

What is a Meeting of young people and those responsible for youth policy?

A project has three phases:

- planning and preparation
- implementation of the Activity
- evaluation (including reflection on a possible follow-up).

Non-formal learning principles and practice are reflected throughout the project.

A project under Action 5.1 is developed with a view to implementing one or more of the following Activities:

- National Youth Meeting: taking place at local, regional, and national level in the Programme Countries with a view to a) offering space for debate, consultation, active participation and information on issues which are relevant to Structured Dialogue or European Union policies and topics, or b) preparing the ground of the official youth conference to be organised by the Member State holding the turn of Presidency of the European Union, or c) organising activities linked to the European Youth Week, or d) enhancing cross-sectoral dialogue and cooperation between formal and non-formal education areas. A National Youth Meeting may also consist of a series or combination of the above activities
- Transnational Youth Seminar: gatherings of young people and policy-makers aimed at discussing, exchanging ideas and best practice, and/or adopting recommendations around topics centred on the priorities and objectives of the Structured Dialogue and the renewed political framework in the youth field¹⁶.

National Youth Meetings or Transnational Youth Seminars can be preceded by activities of consultation of young people on the topics dealt with during the meeting (e.g. online consultations and questionnaires, group surveys, etc.).

What a Meeting of young people and those responsible for youth policy is not?

The following activities in particular are NOT eligible for grants under sub-Action 5.1:

- academic study trips
- exchange activities which aim to make financial profit
- exchange activities which can be classed as tourism
- festivals
- holiday travel
- language courses
- performance tours

¹⁶ Council Resolution of 27 November 2009 on a renewed framework for European cooperation in the youth field, OJ C 311 of 19 December 2009, p. 1.

- school class exchanges
- sports competitions
- statutory meetings of organisations
- political gatherings
- work camps.

What else should you know about Meetings of young people and those responsible for youth policy?

Participation of decision-makers/experts under sub-Action 5.1

If the project foresees the participation of decision-makers/experts in the Activity, none of the costs directly related to their participation (travel, food, accommodation, visa, special needs, etc.) can be covered by the Youth in Action grant. These costs should be covered through other project funding sources, such as the promoters' contributions, and/or national, regional, local or private assistance.

Example of a Meeting of young people and those responsible for youth policy

The aim of the project was to organise a 5-day seminar for young people aged from 18 - 25 and for experts and decision-making actors in the field of youth policy. The programme of the event was based on non-formal learning workshops and lectures and was divided into two parts. The morning lectures were given by young people to their "students" - experts and politicians. The afternoon session were devoted to workshops facilitated by experts and decision-makers about youth policies and the local youth reality. The learning activities were complemented with communication and social games. Through this approach participants were able to confront on various themes. Experts and decision-makers were able to improve their understanding of young peoples' opinions and needs. Vice-versa, young people were able to better understand the dynamics of the decision-making processes having consequences on their life, and they were able to influence, through commonly agreed recommendations, decisions to be taken in the future.

What are the funding rules?

The budget of the project must be drafted according to the following funding rules:

Eligible costs		Financing mechanism	Amount	Rule of allocation	Reporting obligations
Activity costs	Eligible direct costs <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Travel costs (economy class flight tickets or 2nd class train tickets) - Accommodation/food costs - Organisation of seminars, meetings, consultations, activities - Publications/translations/information costs - Dissemination and exploitation of results - Other costs directly linked to the implementation of the project Eligible indirect costs A flat rate amount, not exceeding 7% of the eligible direct costs of the project, is eligible under indirect costs, representing the beneficiary's general administrative costs which can be regarded as chargeable to the project (e.g. electricity or internet bills, costs for premises, cost of permanent staff etc.)	Percentage of actual costs	75% of the total eligible costs (unless a lower % of EU grant is requested by the applicant). Maximum € 50 000	Conditional: objectives and Activity programme must be clearly outlined in the application form	Full justification of the costs incurred, copy of invoices/receipts/travel tickets (only for direct costs). Achievements to be described in final report . Original signature list of all participants.

How to develop a good project?

The "Award criteria" table in this sub-Action lists the criteria against which the quality of a project will be assessed. Here are some advices which may help you to develop a good project.

Quality of project design

- Quality of the partnership/active involvement of all promoters in the project

Smooth and efficient cooperation between promoters is a vital element for the successful development of a project. Promoters must demonstrate the ability to establish and run a cohesive partnership with active involvement of all partners and with common goals to be achieved. In this respect, the following factors should be taken into consideration: the level of networking, cooperation and commitment of each promoter in the project; the profile and background of promoters when the nature or target of the Activity would necessitate the possession of certain qualifications; a clear and commonly agreed definition of roles and tasks of each promoter involved in the project; the capacity of the partnership to ensure effective implementation, follow-up and dissemination of the results achieved through the Activity. Projects centred on the Structured Dialogue are intended to be carried out with and through those youth organisations that are active players in debates on youth issues at local, regional, national or European level. With this in mind, national, regional or local youth councils and youth non-governmental organisations taking part in such structures are a natural but not exclusive target of this sub-Action; these types of projects should however aim at developing innovative and efficient ways to address and to involve other target groups, in particular young people who are actively engaged in society but not connected to any structured framework, as well as young people from disadvantaged backgrounds and with fewer opportunities. Promoters are strongly recommended to sign an internal partnership agreement amongst them; such agreement would have the purpose of clearly defining responsibilities, tasks and financial contribution of all parties involved in the project.

- Quality of the preparation phase

The preparation phase is of crucial importance for the success of a Project. During this phase, the promoters should agree on the common theme of the Project. They should reflect on division of tasks, Activity programme, working methods, profile of participants, practical arrangements (venue, transfers, accommodations, support material, linguistic support). The preparation phase should furthermore enhance the participants' involvement in the Project and prepare them for intercultural encounters with other young people from different backgrounds and cultures.

- Quality of the Activity programme

The Activity programme should be clearly defined, realistic, balanced and linked to the objectives of the project and of the Youth in Action Programme; it should provide learning opportunities for the participants involved. The programme should use a variety of working methods and be adapted to the profile of participants in order to ensure the potentially best learning outcomes.

- Quality of the evaluation phase

In order to make the project and its results more sustainable, promoters and participants are expected to include a final evaluation process. The final evaluation should make it possible to assess whether the objectives of the project have been achieved and the expectations of the promoters and participants have been met. The evaluation should also highlight the learning outcomes of individuals and promoters involved.

Besides the final evaluation, evaluation sessions before, during and after the Activity are encouraged to ensure the smooth running of the Activity. Evaluation before the Activity should enable promoters to fine-tune the project's design, while ongoing evaluation sessions are important in order to receive feedback from participants and to adapt the Activity programme accordingly.

- Quality of measures ensuring protection and safety of participants

Notwithstanding the obligations concerning policy insurance for all participants and parental authorisation for participants under 18 years old (please consult Part A of this Guide), during the planning and preparation phase of the project, promoters should address the issue of protection and safety of participants and focus on the legislation, policy and practice which may differ from one country to another. The promoters will make sure that issues of risk and young person protection are addressed in the project. A sufficient number of group leaders must be present in order to enable young people to share their learning experience in a reasonably safe and protected environment. When both genders are participating in a project the group of leaders will preferably be of both genders. It is advisable to have in place emergency procedures (e.g. 24/7 contact details for host and home country, emergency fund, back up plan, medical kit, at least one leader who has first aid training, emergency services contacts, disclosure procedure...). It is also useful to settle a common "code of behaviour" which will help both, group leaders and participants, to respect commonly agreed standards of behaviour (e.g. use of alcohol, tobacco...). At the same time leaders are encouraged to have a common understanding and position on certain issues - particularly in emergency situations. Further practical information and checklists can be found in the Guidelines on Risk and Young Person Protection (see Annex III of this Guide).

Quality of project content and methodology

- Theme of common interest and relevance to the group of participants
The project should have a clear thematic concept, which promoters wish to explore together. The chosen theme should be agreed together and reflect the interests and needs of participants. The theme has to be translated into the concrete daily activities of the project.
- Non-formal learning methods applied
The project should lead to the acquisition/improvement of competences (knowledge, skills and attitudes) leading to the personal, socio-educational and professional development of all participants and promoters involved. This will be achieved through non-formal and informal learning. A variety of non-formal learning methods and techniques may be applied (workshops, role plays, outdoor activities, ice-breakers, round-tables, etc.) in order to address the different needs of participants and desired outcomes. The project should be based on a learning process stimulating creativity, active participation and initiative (entrepreneurial spirit). Such learning process should be planned and analysed throughout the project: participants should be provided with a place for reflection on learning experiences and outcomes.
- Active involvement of participants in the project
To the maximum possible extent, participants should play an active role in the implementation of the project: the Activity programme and working methods applied should involve the participants as much as possible and trigger a learning process. Participants also should be actively involved in the preparation, and evaluation phases of the project. Young people should be able to explore different topics on an equal basis, regardless of their language abilities or other skills.
- Promotion of social and personal development of participants
The project should enable the participants to acquire self-confidence when they are confronted with new experiences, attitudes and behaviour; to acquire or cultivate skills, competences and knowledge contributing to social or personal development. Promoters should pay attention to learning processes triggered during each phase of the project.
- Intercultural dimension
The project should increase young people's positive awareness of other cultures and support dialogue and intercultural encounters with other young people from different backgrounds and cultures. It should also help to prevent and combat prejudice, racism and all attitudes leading to social exclusion and to develop sense of tolerance and understanding of diversity.
- European dimension
The project should contribute to the young people's education process and increase their awareness of the European/international context in which they live. The European dimension of a project could be reflected by the following characteristics:
 - the project fosters young people's sense of European citizenship and helps them to understand their role as part of the present and future Europe
 - the project reflects a common concern for issues within European society, such as racism, xenophobia, anti-Semitism, drug abuse
 - the project's theme is linked to EU topics, such as the EU enlargement, the roles and activities of the European institutions, the EU's action in matters affecting young people
 - the project debates the founding principles of the EU, i.e. the principles of liberty, democracy, respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms, and the rule of law.

Quality and visibility of project reach

- Impact, multiplying effect and follow-up
The impact of a project should not just be limited to the participants in the Activity. Promoters should, as much as possible, try to involve other people (from the neighbourhood, local area, etc.) in the project activities.

The project should be framed with a longer-term perspective, and planned with a view to achieve a multiplying effect and sustainable impact. Multiplication is obtained for instance by convincing other actors to use the results of the Project in a new context. Promoters should identify possible target groups that could act as multipliers (young people, youth workers, media, political leaders, and opinion leaders, EU decision makers) in order to spread project's objectives and results. An important dimension of the project's impact relates to its learning outcomes: learning happens in a project at different levels and for all actors involved. As an example, participants gain new competences, such as social and civic competences and skills related to their professional development (moreover, promoters and local communities build capacities and develop their networks in Europe). With this regard, promoters should put in place measures which make the project's learning outcomes visible. For recognising and validating these learning outcomes it is recommended to use approaches that stimulate learning process reflection (the Youthpass approach can provide models and inspiration).

Furthermore, promoters and participants are asked to reflect systematically upon possible measures to ensure a follow-up of the Project. Will the event be repeated? May a new promoter be involved in a new Project? How can discussion on the thematic concept be continued and what could the next steps be? Will it be feasible to plan and carry out new projects under different Actions of the Youth in Action Programme?

▪ Visibility of the project/visibility of Youth in Action Programme

Promoters should commonly reflect on measures aimed at enhancing the visibility of their project and the visibility of the Youth in Action Programme in general. The creativity of promoters and participants offers additional potential for spreading information about the planned Activity, as well as the opportunities offered by the Youth in Action Programme. Visibility measures mainly occur before and during the implementation of the Project. Such measures can be divided in two broad categories:

- Visibility of the project

Promoters and participants should "publicise" the project - as well as its aims and objectives - and spread the "youth message" throughout the implementation of their project. In order to raise awareness of the project they could for example develop information material; do a mail shot or SMS mailing; prepare posters, stickers, promotional items (t-shirts, caps, pens, etc.); invite journalists to observe; issue press releases or write articles for local papers, websites or newsletters; create an e-group, a web space, a photo-gallery or blog on the Internet, etc.

- Visibility of the Youth in Action Programme

As well as the compulsory use of the official logo of the Youth in Action Programme (please consult Part C of this Guide), each project should also act as "multiplier" of the Youth in Action Programme in order to increase awareness about the opportunities offered by the Programme to young people and youth workers in Europe and beyond. Promoters are invited to include information about the Programme (for instance, information on the Programme Actions, or its objectives and important features, target groups, etc.) in all measures undertaken to increase visibility of the project (see examples above). Promoters could include information sessions or workshops in the Activity programme of the project. They could also plan participation in events (seminar, conferences, debates) organised at different levels (local, regional, national, international).

▪ Dissemination and exploitation of results

Each promoter should put in place measures to disseminate and exploit the results of the Project, including its learning outcomes for the benefit of all actors involved.

Standard dissemination and exploitation measures may have the same format as visibility measures indicated in the section above; the main difference is that dissemination and exploitation measures focus on project's results, rather than project's Activity and its objectives. For this reason, dissemination and exploitation measures occur mainly after the Project has taken place. As well as the standard dissemination and exploitation measures, promoters could set up additional measures to spread and highlight the value of their project's results. Examples of dissemination and exploitation measures are organising public events (presentations, conferences, workshops...); creating audio-visual products (CD-Rom, DVD...); setting up long-term collaboration with media (series of radio/TV/press contributions, interviews, participation in different radio/TV programmes...); developing information material (newsletters, brochures, booklets, best practice manuals...); creating an Internet portal, etc.

PART C – INFORMATION FOR APPLICANTS

All those promoters who intend to submit a project in order to receive financial support from the European Union under the Youth in Action Programme are invited to read carefully this section which is drafted in accordance with the provisions set in the Financial Regulation applicable to the grants from the EU.

1. What do you have to do in order to submit a Youth in Action project?

To submit a Youth in Action project you must follow the three steps described below:

- check that your project complies the Programme criteria

As promoter and potential applicant, you must verify that your project meets the following criteria: eligibility, exclusion, selection and award.

Eligibility criteria

The eligibility criteria mainly relate to the project type, the target group and the conditions for submitting a grant request for such a project. If your project does not meet these criteria, it will be rejected without being further evaluated. Although some eligibility criteria are common to all Actions and sub-Actions of the Programme, others apply only to specific Actions or sub-Actions.

To be eligible, your project must meet all the eligibility criteria relating to the Action or sub-Action under which you apply. For details of the eligibility criteria for specific Actions or sub-Actions, please consult Part B of this Guide.

Exclusion criteria

Applicants must state that they are not in any of the situations described in Articles 93 and 94 of the Financial Regulation applicable to the general budget of the European Communities (Council Regulation (EC, Euratom) No 1605/2002) and set out below.

Applicants will be excluded from participating in the Youth in Action Programme if they are in any of the following situations:

- they are bankrupt or being wound up, are having their affairs administered by the courts, have entered into an arrangement with creditors, have suspended business activities, are the subject of proceedings concerning those matters, or are in any analogous situation arising from a similar procedure provided for in national legislation or regulations

- they have been guilty of grave professional misconduct proven by any means which the contracting authority can justify
- they have not fulfilled obligations relating to the payment of social security contributions or the payment of taxes in accordance with the legal provisions of the country in which they are established or with those of the country of the contracting authority or those of the country where the contract is to be performed
- they have been the subject of a judgment which has the force of res judicata for fraud, corruption, involvement in a criminal organisation or any other illegal activity detrimental to the Communities' financial interests
- following another procurement procedure or grant award procedure financed by the European Union budget, they have been declared to be in serious breach of contract for failure to comply with their contractual obligations.

Applicants will not be granted financial assistance if, on the date of the grant award procedure, they:

- are subject to a conflict of interests
- are guilty of misrepresentation in supplying the information required by the contracting authority as a condition of participation in the grant award procedure, or fail to supply this information.

In accordance with Articles from 93 to 96 of the Financial Regulation, administrative and financial penalties may be imposed on applicants who are guilty of misrepresentation or are found to have seriously failed to meet their contractual obligations under a previous contract award procedure.

These exclusion criteria apply to all Actions and sub-Actions of the Youth in Action Programme. To comply with these provisions, applicants must sign a "declaration on honour" certifying that they are not in any of the situations referred to in Articles 93 and 94 of the Financial Regulation. This "declaration on honour" constitutes a specific section of the application form.

Selection criteria

The selection criteria enable the Executive Agency or a National Agency to assess the applicant's financial and operational capacity to complete the proposed project. These selection criteria apply to all Actions and sub-Actions of the Youth in Action Programme.

Financial capacity means the applicant has stable and sufficient sources of funding to maintain its activity throughout the project.

Note that the verification of financial capacity does not apply to:

- applicants introducing a grant request that does not exceed 25 000 euros
- public bodies
- informal groups of young people
- international public sector organisations set up by intergovernmental agreements or specialised agencies set up by such organisations
- the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC)
- the International Federation of National Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies.

In all other cases, the applicant must submit with the application:

- the applicant's profit and loss account
- the balance sheet for the last financial year for which accounts have been closed
- a bank details form completed by the applicant and certified by the bank (original signatures required).

Where the application concerns grants for a project for which the amount exceeds EUR 500 000, an audit report produced by an approved external auditor shall be submitted. That report shall certify the accounts for the last financial year available.

If, on the basis of these documents, the Executive Agency or the National Agency concludes that the required financial capacity has not been proved or is not satisfactory, then they may:

- ask for further information
- require a bank guarantee
- offer a grant agreement without pre-financing or with a reduced pre-financing
- reject the application.

Operational capacity means the applicant must show that it has the necessary competencies and motivation to carry out the proposed project. This constitutes a specific section of the application form. For recurrent beneficiaries, the evidence demonstrated by previous Youth in Action projects will also be used to assess operational capacity.

Award criteria

The award criteria are indicators that allow the Executive Agency or a National Agency to evaluate the quality of projects submitted for grants.

On the basis of these criteria, grants will be awarded to those projects which maximise the overall effectiveness of the Youth in Action Programme.

The award criteria indicated in this Guide tell you exactly which elements will be taken into consideration in order to assess the quality of your project.

Although some award criteria are common to all Actions and sub-Actions of the Programme, others apply only to specific Actions or sub-Actions.

For any Action or sub-Action, all award criteria are described in Part B of this Guide. In addition, for any Action or sub-Action of this Guide managed at centralised level, the Executive Agency will take in due account to ensuring a geographical balance in terms of countries of origin of successful applicants. This criterion - amongst others - will be assessed within the last category of the "Award criteria" section of each relevant Action/sub-Action.

Step 2: Check the financial conditions

Types of grant

The grant may be any of the following types:

- percentage of reimbursement of actual eligible costs
- lump sums (fixed amounts)
- flat rate financing (scale of unit costs, or fixed percentage)
- a combination of the above.

A grant in the form of percentage reimbursement is made through the reimbursement of a specified proportion of the eligible costs actually incurred during the project (e.g. 70% of participants' travel costs under sub-Action 1.1).

A lump sum is a fixed amount covering in global terms certain costs necessary for carrying out the project (e.g. the 5 700 euros allocated for the Project costs of a National Youth Initiative in Austria under sub-Action 1.2).

Flat rate financing covers specific categories of expenditure either by applying a standard scale of unit cost (e.g. 590 euros x number of volunteers x number of months of EVS Service abroad allocated for a Service taking place in Belgium under Action 2) or by applying a fixed percentage (7% of direct eligible costs for the support to indirect costs under sub-Action 1.3).

The funding mechanisms applied under the Youth in Action Programme often use lump sums and flat rate financing. These forms of grant help applicants to easily calculate the expected grant amount and facilitate the realistic planning of the project.

For details of the funding mechanism for all Actions or sub-Actions, please consult Part B of this Guide.

Co-financing

A grant from the European Union is an incentive to carry out a project which would not be feasible without the EU financial support, and is based on the principle of co-financing. Co-financing implies that the EU grant may not finance the entire costs of the project; the applicant should complement the EU grant with own financial contribution and/or national, regional, local or private assistance. Support under the form of lump sums or flat rate financing are not affected by this rule; for supports under the form of percentage of actual costs, the applicant has to indicate in the application form the contribution from sources other than the EU grant.

Contributions in kind are considered an eligible source of co-financing.

Contribution in kind is a provision of goods or services to beneficiaries free of charge by third parties. Such goods or services provided by third parties cannot be therefore entered in the accounts of a beneficiary. The contributions in kind must be linked to the project implementation; they must be necessary and appropriate.

Examples of eligible contributions in kind:

- goods donated to or put at disposal of the beneficiary: technical equipment (cameras, computers, slide projectors), office equipment, specific professional equipment (including medical equipment for disabled people)
- services provided by individuals a voluntary basis free of charge: transportation, translation, catering, coaching, medical services.

The following contributions in kind are not eligible:

- the permanent staff of beneficiaries
- real estate: making available land, buildings, premises
- contributions in kind related to ineligible costs according to the grant agreement or its annexes

The value calculated for contributions in kind must not exceed:

- the costs actually borne and duly supported by accounting documents of the third parties who made these contributions to the beneficiary free of charge but bear the corresponding costs
- the costs generally accepted on the market in question for the type of contribution concerned when no costs are borne

No-profit

The grant may not have the purpose or effect of producing a profit for the beneficiary. Profit is defined as a surplus of receipts over costs. In practical terms this means that if the total income of a project is higher than the final total costs of the project, the grant will be reduced accordingly after the analysis of the final report. Support under the form of lump sums or flat rate financing are not affected by this rule.

If a project is shown to have made a profit, it may have to return amounts previously paid.

No double-financing

Each project supported at EU level may give rise to the award of only one grant from the EU budget. Therefore, a project supported under the Youth in Action Programme may not be in receipt of any other European Union funding.

Note that if you have been awarded an operating grant from the budget of the European Union (for example, under sub-Action 4.1 of the Youth in Action Programme), you are not entitled to receive financial support to cover indirect eligible costs foreseen for projects under certain sub-Actions.

Also note that participants cannot be directly involved in two or more Youth in Action projects at the same time (e.g. an EVS volunteer who is at the same time part of a group of young people carrying out a Youth Initiative).

To avoid the risk of double-financing, the applicant must indicate in the relevant section of the application form, the sources and the amounts of any other funding received or applied for in the same financial year, whether for the project or any other projects, including operating grants.

Step 3: Fill in and submit the application form

One promoter assumes the role of coordinator and submits to the Executive Agency or to a National Agency a single application for the whole project on behalf of all the promoters.

If the application is positively assessed and selected, the applicant will be the beneficiary of a single grant agreement proposed by the Executive Agency or by the National Agency for the funding of the whole project.

Application procedure

For any Action or sub-Action, the eligibility criteria to be met regarding the procedure to be followed for the submission of a project are described in Part B of this Guide. Furthermore, the applicants must respect the provisions described below.

An application will be accepted only if it:

- is submitted on the correct form, completed in full and dated
- is signed by the person authorised to enter into legally binding commitments on behalf of the applicant
- shows a budget in conformity with the funding rules
- meets the delivery criteria
- is delivered by the deadline.

For projects submitted to a National Agency, please note that no more than three projects can be submitted by the same applicant under each sub-Action per round.

For projects submitted to the Executive Agency, please note that no more than one project can be submitted by the same applicant under each sub-Action per round, and no more than one project can be submitted by the same partnership under each sub-Action per round.

Use the official application form

Applications must be:

- made on the application form specifically designed for this purpose. You can obtain the forms by contacting the Executive Agency or a National Agency. You can also download them from the websites of the European Commission, the Executive Agency and the National Agencies (please consult Annex I of this Guide)
- filled out in one of the official EU languages
- typed.

On-line e-Forms

The Executive Agency and most of the National Agencies have progressively introduced e-Forms as of 2011. Applicants to these Agencies are required to submit their application on-line using the relevant e-Form. Only applications submitted both on-line and in hard copy - with a project reference number as proof - will be accepted for further evaluation. Full details of the on-line application procedure may be found on the website of the Executive Agency and relevant National Agencies.

The application form must also include all the documents referred to in the application form.

Provide proof of your legal status

The applicant must provide the following:

Non-governmental organisation:

- bank details form, duly completed and signed (included in the application form)
- extract from the official gazette/trade register, and certificate of liability to VAT (if, as in certain countries, the trade register number and VAT number are identical, only one of these documents is required).

Public body:

- bank details form, duly completed and signed (included in the application form)
- legal resolution or decision or other official document established in respect of the public body.

Individual:

- bank details form, duly completed and signed (included in the application form)
- photocopy of identity card and/or passport.

Estimated budget

Applications must include a detailed estimated budget (included in the application form) in which all prices are given in euro. Applicants from countries outside the eurozone must use the conversion rates published in the Official Journal of the European Union, series C, in the month in which they are submitting the application. For more information on the rates applied, please consult the Commission's website at www.ec.europa.eu/budget/inforeuro/.

The budget for the project must be drafted according to the funding rules of the relevant Action or sub-Action and show clearly the costs which are eligible for financing from the European Union.

Meet the delivery criteria

An original copy of the application must be delivered to the address of the body in charge of selection, the Executive Agency or a National Agency. For details regarding the bodies in charge of selection, please consult Part B of this Guide.

Applications must be delivered:

- by post, date as postmark
- by courier service, date of receipt by the courier service.

Some National Agencies may accept an application form delivered:

- in person, date as receipt
- online.

As a general rule, applications sent by fax or email will not be accepted. However, some National Agencies may accept applications sent by fax or email on condition that they are backed up by an original (signed) application delivered by the deadline.

No changes can be made after the application has been submitted. However, the Executive Agency or a National Agency may give the applicant the opportunity to rectify formal and manifest errors in the application within a reasonable deadline. In these circumstances, the Executive Agency and the National Agencies must contact the applicant in writing.

Respect the deadline

The application must be submitted for the deadline corresponding to the start date of the project.

For projects submitted to a National Agency there are three application deadlines per year:

Projects starting between	Application deadline
1 May and 31 October	1 February
1 August and 31 January	1 May
1 January and 30 June	1 October

For projects submitted to the Executive Agency there are three application deadlines a year:

Projects starting between	Application deadline
1 August and 31 December	1 February
1 December and 30 April	1 June
1 March and 31 July	1 September

Distinction between project dates and Activity dates

All project applications submitted under the Youth in Action Programme must indicate two set of dates: project dates and Activity dates.

Project dates

These are the date when the project starts and the date when the project ends. The interval of time between these two dates is the eligibility period; this means that the costs linked to the project must be incurred within this period. This period includes the preparation and the final evaluation (including a reflection on a possible follow-up) of the project.

Activity dates

These are the dates during which the main Activity takes place (e.g. the first and the last day of a Youth Exchange, seminars, etc.). This period excludes the preparation and final evaluation (including a reflection on a possible follow-up) phases of the project. Activity dates therefore fall within the project dates and should preferably not coincide with them, as costs are supposed to be incurred both prior to and after the main Activity takes place.

The eligibility period for costs starts on the date specified in the grant agreement, that is, the project start date. Expenditure may be authorised before the agreement is signed, if a beneficiary can demonstrate the need to start the project before the agreement is signed. The date on which expenses first become eligible may not, in any event, be earlier than the date on which the application was submitted.

To be noted that the fact determining the occurrence of a cost must intervene within the eligibility period, which does not mean that the cost will have to be necessarily paid during the eligibility period of the project. For example, costs for the provision of services (e.g. translations, accommodation, food, travel, etc.) or supplying materials for the purpose of carrying out the project may be invoiced and paid prior to the start of the project or after the end of the project, provided that:

- the performance/delivery of such services/materials has been made within the eligibility period;
- such costs have not been incurred prior to the date of submission of the grant application.

2. What happens once the application is submitted?

All applications received by the Executive Agency and by the National Agencies undergo a selection procedure.

The selection procedure

The selection of applications is as follows:

- first they are checked against the eligibility criteria, the selection criteria and the exclusion criteria
- then those applications which have successfully passed these checks are assessed and ranked according to the award criteria.

Final decision

Once the evaluation, including the verification of financial conditions, is completed, the Executive Agency or the National Agency decides on the projects to be granted funding, based on the Selection Committee's proposal and the budget available.

Notification of award decisions

For applications submitted to the Executive Agency:

Applicants should, in principle, be notified of the outcome of the selection procedure during the fifth month after the application deadline.

For applications submitted to a National Agency:

Applicants should, in principle, be notified of the outcome of the selection procedure at the latest by the first half of the third month after the application deadline.

All successful and unsuccessful applicants will be informed in writing. After completion of the selection procedure, the application files and accompanying material will not be sent back to the applicant, independently of the outcome of the procedure.

3. What happens if your application is approved?

Grant agreement

In the event of definitive approval by the Executive Agency or by a National Agency, a grant agreement, drawn up in euros and detailing the conditions and level of funding, will be entered into between the Executive Agency/National Agency and the beneficiary.

The Executive Agency has replaced, for beneficiaries from Member States of the European Union, the grant agreement with a grant decision. The grant decision is a unilateral act awarding a subsidy to a beneficiary. Unlike an agreement, the beneficiary does not have to sign the decision and can start the project immediately upon receipt. Beneficiaries are subject to the general conditions, which form an integral part of the grant decision, and which can be downloaded from the Executive Agency web site:

http://eacea.ec.europa.eu/about/eacea_documents_register_en.php

For projects selected by the Executive Agency, it is intended that beneficiaries should receive the grant decisions/agreements for signature by the sixth month after the application deadline.

For projects selected by the National Agencies, it is intended that beneficiaries should receive the agreements for signature by the fourth month after the application deadline.

This agreement must be signed and returned to the National Agency (or to the Executive Agency, in cases when a grant agreement is issued) immediately. The National Agency (or Executive Agency) will be the last party to sign.

Models of grant agreements used under the Youth in Action Programme are available at the Commission's website.

Grant amount

Acceptance of an application does not constitute an undertaking to award funding equal to the amount requested by the applicant. The requested funding could be reduced on the basis of the application of the specific financial rules of each Action and/or an analysis of the past performance of the applicant organisation in terms of capacity to absorb the community grant awarded.

The awarding of a grant does not establish an entitlement for subsequent years.

It should be noted that the grant amount foreseen by the agreement is to be considered as a maximum which cannot be increased in any circumstances. Furthermore, the amount allocated may not exceed the amount requested.

It must be possible to identify the funds transferred by the Executive Agency or the National Agency within the account or sub-account indicated by the beneficiary.

To whom is entitled the EU grant?

Although the EU grant is transferred to the applicant (Coordinating Organisation) which, as a beneficiary, signs the grant agreement and bears the financial and administrative responsibility of the entire project, such grant is aimed at covering costs born by all promoters involved in the project. It is therefore necessary that the EU grant is shared among promoters according to the roles, tasks and activities performed within the project. In order to avoid complications within the partnership, it is strongly advised that promoters formalise their distribution of tasks, responsibilities and share of EU grant through an internal written agreement.

Eligible costs

In order to be eligible under this Programme, costs must:

- be necessary for the implementation of the project
- be included in the provisional budget attached to the agreement
- be consistent with the principles of sound financial management, in particular in terms of value for money and cost-effectiveness
- be incurred during the lifetime of the project as defined in the agreement

- actually be incurred by the beneficiary, be recorded in the beneficiary's accounts in accordance with applicable accounting principles and be declared in accordance with the requirements of the applicable tax and social security legislation
- be identifiable and verifiable, and be backed up by original supporting documents.

Eligible direct costs

Eligible direct costs are those costs which, with due regard for the conditions of eligibility set out above, are identifiable as specific costs directly linked to the performance of the project and which can therefore be booked to it directly.

Eligible indirect costs (administrative costs)

For certain types of project a flat rate amount not exceeding 7% of the eligible direct costs of the project, is eligible under indirect costs, representing the beneficiary's general administrative costs which can be regarded as chargeable to the project. For details of the funding rules for Actions or sub-Actions, please consult Part B of this Guide.

Indirect costs may not include costs entered under another budget heading.

Indirect costs are not eligible where the beneficiary already receives an operating grant from the budget of the European Union (for example under sub-Action 4.1 of the Youth in Action Programme).

Ineligible costs

The following costs shall not be considered eligible:

- return on capital
- debt and debt service charges
- provisions for losses or potential future liabilities
- interest owed
- doubtful debts
- exchange losses
- VAT, unless the beneficiary can show that he is unable to recover it
- costs declared by the beneficiary and covered by another action or work programme receiving an EU grant
- excessive or reckless expenditure.

Payment procedures

A) Procedure with one pre-financing instalment

Most of the projects supported under the Youth in Action Programme will be subject to a payment procedure consisting of one pre-financing payment and a final payment/recovery of the balance due, as described below:

Pre-financing payment

A pre-financing payment of 80% will be transferred to the beneficiary within 45 days of the date when the last of the two parties signs the agreement and, where relevant, any appropriate guarantees are received. Pre-financing is intended to provide the beneficiary with a float.

Payment or recovery of the balance

The amount of the final payment to be made to the beneficiary will be established on the basis of a final report to be submitted within two months following the end date of the project (official final report forms are available on the websites of the European Commission, Executive Agency and of the National Agencies).

If the eligible costs actually incurred by the beneficiary during the project are lower than those anticipated, funding may be reduced proportionally, and the beneficiary will, where applicable, be required to repay any excess amounts already transferred under the pre-financing payments.

If the support takes the form of lump sums or scales of unit costs there is no need to determine the costs actually incurred. However, the beneficiary must be able upon request to provide documents giving evidence that the activities organised with the support of the European Union funding effectively took place. For details of the funding rules for Actions or sub-Actions, please consult Part B of this Guide.

B) Procedure with two pre-financing instalments

In some cases, in order to limit the financial risk, the Executive Agency or the National Agencies will adopt a procedure consisting of two pre-financing payments and a final payment/recovery of the balance due, as described below. This procedure is applied to:

- projects submitted by informal groups of young people and requesting a grant exceeding 25 000 euros
- EVS projects lasting 6 to 24 months and requesting a grant exceeding 50 000 euros, only in cases where the volunteer(s) have not been identified at application level.

Pre-financing payment

A first pre-financing payment of 40% will be transferred to the beneficiary within 45 days of the date when the last of the two parties signs the agreement and, where relevant, any appropriate guarantees are received.

Further pre-financing payment

A second pre-financing payment of 30% will be transferred to the beneficiary within 45 days of the approval, by the Executive or National Agency, of the further pre-financing payment request advanced by the beneficiary. This second pre-financing payment may not be made until at least 70% of the previous pre-financing payment has been used up.

Payment or recovery of the balance

The amount of the final payment to be made to the beneficiary will be established on the basis of a final report to be submitted within two months following the end date of the project (official final report forms are available on the websites of the European Commission, Executive Agency and of the National Agencies).

If the eligible costs actually incurred by the beneficiary during the project are lower than those anticipated, funding may be reduced proportionally, and the beneficiary will, where applicable, be required to repay any excess amounts already transferred under the pre-financing payments.

If the support takes the form of lump sums or scales of unit costs there is no need to determine the costs actually incurred. However, the beneficiary must be able upon request to provide documents giving evidence that the activities organised with the support of the European Union funding effectively took place. For details of the funding rules for Actions or sub-Actions, please consult Part B of this Guide.

Other main contractual provisions

Non retroactivity

No grant may be awarded retrospectively for projects already completed.

A grant may be awarded for a project which has already begun only where the applicant can demonstrate the need to start the project before the agreement has been signed. In such cases, expenditure eligible for financing may not have been incurred prior to the date of submission of the application.

Starting the project before signing the agreement is done at the risk of the beneficiary and does not make it more likely a grant will be awarded.

Guarantee

The Executive Agency or the National Agencies may require any beneficiary which has been awarded a grant to furnish a guarantee in advance, in order to limit the financial risks linked to the pre-financing payment.

Such a guarantee is requested in order to make the body providing surety irrevocably liable or to make it stand as a first-call guarantor of the grant-beneficiary's obligations.

The guarantee must be furnished by an approved bank or financial institution established in one of the Member States of the European Union. When the beneficiary is established in another Programme Country or in a Partner Country, the Executive or National Agency may agree that a bank or financial institution established in that country may provide the guarantee if it considers that the bank or financial institution offers equivalent security and characteristics as those offered by a bank or financial institution established in a Member State.

The guarantee may be replaced by a third-party guarantee from one of the promoters who are parties to the same grant agreement.

The guarantee will be lifted progressively, as the pre-financing is discharged through deduction of payments of balances to the beneficiary, in accordance with the conditions laid down in the grant agreement.

Public bodies and international public-sector organisations set up by inter-governmental agreements, specialised agencies set up by such organisations, the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC), the International Federation of National Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies are all exempt from this provision.

Sub-contracting and award of procurement contract

Without prejudice to the application of Directive 2004/18/EC, in those cases where the implementation of the project requires sub-contracting or the award of procurement contracts, beneficiaries of grants shall award the contract to the tender offering best value for money, that is to say, to the tender offering the best price-quality ratio, while taking care to avoid any conflict of interest.

Where the implementation of the project requires the award of a procurement contract with a value of more than 60 000 euros, the National or Executive Agency may require beneficiaries to abide by special rules in addition to those referred to in the paragraph above. Those special rules shall be based on rules contained in the EC Financial Regulation and determined with due regard for the value of the contracts concerned, the relative size of the European Union contribution in relation to the total cost of the project and the risk.

Information on the grants awarded

Grants awarded in the course of a financial year must be published on the website of the Commission, the Executive Agency and/or the National Agencies during the first half of the year following the closure of the financial year for which they were awarded.

The information may also be published in any other appropriate medium, including the Official Journal of the European Union.

The Executive Agency and the National Agencies will publish the following information (unless this information is of such a nature as to jeopardise the beneficiary's security or to prejudice its financial interests):

- name and address of the beneficiary
- purpose of the grant
- amount awarded and rate of funding.

Publicity

Apart from the measures foreseen for the visibility of the project and for the dissemination and exploitation of its results (which are award criteria), there is an obligation of minimal publicity for each granted project.

Beneficiaries must clearly acknowledge the European Union's support in all communications or publications, in whatever form or whatever medium, including the Internet, or on the occasion of activities for which the grant is used.

This must be done according to the provisions that will be included in the grant agreements/decisions.

If these provisions are not fully complied with, the beneficiary's grant may be reduced.

Audits and monitoring

A granted project may be subject to an audit and/or to a monitoring visit. The beneficiary will undertake, with the signature of its legal representative, to provide proof that the grant has been used correctly. The European Commission, the Executive Agency, National Agencies and/or the European Court of Auditors, or a body mandated by them, may check the use made of the grant at any time during the term of the agreement and during a period of five years following its expiry.

Data protection

All personal data contained in the grant agreement shall be processed in accordance with:

- Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data by the European Union institutions and bodies and on the free movement of such data
- where applicable, the national legislation of the country where the application has been selected.

These data will be processed solely in connection with the implementation and evaluation of the Programme, without prejudice to the possibility of transferring such data to the bodies responsible for inspection and audit in accordance with European Union legislation (European Commission internal audit services, European Court of Auditors, Financial Irregularities Panel or to the European Anti-Fraud Office). For more information regarding the treatment of personal data under the Youth in Action programme as well as concerning the national and European authorities to be contacted in case of queries or complaints, please visit the Commission's web site at <http://ec.europa.eu/youth>

ANNEX II - GLOSSARY OF KEY-TERMS

This glossary provides you with a list of key terms used throughout this Programme Guide; these terms are displayed in italic character in the text.

- Action / sub-Action: generic term used for the designation of a strand of the Programme (called "Action" in the Annex to the Decision establishing the Programme - example: Action 2 EVS) or of a subdivision within such a strand (called "Measure" in the Annex to the Decision establishing the Programme - example: Measure 1.1 Youth Exchanges).
- Activity: set of activities to be organised within the project to produce results; the implementation of the Activity is a core phase of the project; it is preceded by the planning and preparation phase and is followed by the evaluation phase (including the reflection on a possible follow-up).
- Activity programme: graphic representation similar to a bar chart, setting out the timing, the main events/topics, and duration of a project Activity. In the case of an Activity consisting of a sequence of activities, the Activity programme does not necessarily detail events/topics on a daily basis; it rather provides a general weekly or monthly time-table of the Activity.
- Accreditation: process that ensures that promoters wishing to participate in an EVS project comply with the pre-set quality standards of Action 2. In order to be accredited, promoters must fill-in and submit an "Expression of Interest" form, which mainly contains the general motivations and ideas of the promoter regarding the EVS activities. For further information, please consult Part B - Action 2.
- Advance Planning Visit: visit to the Host Organisation carried out during the planning or early preparatory phase of the project. Such visit aims at ensuring that all the conditions determining the successful development of the project are taken into consideration.
- Application form: in order to be co-financed through the Youth in Action Programme, promoters have to fill in and submit an official application form specially designed for this purpose. Forms to be used to apply at decentralised level can be downloaded on the National Agencies' or Commission's website. Forms to be used to apply at centralised level can be found on the Executive Agency's website.
- Applicant: promoter who submits a project in order to get a grant. The applicant applies for the whole project on behalf of all promoters.
- Application deadline: date by which the application form has to be submitted to the National or Executive Agency.
- Award criteria: criteria against which the Executive or National Agency assesses the quality of those projects that have successfully passed the check of the eligibility, exclusion and selection requirements. For further information, please consult Part C - section "What do you have to do in order to submit a Youth in Action project?".

- Beneficiary: if the project is selected, the applicant, as well as its partners, become beneficiary of the Youth in Action Programme. On behalf of the partnership the successful applicant signs the grant agreement, receives a financial grant for the project and assumes the responsibilities for its implementation.
- Body active at European level in the youth field (ENGO): European Non Governmental Organisation which pursues a goal of general European interest and whose activities are aimed at young people's participation in public life and in society and the development of European cooperation activities in the youth field. Its structure and activities must cover at least 8 Programme Countries. For further information, please consult Part A - section "Who can participate in the Youth in Action Programme?".

- Coach: please consult Part B - Action 1.2.
- Co-financing: the co-financing principle implies that part of the costs of a project supported by the EU must be borne by the beneficiary, or by contributions other than the EU grant. For further information, please consult Part C of this Guide.
- Contractual obligations: obligations that must be respected by a beneficiary in virtue of the signature of a grant agreement.
- Coordinating Organisation (CO): promoter carrying out at least the following tasks: 1) bearing the financial and administrative responsibility for the entire project vis-à-vis the National or Executive Agency, 2) coordinating the project in cooperation with the partner promoters, and 3) distributing the EU grant between the promoters according to their roles within the project. The Coordinating Organisation assumes the role of "applicant".

- Dissemination and exploitation of results: set of activities aiming at producing a wider impact through a project. Dissemination and exploitation of results are an important feature of the Programme; for further information, please consult Part A - section "What are the objectives, priorities and the important features of the Youth in Action Programme?".
- Duration of Activity: please consult Part C - "What do you have to do in order to submit a Youth in Action project?".
- Duration of project: period which includes the preparation phase, the implementation of the Activity and the evaluation phase (including reflection on a possible follow-up). For further information, please consult part C - section "What do you have to do in order to submit a Youth in Action project?".

- Eastern Europe and Caucasus: Neighbouring Partner Countries of the Youth in Action Programme; please consult table in part A - section "Who can participate in the Youth in Action Programme?".
- Education, Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency (also known as the Executive Agency): based in Brussels, this Agency is responsible for the implementation of the Actions and sub-Actions of the Youth in Action Programme managed at centralised level. For further information, please consult Part A - section "Who implements the Youth in Action Programme?".
