Strengths were noted in the area of accommodation.

The inspection report noted a need for improvement in the areas of course design and learner management.

The inspection report stated that the organisation met the standards of the Scheme.

Introduction
The Centre of English Studies (CES), Wimbledon, is one of nine schools in the CES group. Five of these are in the UK with the remaining four in Dublin and Cork in Ireland and Toronto and Vancouver in Canada. The group is a privately owned family business with three members of the family overseeing different aspects of the schools' provision. The academic manager, previously a teacher at the school, took up her post in January 2026.
The inspectors held meetings with the principal, the academic manager (AM) and senior teacher, the accommodation and welfare officer (AWO), and the social programme organiser (SPO). Separate focus group meetings were held with some open enrolment students, some closed group students, and the group leaders. The five teachers and the senior teacher were all observed once. One inspector spoke to three homestay hosts and had a virtual tour of each of their homes.

Address of main site/head office

271 Kingston Road, London SW19 3NW

Description of sites visited/observed

The school has sole use of Nelson House, a 1970s three-story building. There are nine classrooms on the top two floors of the building, together with a teachers' room and an office for the director of studies (DoS). On the ground floor, there is a student lounge with a hot and cold drinks machine and a microwave. The reception area is also found on this floor along with an office shared by the principal, welfare and accommodation officer, and social programme organiser. There are two rooms off the lounge currently used as a break room and a self-study room (with a lending library for books and DVDs), but they can also be used as classrooms. There are men's toilets on the ground floor, women's toilets on the first floor, and a staff toilet on the top floor. There is also a large patio area outside the front door with picnic tables and a disabled access ramp via the student lounge door.

Comments

Year round, CES Wimbledon offers open-enrolment General English courses, IELTS preparation and one-to-one classes. Cambridge exam classes are also available depending on demand. Closed group courses of Under 18s are available throughout the year. On occasion, ages permitting, some of the closed group students are integrated with the open-enrolment general English courses. A junior summer school for groups is run in additional premises approximately one mile for the main school.

Management profile

CES Wimbledon is part of the CES groups of schools. The group has schools across the UK as well as in Ireland and Canada. There is a UK operations manager and a chief finance officer who are both based in the Leeds and Worthing schools respectively. They, along with the principal of the Wimbledon school, all report to the director who is based in Dublin. Student registration is handled by the Worthing centre. On a day-to-day basis the Wimbledon school is managed by the principal who line manages the academic manager, the administrator, the accommodation and welfare officer and the social programme organiser. The academic manager reports to the principal but she is also supported the UK senior DoS based in Worthing. Teachers report to the academic manager, and they have additional support from the senior teacher.

Accommodation profile

The school has its own homestay hosts in the local area numbering approximately 170. Three of these hosts were visited virtually during the inspection. Hosts located within 25 minutes' walk from the school are categorised as premium homestay and are slightly more expensive. CES also offers residential accommodation for adults in Zone 1 during the year, but no adults were staying at the residences during the inspection.

Summary of inspection findingsManagement

Overall, the provision meets the section standard. The management of the provision operates to the benefit of the students. Student administration is friendly and supportive, and publicity provides a realistic impression of the school.

Premises and resources

The provision meets the section standard. The premises are in a satisfactory state of repair and cleanliness. Classrooms are suitably appointed. Resources for teaching and learning are sufficient.

Teaching and learning

Overall, the provision meets the section standard. The academic team has a suitable profile in terms of qualifications and experience. Academic management systems are mostly effective and course design for general English students is clear. However, course design for closed groups lacks coherence and was not tailored to the student profile. Learner management does not meet the needs of the mixed student profiles. The teaching observed met the requirements of the Scheme. There is a need for improvement in Course design and Learner management.

Welfare and student services

The provision meets the section standard and exceeds it in some respects. Students are well cared for and receive comprehensive information and advice on life in the UK. Accommodation systems are effective and hosts provide a very good level of care and receive excellent support from the school. Leisure activities are appropriate to the age and type of student and are well organised. Accommodation is an area of strength.

Safeguarding under 18s

The provision meets the section standard. The school has an effective safeguarding policy that is known to staff and students. Safer recruitment processes are in place, and students are appropriately supervised and in suitable accommodation.

Declaration of legal and regulatory compliance

Sampling of documentation revealed an issue with the volume of photocopying in relation to Declaration of legal and regulatory compliance which the provider has been asked to follow up.

Teaching and learning

Academic staff profile	Met
T1 There is a clear recruitment and support policy for the academic team relevant to the stated course objectives and student profile.
T2 The academic manager/academic management team has an appropriate professional profile to provide academic leadership.
T3 The teaching team has ELT/TESOL qualifications, general level of education, experience, knowledge and skills relevant to the courses they are teaching.

Comments

The academic staff team has a professional profile (qualifications and experience) that is appropriate to the school's context.

The recruitment and support policy is effectively devised and implemented in line with the stated course objectives and the student profile.

Academic management	Met
T4 Teachers are matched appropriately to courses and there are effective procedures for the appropriate timetabling of students, courses and classrooms.	Strength
T5 There are formalised arrangements for covering for absent teachers which are satisfactory to students and staff.	Met
T6 Where enrolment is continuous, explicit attention is paid to all aspects of academic management affected.	Not met
T7 There are effective arrangements for the academic induction of new teachers appropriate to their needs.	Met
T8 There are effective arrangements, led by an academic manager, to ensure appropriate day-to-day guidance and support for all teachers.	Met

T9 There are effective arrangements for the observation and monitoring of teachers' performance by a TEFLQ academic manager based on clear standards known to teachers.	Met
T10 There are effective procedures to ensure the continuing professional development (CPD) of all teachers to meet the needs of the individual teachers, the students, and the organisation.	Met

Comments

T4 Teacher pairings and room allocations are very effectively managed to ensure staff balance and good utilisation of the classrooms that vary in size.

T6 Open enrolment students follow a coursebook which mostly meets their needs. However, short stay students from the group courses are often placed in these classes so they can experience a multi-lingual learning environment. There is insufficient guidance for teachers on how to accommodate the changing weekly composition of classes. See T11 below.

Course design and implementation	Need for improvement
T11 The course design is comprehensive and is based on the provider's stated approach to learning or educational philosophy, and is appropriate to the learning context.	Not met
T12 Courses include strategies which help students to develop their language skills outside the classroom and benefit linguistically from their stay in the UK.	Met
T13 Course design is regularly reviewed in light of the different and changing needs of students and feedback from teachers and students.	Met
T14 Written course outlines and intended learning outcomes, appropriate to the course length and type, are available to students and referred to in class.	Not met

Comments

T11 There is no clear rationale for the content of the short stay courses or the mixed groups.

There is some written guidance for the adult students but the programme design for the short, mostly one-week closed group courses were not meaningfully tailored to the learning context or the student profile needs. Feedback from staff and students in focus groups and from group leader written feedback confirmed the inspectors' findings.

T14 Aspects of the weekly plans for adult classes were satisfactory but short course outlines lacked relevance and linguistic purpose and were not referred to in class.

Learner management	Need for improvement
T15 There are effective procedures for the correct placement of students, appropriate to their level and age.	Not met
T16 There are effective procedures for evaluating, monitoring and recording students' progress.	Not met
T17 Students are helped to identify their learning needs and receive support to meet course objectives.	Met
T18 Where relevant, students are guided to select the examinations and examination training best suited to their needs and interests. Students wishing to progress to mainstream UK education have access to relevant information and advice.	Met

Comments

T15 A placement test is completed before student arrival but the resulting groups revealed some mixed ability groups. The composition of classes was not homogenous. Group leaders and the inspectors noted a wide range of abilities in some instances.

T16 Two-weekly test results are recorded on the CES online system but changes to the class groups and variations within the schemes of work/ syllabus mean there is a lack of coherence in student progress. Final evaluations are not relevant to course length and objectives.

Classroom observation record

Number of teachers seen	5
Number of observations	6
Parts of programme(s) observed	all

Comments

The observations included the five teachers working at the time of the inspection and the senior teacher.

Teaching: classroom observation	Met
T19 Teachers produce accurate models of spoken and written English; they provide clear explanations and relevant examples of language and usage, that are appropriate to the aims of the lesson and suitable for the students' level.	Met
T20 The content of the lessons is based on the overall course objectives and takes into account the differing students' needs and backgrounds.	Not met
T21 The intended learning outcomes of lessons are made known to students, and are achieved through an appropriate sequence of activities.	Met
T22 Teaching techniques used are appropriate to the focus of the lesson, to the context, and to the needs of the group and individual learners.	Met
T23 Teachers enhance learning by effectively managing the classroom environment and teaching and learning resources.	Met
T24 Students receive and benefit from appropriate and timely feedback on their performance during the lesson.	Met
T25 Lessons include activities for teachers and students to evaluate whether learning is taking place.	Met
T26 Teachers promote a positive and inclusive learning atmosphere and students are engaged in the lesson.	Met

Comments

T19 The majority of teachers provided clear, accurate models of language and displayed a sound knowledge of language systems.

T20 Lesson content reflected the themes identified in the course objectives but did not always take into account the differing students' needs and backgrounds. Timings of activities were realistic in the majority of lessons. On occasion teachers showed good knowledge of their students' strengths and weaknesses, but in most classes, there was little or no effective differentiation.

T21 Intended learning outcomes were shared with students. The staging of lessons was logical and helpful in the vast majority of cases.

T22 A range of teaching techniques was observed, including nomination, clear instruction giving, effective elicitation prompting, and concept checking. In the weaker segments, opportunities to check understanding of both concepts and instructions were missed and monitoring was not always effective. In stronger segments, teachers monitored from a distance, and this was more productive with regards to feedback on performance.

T23 The classroom environment was generally well managed and technology, when it was used, was effective. Materials were mostly well presented but there was a high incidence of photocopied resources so students' records were not easily organised coherently.

T24 In most segments observed, students were monitored and given on the spot feedback. In stronger segments, teachers monitored effectively and delayed feedback was a useful feature of the lesson.

T25 All lesson plans contained a review section at the end of the lesson as well as checking and production stages that preceded this.

T26 The vast majority of teachers promoted a very positive learning atmosphere with good delivery, pace and encouragement. Where teachers were less directly involved in the interaction, the atmosphere was more dynamic and student-student interaction was prioritised.

Comments

At the time of inspection there were 25 students aged 14 to 18. All were part of a group from one school. Five of these students were aged 18 but operating as under 18s in terms of safeguarding rules. They were placed in the adult group for their classes but were, at all other times, regarded as part of the junior closed group. All 25 were in homestay accommodation.

During the summer, the school takes approximately 150 students aged between 12 and 17 with the majority aged 14 to 16.

Any breach of the law or regulations will be viewed seriously by the Scheme and may result in the withdrawal or withholding of accreditation.

Any sustained breach of the law or regulations which an accredited provider fails upon reasonable notice to remedy will result in accreditation being withdrawn.
