THE VISION FOR SEWF 2019 WAS TO:

• transform social enterprise into a major driver for growth and change in Ethiopia
• grow the number of social enterprises, and institutions that support social enterprises, across East Africa and the African continent thereby raising their profile
• make the global social enterprise movement more diverse and inclusive.

THE OBJECTIVES FOR SEWF 2019 WERE TO:

• ensure accessibility to social enterprise leaders, practitioners and supporters
• connect people across Africa and the world, enabling collaborations between advanced and developing economies
• achieve legacy impact and movement building through the establishment of new policies, strategies, funds, legal frameworks and networks
• share and transfer strategies, solutions and learning
• showcase and celebrate successful social enterprises in Ethiopia and Africa
• create opportunities for the best social enterprises in the world to support sustainable development.

Ethiopia has been outstanding. If there was a better way to showcase the energy and the enterprising potential of this country, I can’t think of it.

Gerry Higgins, Founder and Managing Director, SEWF CIC
Social business is the best strategy to lift Ethiopia out of poverty... and to create a fair, inclusive economy for all.

Kibret Abebe, President of Social Enterprise Ethiopia and founder of social enterprise Tebita Ambulance

INTERNATIONAL REPRESENTATION

The SEWF 2019 was more globally inclusive than ever before, with more equal representation from rich and poor countries. There were 1,312 participants from 71 countries and territories (an event record), of whom 30% came from Ethiopia, 17% from the rest of Africa, 53% from the rest of the world.

AFRICAN INSPIRATION

The event prominently featured Africa with accomplished and inspiring African social entrepreneurs making up 47% of all speakers.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

The Social Enterprise World Forum 2019 featured the highest proportion of female speakers (55%) and young speakers (24%) in the event’s history. This was possible thanks to successful co-creation among the Forum’s own Secretariat and Board members from around the World, the host teams at the British Council (global, regional and in-country) and Social Enterprise Ethiopia.

A FESTIVAL OF EVENTS

The week featured no fewer than 12 side events including a Policy Forum and an Education and Academic Symposium, urban and rural study tours, as well as an African themed conference dinner and an Ethiopian themed dinner.

SOCIAL PROCUREMENT

22 of the event’s 51 service providers were social enterprises or incubators accounting for 43% of the total.

CORPORATE PARTNERS

Our Gold and Platinum partners were Johnson & Johnson, SAP, Vodacom, IKEA Foundation, Reach4Change.

Social business is the best strategy to lift Ethiopia out of poverty... and to create a fair, inclusive economy for all.

Moses Anibaba, Regional Director, Sub-Saharan Africa, British Council
We at the government of Ethiopia recognise the importance, the value and untapped potential of social enterprise in addressing the challenge of the poor, the challenges of our society.

Dr Ephrem Tekle, Commissioner for the Jobs Creation Commission, Federal Democratic Republic of Ethiopia

It’s a big deal to have the forum here and your presence here will leave a legacy. [...] It will engage Ethiopia and Africa in the inclusive economy movement.

Bruktawit Tigabu, Founder of Whiz Kids Workshop
A DISTINCT CONTRIBUTION

The British Council has contributed extensively to the Social Enterprise World Forum since 2014 through its seat on the Steering Committee; by hosting and contributing to plenaries, policy dialogues and side events; by convening international delegations; and by developing SEWF videos and media campaigns. However, this was the first year this event was hosted by the British Council and the first time it was held in a lower income country, a strategically important step. SEWF 2019 was the largest international conference hosted by the British Council in 2019. British Council Trustee Claire Reddington opened the event, and British Council Regional Director SSA, Moses Anibaba, helped to close it.

INTERNATIONALISING A UK MOVEMENT

130 UK stakeholders attended the 2019 SEWF underscoring the appetite within, and opportunity for, the UK movement to internationalise. These delegates included 16 high achieving UK social entrepreneurs whose participation was supported through a bursary from the British Council in partnership with Social Enterprise UK, the national sector body.

Here, there are 1,200 people learning from one another. And being hosted in a developing country helps to bring the real picture to life in terms of what we are trying to achieve – connecting communities in a global way. To be in the midst of people who are trying to make the world a better place is good for all of us!

Christiana Melam, Chief Executive, National Associate of Link Workers (a leading UK social enterprise)
The UK is regarded as world leading in social enterprise and social investment – but the Social Enterprise World Forum brought to light some fantastic ideas from other countries for us to learn from. It was also inspiring to hear success stories of social enterprises all over the world, and to feel the huge passion and drive of the young entrepreneurs who are leading the drive for social equality.

Val Keen, Head of Public Services, Strategy and Partnerships Team, Office for Civil Society

UK POLICY ENGAGEMENT
At a time of significant Brexit uncertainty, we were proud to host two members of the House of Lords and a Minister for the Scottish Parliament, as well as senior stakeholders from both the Department for Culture, Media, and Sport and the Scottish Government.

UK LEGACY
Founded in 2008 in Edinburgh, the Social Enterprise World Forum is the leading forum for international exchange and collaboration in social enterprise. It is a UK-led initiative that aims to help bring about a global impact economy that enables our planet to regenerate and our communities to flourish.
MEDIA REACH:
The total media reach for SEWF 2019 is estimated to exceed 100 million. On Twitter, the hashtags #SEWF2019 and #SEWFAddis achieved a 10 million reach. International media partners included Thomson Reuters Foundation, Pioneers Post, Impact Boom and The Rooftop.

ENHANCED STORYTELLING
In the lead-up to SEWF 2019, Pioneers Post and the British Council provided training to Ethiopian journalists to enhance their knowledge of social enterprise, social investment and solutions journalism. They organised Ethiopia’s first Social Enterprise Journalism Awards to promote reporting on social enterprise and SEWF 2019. Additionally, they provided communications training to Ethiopian social entrepreneurs.

The #SEWF2019 in Addis was an inspiring event full of stories of lives transformed. It was often profound, yet also illustrated the need for change, fairness & equality. Proud to represent Scotland & to feel the global love for but there is still work to be done.

Tweet by Aileen Campbell, Cabinet Secretary for Communities, Scottish Government

THE FEEDBACK SHOWED THAT PARTICIPANTS FELT THE SEWF 2019:
- created networking opportunities
- facilitated learning and sharing
- was conducive for collaboration and friendship
- created an atmosphere that energises, refreshes and inspires.
90% of participants indicated they were satisfied with speakers, venue, overall conference experience, quality of sessions, organisation of the event, information presented and networking opportunities.

90% rated the conference as either very good or excellent.

95% stated that the conference met their expectations.

80% considered the SEWF 2019 to be useful in terms of creating networking opportunities, expanding knowledge and meeting experts and influencers.
WHAT’S NEXT FOR SEWF?

Our event closed with a handover ceremony to SEWF 2020 which will take place on 23 – 25 September in Nova Scotia, Canada.

SEWF 2019 is also voluntarily implementing carbon off-setting to reduce the impact of the event on climate change. This is in line with the new Social Enterprise World Forum Environmental Policy.

In the face of mounting inequality and a climate emergency, it has never been more important to build a global social enterprise movement. [...] You are proof that there is better way to conduct business, one that addresses the entrenched issues we face and is conducted for the benefit of people and planet.

Clare Reddington, British Council Trustee and CEO of Bristol-based creative social enterprise Watershed

1,312 delegates, 195 speakers, 71 countries and territories, 52 sessions, 46 exhibitors, 12 side events...

Watch the SEWF 2019 highlights in this wrap-up video